U. S. IN PERIL, KNOX WARNS

LANDON REPLIES TO CRITICISM ON LABOR POLICIES

Amplifies Views in Letter to Thomas.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Topeka, Kas., July 30.—[Special.] Gov. Alf M. Landon made specific reply today to critics of the organized labor policy which he outlined in his acceptance speech a week ago.

In a letter to Norman Thomas, Socialist candidate for President, the Republican nominee emphasized his stand that labor's right to organize must be protected against coercion and intimidation from any source.

He explained his action in sending state troops to the lead and zinc mines in Cherokee county last summer, when he denounced the company union that was involved because it was imposed by the employers with coercive measures. Troops from three states were involved in that trouble. Gov. Landon acted at the urgent request of county officers. He revoked commissions of special officers who were paid by the company and gave instructions to permit the strikers to meet, talk and picket.

Cites Acceptance Speech.

"In my statement" [the labor paragraph of the acceptance speech], said Landon in the Thomas letter, "there is nothing to suggest that I am in favor of infringing in any way the right of free speech or free assembly. I am opposed to any such infringement.

"The workers have the right to meet among themselves or with others of their own choice to promote organization, with complete freedom from interference from any one whatsoever. The workers should be fully protected in this right by the public authorities. This necessarily includes the right of a labor union to promote by lawful and proper means the organization of an unorganized industry, which includes the right to send in an organizer."

The Landon letter is taken as an answer to the New Deal critics who have attempted to put him in a position antagonistic to organized labor and in favor of the company unions. Gov. Earle of Pennsylvania said Tuesday night that Landon's declaration of labor policy "is acceptance of the company union, the most powerful weapon against the rights of labor yet invented." John L. Lewis, Sidney Hillman, and other labor leaders said that if a law such as Landon advocated was passed the result would be to outlaw all union organizers.

Text of Landon's Letter.

George L. Berry, chairman of the President's labor nonpartisan league, said that Landon "talks the industrial language of the nineties" and charged that the governor sent troops at the request of the mine owners in the Kansas trouble. All these points are answered today by Landon. His letter addressed to Mr. Thomas on July 29 is as follows:

"Dear Mr. Thomas:

"I have received your letter of July 24, and its courtesy and candor merit an answer in the same spirit, although, as you say, it is rather unusual to discuss questions of this nature in a personal letter.

"You have asked for further comment on the statement in my acceptance speech that says: 'Under all circumstances, so states the Republican platform, employés are to be free from interference from any source, which means, as I read it, entire freedom from coercion or intimidation by the employer, any fellow employé, or any other person.'

Refers to Thomas' Question.

"In your letter you state: 'The history of the American labor movement shows that repeatedly employers' organizations like the National Manufacturers' association have used the phrase "free from interference from any source" to mean a denial of the right of a labor union or labor unions, actively to promote the organization of an unorganized factory or an unorganized industry. It is absurd to talk about labor's right to organize if in every factory workers more or less at the mercy of the owners of their jobs must organize spontaneously without any help from their fellows. Is this the interpretation to be given to your words?'

"In my statement, which you quote, there is nothing to suggest

G.O.P. THRONGS PACK STADIUM; OLD TIME RALLY

Attacks on New Deal Blunders Cheered.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Frank Knox accepted the Republican nomination for Vice President of the United States last night in an address in which he held the basic issue of 1936 is the preservation of free enterprise in America as against a regimented state.

A crowd from "typical prairie states," as James A. Farley scornfully termed them, packed the Chicago Stadium with 20,000 inside and 10,000 on the outside taking the ceremonies over the amplifiers.

Fervor Fills the Stadium.

A sunflower crop bloomed on the west side, and a rejuvenated and revitalized G. O. P. made the hall resound with a fervor that sounded like the days of Teddy Roosevelt and the Bull Moose in 1912. They shook the roof with "Onward Christian Soldiers."

The whole ceremony was in the nature of an old fashioned Republican rally of a type Chicago has not seen in years. Parades converged on the Stadium, red fire flared, bands blared, party celebrities from near and far were on the platform, motor caravans and the railroads brought delegations from many states and most Illinois counties. The night echoed with political enthusiasm.

Crusade for Sound Government.

Col. Knox, in formally assuming his position as running mate of Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas, said the Republican campaign this year is a crusade for the restoration of sound, orderly government on a constitutional basis.

The Rough Rider of the Spanish-American war, now a Chicago publisher, rode the New Deal with spurs. In an indictment of the Brain Trust and the burocrats in the marble palaces at Washington, he spoke of "hysterical experiments" on a burdened people, and declared that for three years America's economic life "has been at the mercy of a crew of amateur experimenters, hacking at the vitals of American industry, agriculture, commerce, and finance."

No Halfway Refuge.

No halfway house of refuge for free enterprise in a free America exists in this campaign, Mr. Knox said, hammering the point home with the following definition of the issue in November:

"The country must choose between the regimentation of the economic life of 130 million people by politically appointed federal burocrats and the continuance of the American system of free enterprise under a government of constitutional powers."

As Col. Knox tore into the New Dealers and the Brain Trusters, he declared that when the Roosevelt administration went into power it had one main task—"to put 12 million to work"—and it fell down on the job.

Crowd Boos New Deal.

He jeered at the New Deal as a policy of "try anything once," bringing shouts of laughter, and when he named the AAA, NRA, PWA, and

COP SHOOTS DOG IN ONE LEG AND PARTNER IN TWO

Policemen Roe Haeger and Herman Lukow were sent from the Cragin station last night to shoot a vicious dog that was annoying pedestrians in the vicinity of North and Newland avenues.

They found the dog, a white spitz, which showed fight. What happened thereafter may be summarized as follows:

1. Lukow fired his shotgun, hitting the dog in one leg and Haeger in two.

2. The dog limped, howling, across the city line into Oak Park, where it was shot successfully by Oak Park Policemen Fred Wolff and Clarence Mau somewhat later.

3. Policeman Haeger was taken to the Danish-American hospital, where it was said his injuries were not serious but would prove quite painful, as so many little lead pellets had to be picked out of him.

The head of the spitz was sent by the Oak Park police to the Cragin police and will be examined to determine whether the animal had rabies.

Ill Treatment of Child Told by Mary Astor

Miss Astor testified in her trial for custody of the child, four year old Marylyn.

Referring to the period from April 12, 1935, until the following October, when Marylyn was with her mother following her husband's divorce, Roland Rich Woolley, counsel for Miss Astor, asked:

"Always Something Wrong."

"Did he ever try to discipline the child?"

"Frequently," replied Miss Astor. "He was always talking to her and jerking her to her feet roughly. It seemed there was practically always something wrong."

"How did he discipline her?"

Miss Astor burst into tears and said:

"He'd shake her so hard that her teeth rattled and cut her lips. Then he'd spank her and there would be bruise marks on her little body."

The film star wore a blue suit and a "picture" hat of dark blue with a lighter band. She spoke in a low, husky voice.

Contrasts Own Treatment.

Miss Astor testified that Marylyn lived with her from April 12, 1935, the day Dr. Thorpe was granted a divorce from her, until the following Oct. 10, when the physician was given custody of the child.

During that period, she said, she paid all expenses for maintenance of Marylyn and her home. Her two servants, Fred and Vernice Hedad, the actress testified, were hired on the recommendation of Dr. Thorpe.

"George Kaufman" Put In.

Earlier tonight the name of George Kaufman was injected by an attorney in the trial.

"Do you know George Kaufman?" asked Joseph Anderson, Dr. Thorpe's attorney, in cross-examining Nellie Richardson, nursemaid to the child.

Woolley jumped to his feet with objections.

"Immaterial and merely an attempt to scandalize," he said.

Superior Judge Goodwin J. Knight overruled Woolley.

THERE'S NO SCHOOL, SO PETE, TOWN'S PET DEER, IS IN BAD WAY

Barnegat, N. J., July 30.—(AP)—Pete, who used to follow the children to school every day, is sick.

Pete, it should be explained, is a year old buck orphaned by a forest fire, rescued by the citizenry of Barnegat and now the pet of the town.

Every one worried when Pete grew so sick that he climbed the steps to his room over an office and took to his bed—a real bed with springs and mattress. The town fathers in council meeting called in the village nurse, who reported that Pete refused even an ice cream cone. Then she diagnosed the trouble.

"He's just mighty lonesome," she said. "But as soon as school reopens he undoubtedly will be his regular self."

AFTER 10 YEARS, 2 MR. EDMISTONS WANT THE $1,348

J. A. Bairstow, attorney for the receiver of the closed Security Savings bank of Waukegan, received word yesterday that there are at least two men named W. F. Edmiston and each says he is the owner of $1,348 which has been lying around unclaimed since the bank suspended business 10 years ago.

One W. F. Edmiston put in his bid through Attorney Lewis D. Clarke of Waukegan, who said his client, now a resident of Princeton, Ont., informed him that he formerly was engaged in the butter and egg business in Waukegan. The other claimant, represented by Attorney Lew A. Hendee, said he is now an inmate of the Ohio State penitentiary at Columbus. Both attorneys announced they had written to their clients for more information about their claims.

The missing Mr. Edmiston is one of about 1,000 depositors of the bank who have a total of nearly $10,000 waiting for them. They have ignored repeated notices that the funds are available. To get their money they must file claims with the clerk of the Circuit court of Lake county.

Boy Hunting Junk Shakes Corset; Out Rolls $450

Louisville, Ky., July 30.—(AP)—Wealth beyond his wildest dreams came today to Abraham Mills, 13, colored boy, as he combed the city dump seeking sufficient junk to buy a bicycle. In an old corset he found a $450 roll of bills, enough to get the bike, a horse for his family, make a down payment on a house, pay a $48 grocery bill, and buy some clothes.

Three Killers Stab Deputies and Flee Trial

Three desperate criminals on trial for murder, who had secretly armed themselves, made a sensational break for freedom in the Criminal Courts building yesterday after they had overpowered their careless guards and divested themselves of their handcuffs.

Before they were captured at the end of a running fight over five floors of the building, the trio slashed two deputy sherifs with crudely fashioned daggers and beat two others with fists and blackjacks. Spectators and employés of the courts fled in terror as the desperadoes battled their way through the corridors. Dozens of bailifs and policemen engaged in the chase.

As an aftermath of the affair Sherif John Toman and his principal assistants last night ordered the suspension of three deputies until it has been determined who—if any one—must shoulder the responsibility for the break.

Accused as Police Slayers.

The criminals are Frank [Bones] Korczykowski, 27 years old; Andrew Bogaci, 28 years old, and Paul Jenkot, 24 years old. Their trial for the murder of Policeman Jerome McCauley was started Monday in the court of Judge John C. Lewe on the fifth floor of the court building.

Taking of testimony began yesterday morning. At 12:45 p. m., after Policeman Edward Brieske had testified that he was with McCauley when he was shot, and had identified the three accused as the killers, an adjournment was taken.

Bogaci and Jenkot, with the right hand of one linked by cuffs to the left hand of the other, and Korczykowski, with a cuff on one hand, were led out of the room and marched back to the prisoners' elevator. Standing over Jenkot and Bogaci, presumably in a watchful attitude, was Deputy Sherif Edward Tierney of Morton Grove. The loose end of the handcuffs that were attached to Korczykowski was held by Deputy Edward Wing, 416 Webster avenue. Several bailifs escorted them all to the elevator shaft.

Uproar Starts in Elevator.

There a signal was given and a car, operated by Robert O'Connor, was brought up. Into it stepped the three prisoners and the two deputies. As it started down there was a wild burst of cursing from the alleged murderers.

"I'll cut you to pieces, you ———," cried Korczykowski to Wing. "I might as well be tried for two or three murders as one."

The three men moved their free hands swiftly to their shoes. Each dragged out his dagger. Wing, who set up some resistance, was slashed on the right arm. Tierney was speedily overpowered. The pair he was guarding had as many free arms and one more weapon than he had ready. Korczykowski had two arms and one dagger and it was no trick at all for him to make Wing submit.

Ignore Elevator Operator.

WAR IN SPAIN: MUCH KILLING, LITTLE FIGHTING

Tribune Man Goes with Rebels.

The Spanish Situation

BY EDMOND TAYLOR.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HENDAYE, France, July 30.—This is a story of the war in Spain when the tinsel is worn off—an implacable guerrilla warfare in the mountains, with too little fighting and too much cold blooded killing.

As far as I have been able to judge in nearly 4,000 dusty miles of travel through the battle zone, it is a story of the Spanish civil war to date. The whole thing is a half tragic, half sordid drama, something like a colossal bullfight.

The loyal army in Madrid, now hemmed in by the rebel forces, is the bull and the climaxing rapier thrust of the besieging armies will only come when famine and despair have worn it down to the matador's taste.

At Horse Goring Stage.

For the present we are only at the horse goring stage and it is a messy business.

I arrived back in the border town of Hendaye tonight after thirty-two hours of travel by rail and car, broken by maddening interruptions and forty-eight hours of complete isolation from the world on the hilltop fortress of Medinaceli, last outpost toward Madrid on the left flank of Gen. Emilio Mola's rebel armies.

Yesterday a train arrived at Medinaceli from Saragossa bringing supplies for my rebel friend, Maj. Palacios. The volunteers who accompanied the train related that two loyal columns from Barcelona, one marching straight at Saragossa and the other striking at Huesca to the north, were both completely routed by Fascist cavalry, the first column at Caspe and the second at Huesca itself. The fact that the train arrived confirmed their version.

Red Drive Halted Without Shot.

The loyal drive on Saragossa from Madrid was halted without a shot being fired in a military operation I witnessed Monday afternoon in which Maj. Palacios' little column on the Madrid-Saragossa road established liaison with the large column under Col. Garcia Escames, commanding southeast through the hills from Almazan to Atienza.

Here is a picture of how the Saragossa front looked to me in the form of a day by day diary of 48 hours spent in camp at Medinaceli with three other newspaper men.

Monday—Wrote our stories after an air raid. Gave them to courier to rush to France with our chauffeur, Antoine. Calculate that the courier will reach the French frontier north of Saragossa late this afternoon and if Antoine starts at 5 he can be back with the car by 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

The Maneuver Begins.

We set out at 2 p. m. with Palacios to join Col. Escames' column. Our force consisted of about forty men—Civil Guards, regular infantry, and volunteers—in two trucks, a motorcyclist for liaison and a big limousine for the major, his aide-de-camp, and the press, and finally one frightened looking peasant.

At the foot of the hill on which Medinaceli stands we had to abandon the car, for Palacios had felled two great trees across the Madrid road to block the loyalists. One truck crossed the Jalon river and laboriously plowed its way along a dirt road through the fields, fording the river and rejoining the highway about half a mile south. Engineers on foot preceded the truck, removing mines which Palacios had cunningly buried in the dust in case the loyalists should try to get around the barricades the same way.

Men on the other truck dismounted. Six or eight of them, with one automatic rifle, followed the truck through the field, but remained on the other side of the river and half way up the next hill as a flank guard.

March Toward Madrid.

Two machine guns were set up on the right hand side of the Madrid road and the major and his aid and the four reporters, accompanied by five soldiers, clambered around the barricade and marched up the road toward Madrid.

Soon the truck disappeared around the bend and we were left alone save for the flank guard, now nearly half a mile from us, and the machine guns behind us. At the end of half a mile the major called a halt and we sat by the roadside while the machine guns moved forward a couple of hundred yards or so to the next hillock commanding the road.

Palacios explained we were in enemy country and these machine guns were the only protection in case the loyalists should come dashing down the highway in cars—our trucks full of soldiers had turned off to the right some three miles ahead of us on the road to Atienza.

In slow stages like this we moved up the highway to the Atienza crossroads.

Exhilarating, Then Boring.

It was exhilarating at first being out there alone with the enemy, then boring because no enemy was in sight, and in this peaceful countryside, with peasants working, it was impossible to believe war was going on.

To while away the time Palacios explained his method of dealing with hostile villages. If one shot was fired, he declared, he called up the artillery and shelled the village until the firing ceased and white flags raised. Then he marched in with his men. Any villagers caught with arms in hand were shot on the spot.

"Suppose you cannot find any one carrying a gun, how do you know who fired on you?" I asked.

"I smell their hands," the major explained. "One whiff of powder and 'Bang.'" Here he went through the motion of firing a revolver.

Meet Escames' Men.

Two miles up the road to Atienza in a mud village unnamed on the map we caught up with our truck in time to see a truckload of Escames' men coming down from the other side.

Our mission was completed and, according to Palacios, it was strategically of capital importance, but it all seemed dull and unwarlike. I left while Palacios' soldiers were searching the houses in the village for arms.

The march back to camp was uneventful. I felt better about the whole business later in the evening when Palacios learned from spies that a big band of loyalists were hiding in the wheat only 300 yards from the farthest point we reached along the Madrid road before turning off. They were curious about civilians with the expedition and came down to question the peasants after we had left.

Another Air Raid.

Another air raid before dinner at the Casina, but no damage. I met a Fascist volunteer who is a gigolo in civilian life. He persuaded the Casina people to pull the benches together for us to sleep on and took us out to buy blankets. Just room on the benches for the four of us and of course we could not undress but slept pretty well, being dog tired from the march.

Tuesday—Spent the day vainly waiting for Antoine, feeling more than ever we were on a desert island. The usual morning air raid while shaving, but we were disgusted with these fake air raids by now and it was already hard enough trying to shave without a mirror, so could not be bothered going into the cellar.

Two Women Refugees Arrive.

The big news this morning was the arrival of two women refugees from Siguenza, a fair sized town about ten miles down the road, with a horror tale about a bishop having been murdered by the loyalists—a shotgun was forced between his teeth and his head was blown off—and of other victims whose bodies were chopped up with axes.

I am always dubious about atrocity stories of refugees, particularly in Spain, but Palacios was convinced the women were not exaggerating. He mustered out all his troops and lined them up in parade formation and made a speech relating the Siguenza atrocities, telling them they must avenge the victims pitilessly.

Palacios called us out to see the capture his men made during the night—a fine automobile. Three of the enemy were nabbed in it. One of them carried engraved calling cards in the name of Clayton Ray of Madrid and claimed to be English, but Palacios said he was really a stationmaster at Arcos, the next town back toward Saragossa.

Palacios Laughs.

When I asked what they had done with the trio, Palacios just laughed. This shooting business was getting on our nerves. We were all worried about Antoine and our copy, and vainly scanned the horizon for the car all afternoon.

Palacios seemed uneasy about something himself and did not leave the hilltop all day, just sending out small scouting parties. We suggested several times going out with one of these parties, but he did not seem to hear.

Just after the evening air raid I saw two soldiers bringing a prisoner into camp. They reported he was a spy who had turned traitor. I saw him led out of camp and down the road. His face looked cheerful enough, but his legs were not working correctly from the knees down.

I did not wait to hear the shot but quickly returned to the village.

Wednesday. Slept until an air raid about 7 o'clock. Shaved quickly and went to tackle the major about a car again, but found him absent and the officers were noncommittal.

Just before noon Palacios returned in fine humor. He said he had been to see Col. Escames personally and had occupied two more villages and hoped to start for Siguenza in the afternoon. Col Escames had cut off the retreat toward Madrid for the alleged bishop slayers. Palacios now seems to think that Alcolea and other obstacles along the way can readily be overcome and the column pushed on to Guadalajara in a day or so. He thought that Monday, too.

Starts Back on Train.

More good news. The train arrived from Saragossa and we can go back with it at 2 o'clock.

At Arcos, twelve miles down the line, we got an unpleasant surprise—the train halted and the conductor announced it was not continuing until next morning. That meant trying to get a car and cars were hard to find in Arcos because the whole population of the village was huddled indoors gibbering with fear.

They were unable to forget Palacios' passage through their village and the shooting of the station master had made a great impression on them. The village was obviously about 90 per cent communist, but by the time we arrived it was at least 80 per cent Fascist.

Arcos was so paralyzed with fear that it was impossible to talk business with any one about a car, so finally we were obliged to have one sent from Alhama, twenty-five miles farther on.

The rest of the trip to the frontier, where we found Antoine had gotten across all right but had been unable to get back, was made in the same fashion, with the usual accumulation of delays.

Ex-Chicago Girl "Flivvers" 360 Miles Through Civil War

BY JAY ALLEN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

GIBRALTAR, July 30.—When Dorothy Reisz of Chicago and her English husband, Rudolph Mayer, arrived here in a baby Ford, weary and bedraggled, they were simply two more refugees from Spain among hundreds, all of whom have a story.

But when they quietly announced they had come from Murcia there was first incredulity and then a major sensation. Murcia is 600 kilometers [360 miles] away, and to get here they had to drive through battles, naval bombardments, across dry river beds where the bridges were blown up, across bridges that were mined, and pass "red" Malaga. Even the British intelligence service did them the honor of questioning them as to what they saw.

Worked Here for Years.

Mrs. Reisz Mayer, who worked in Chicago for years, and Mayer are both commercial artists. They were trying to prove that camping is possible in Spain. The military rebellion caught them at Murcia. They headed for Malaga.

At Almunecar they cowered in a hotel while a warship fired shells a few feet over the roof. At Motril they saw bodies in the street.

At Malaga the British and American consuls urged them to board a British destroyer taking out refugees. They had put their capital in their car and refused to leave it. They went to the People's Front committee of the town, where there was no gasoline even for the defense militia, and when they explained they were artists touring Spain they were given a requisition for ten precious liters. They were given two armed "red" guards, who accompanied them until the panic stricken peasants warned them that Moorish troops were just ahead.

Monkey Saves the Day.

They came into La Linea without the guard, finding the first Moors only a few miles up the road.

Mrs. Mayer told of trying experiences with the peasantry, armed with ancient dueling pistols, blunderbusses, and scythes, who surrounded their camp at nights and covered them, thinking they were Fascists, but she said that when they made their identity clear they were treated with the greatest kindness. They lay much of their success to their Marmoset [South American monkey], Tiki, which is clearly not the sort of appurtenance Fascists carry.

"It is tragic to think of these poor peasants armed as they are going up against a modern army," she said. "Their faith is wonderful to see. They did their best by us, but when guiding us over bridges that were mined, ready to blow up when invaders were sighted, they fell to arguing among themselves as to the best way to avoid setting off the mine, and we were not very happy."

GERMANY REFUSES ISSUE OF PASSPORTS TO JEWISH CITIZENS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, July 30.—Jewish citizens of Germany applying for new passports or for renewals were informed by police today their requests would not be granted and that no passports are being issued to Jews. Police would not state whether this measure is permanent.

This has increased anxiety among Jews since the feeling persists that new and more stringent anti-Jewish legislation will be enforced after the Olympic games. The new drive does not affect Helene Mayer, fencer, and Rudi Ball, hocky star, both Jewish, who were allowed to retain full German citizenship, enabling them to compete in the games for Germany.

The last Jews who were allowed to work on German newspapers because they were world war veterans have been dismissed within the last two weeks on the strength of instructions from Max Amann, chief of the German press guild. His orders provide that "press men are acting in an official capacity and therefore Jews, who are not allowed to hold official posts, should not be permitted to work for newspapers."

50 AMERICANS AND 100 BRITONS LEAVE MADRID

Chicago Woman Among War Refugees.

BULLETIN.

MADRID, Spain, July 30.—(AP)—A group of 50 Americans and 100 British citizens left tonight by train for Valencia. Among the Americans were Mrs. Ruth Sauerwein and two children of Chicago.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 30.—Removal of 150 Americans from their haven within the walls of the embassy at Madrid to the seacoast and evacuation from war torn Spain was still in doubt tonight.

The plight of the Americans within the embassy is a constant source of worry for the state department here. The building is outside of Madrid on the road leading to the mountains north of the Spanish capital, where fierce fighting has been going on between the loyalist and rebel forces.

Several small groups of Americans had already taken a chance on the trains and arrived safely at the seacoast, according to consular reports.

Quiet on Floating Embassy.

The "floating ambassador," Claude G. Bowers, who climbed aboard the coast guard cutter Cayuga yesterday to watch the bullets fly from a safe distance, reported to the state department late today that his boat had reached Bilbao and that all is quiet.

The consul at Seville reported that all Americans had been evacuated but two who wished to stay there. He said that the highway between Seville and Gibraltar is now open.

At Barcelona Consul Lynn W. Franklin said that rumors that authorities had taken over foreign banks and confiscated their funds are untrue. Withdrawals were limited, however, and exchange operations were suspended. He also termed as "yet unfounded" reports that plants of the Ford Motor company and General Motors corporation have been confiscated.

Can't Guarantee Protection.

Franklin reported that President Luis Companys of Catalonia said that it is impossible to guarantee protection to Americans in Barcelona, but that none has been reported injured or killed, and American property has been protected.

All normal means of transportation and communication are paralyzed at Barcelona, Franklin said, and there is little control over armed groups consisting of extreme radical elements who are patroling the city "recklessly."

Takes Refuge in Seville Cellar.

New York, July 30.—[Special.]—Among the first Americans to return from war torn Spain, Miss Alvena Cobanks of this city, described today how she took refuge in a cellar in Seville while loyalist planes bombed the city, their principal objective being a powder plant held by rebels and located uncomfortably close to Miss Cobanks' hotel.

That night the management ordered all lights out and porters closed the great iron gates to the courtyard. Heavy Venetian blinds were lowered to protect all the windows.

Hears Bullets.

"We could hear bullets whining past the building," Miss Cobanks said. "Now and then a bullet would smack against the wall."

Next morning, she said, those in the hotel could hear yelling and shooting all over Seville, and ominous blasts which they were told were shells exploding. The city, Miss Cobanks learned, was in the hands of the rebels and under attack by loyalist troops.

Sunday night, she said, they heard the drone of a big plane approaching, and soon afterward the terrific crash of an exploding bomb. More bombs followed, and every one went to the cellar, Miss Cobanks said, about twenty-five persons in all. No one was hysterical, she said, but two people, she admitted with a smile, "looked awful."

German Killed in Spanish Town Shelled by Rebel Ship

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, July 30.—The German cruiser Cologne, now off the Spanish coast, wirelessed today that Heinz Voss of Hamburg, Germany, was killed and another German wounded when the Spanish rebel warship Almirante Cervera bombarded Gijon, northern Spain. The Cologne's captain protested to the Cervera's commander who apologized for the incident. The Cervera is the only first line Spanish cruiser operating for the rebels and the Madrid government has declared it a pirate vessel.

FRANCE WARNS SHE MAY SELL ARMS TO SPAIN

Hears Rebels Get Planes from Italy.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, July 30.—The growing French fright lest the Spanish rebellion prove the starting point of a much feared European war mounted to a new height tonight.

Developments were these:

FIRST—Casablanca, French Morocco, reported that an Italian airplane, originally intended for tourist use, but recently equipped with two machine guns, crashed at Saidia du Kiso, near Oujda, French Morocco, opposite the Spanish Moroccan border, killing three of five Spanish rebel aviators. The plane, a trimotor, had no registration number, contrary to international regulations.

SECOND—Before the senate foreign affairs committee in Paris Foreign Minister Yvon Delbos declared if reports that "certain European nations"—meaning Italy—were furnishing the Spanish rebels with arms were true France might abandon its strict neutrality and aid the Madrid government.

Fascist vs. Anti-Fascist.

With Premier Leon Blum present Delbos insisted France has been strictly neutral throughout the Spanish imbroglio. His statement was taken as an attempt to relieve disquiet in France lest any unneutral misstep by the Blum government involve the country in what threatens to develop into a fight over Spain between the Fascist and anti-Fascist nations.

Full explanation was expected from Premier Blum during foreign affairs debate in the changer of deputies tomorrow. But French senators quoted the premier today as saying "We might be forced to sell arms to Spain because of dictatorships encircling France on the east and south" [Germany and Italy].

It is said French agents are investigating reports Italy is selling planes to Gen. Francisco Franco, Spanish rebel leader.

Henri de Kerillis, nationalist leader, insisted that arms and planes already had been delivered.

Three Planes Downed.

A report from Oran Algeria, said six Italian planes, arriving from Sardinia, an Italian island, flew over the Oran region. One crashed with two persons killed and three injured, and two others were forced down due to lack of fuel.

The correspondent of Petit Parisien said French authorities arrested the crews. The correspondent described the planes as being of the latest Savoia-Marchetti [Italian] type. He said they were equipped with machine guns and were flown by Italians. He declared munitions were found aboard.

The planes were flying toward Spanish Morocco and, questioned, the flyers were said to have declared they were going on a "special mission" to Nador, south of the Spanish rebel headquarters at Melilla.

A fourth Italian plane, believed to be a unit of the same squadron, was forced down in the sea 50 miles off Oran. Ships were rushing to rescue three survivors reported to be clinging to the wings.

Planes Held in France.

The increase in bombing activities and artillery fire by the rebels in Spain proper is interpreted here to mean they are being furnished with arms and planes from abroad. Gen. Emilio Mola, Spanish rebel leader, is reported to have admitted he just received one Junkers plane [a German make] and is expecting others via Portugal.

Twenty Potez planes which Pierre Cot, minister of air, has been accused of planning to turn over to Spain are still immobilized at Etampes airfield.

Even four Fokkers from a British airways firm, ostensibly on the way to Lisbon, are being held up by the Bordeaux prefect because of fears they were really meant for one or the other factions in Spain.

Meantime, the Madrid government still is hoping. A plane today brought another 10,000,000 francs in gold [currently $660,000], bringing the total arriving by that means for purchases in France to $2,000,000.

Protest New Authority.

[Copyright: 1936: By the New York Times.]

LONDON, July 30.—The British government is disturbed over the position of Tangier where the placing by the international commission of control of policing arrangements both in the port and town in the hands of commanders of warships in the port has apparently given offense to the French government.

The French consider this is a delegation of authority which should not have been given without the consent of the sultan of Morocco whose agent is the resident French general in Morocco.

Italian Ship Stopped.

TANGIER, July 30.—Rebel planes again bombed Spanish submarines in Tangier waters and two of Madrid's destroyers assisted the submarines in beating off the attack and patroling the straits. Subarines have halted Italian merchant men in the straits upon which the Italian minister here sent an emphatic protest to Madrid.

British Ships on Move.

[Copyright: 1936: By the New York Times.]

GIBRALTAR, July 30.—A heavy concentration of British warships is being made at Gibraltar. The Queen Elizabeth, flagship of the Mediterranean fleet, is due here soon from Malta.

The commander-in-chief, Admiral Sir Dudley Pound, left Malta aboard the swifter cruiser Galatea today for Gibraltar, where he will hoist his flag on the cruiser Ajax until the arrival of the Queen Elizabeth.

There are now thirty-six British warships in Spanish waters and at Gibraltar. Of these seven are in the Barcelona area and eighteen Spanish ports are being patrolled by destroyers, ready to take off any British or other foreign nationals permitted to depart.

Neutral Ship Under Fire.

CASABLANCA, French Morocco, July 30.—(AP)—The attempted bombing of the Norwegian freighter Frank by insurgent airmen was reported by travelers reaching here today. The captain of the freighter said eleven bombs were dropped near his ship off Ceuta, but that none scored a hit.

A battery at Tarifa, west of Algeciras, fired on the loyal Spanish cruiser Cervantes. Spanish loyal ships in the straits were given wide berth by commercial shipping.

REFUGEES SEEK TO ESCAPE FROM SPAIN

SPANISH SHEPHERDS USE SLINGS TO FIRE DYNAMITE AT REBELS

MADRID, July 30.—[Havas.]—Loyal troops returning here tonight from Villanueva de Cordoba told how shepherds of the region used sling shots with dynamite sticks as missils to aid the government against the rebels who were ultimately dislodged.

Wielding their slings with coolness and dexterity, the "modern Davids" of the Cordoban hills placed explosive charges in the pouches of their rude weapons, lighted the fuses, and hurled them expertly into the rebel strongholds.

Many of the eighty rebels, most of them civil guards, were killed and others demoralized by the hail of dynamite. Eventually they yielded possession of the little mining center to the loyal forces.

3 DIPLOMATS OF SPAIN IN SOUTH AMERICA RESIGN

BUENOS AIRES, July 30.—(AP)—Several South American governments disclosed today they have been advised a rebel government rules Spain. Spokesmen said the communications from Gen. Virgilio Cabanellas, dated from Burgos, Spain, announced the government was under his direction.

Maj. Emilio Fernandez Martos, Spanish military attaché in Argentina, announced his resignation, saying he would return to Spain to aid the rebels. At Rio de Janeiro, Eduardo Douiz Navarro, Spanish consul, resigned.

Minister Resigns.

LIMA, Peru, July 30.—(AP)—Spanish Minister Luis Aviles Tiscar resigned today in protest against the leftist régime in Spain. "The communist party prevails over constitutional government," he asserted.

[This week the Spanish ambassadors to Italy and Germany also have resigned.]

FALL IS FATAL.

James O'Day, 53 years old, 1407 West 48th street, died yesterday in the County hospital of injuries incurred July 22 in a fall in his home.

DAUGHTER BORN TO WIFE OF HEIR TO SPAIN'S CROWN

CANNES, France, July 30.—(AP)—A daughter was born tonight to the princess of the Asturias, wife of the heir presumptive to the nonexistent Spanish throne.

Both mother and child were reported doing well. Former King Alfonso, who has been visiting his friend, Count Metternich, at the latter's castle at Edenigswart, Czechoslovakia, is expected to come here tomorrow.

The princess of the Asturias, the former Princess Maria Mercedes of Bourbon-Sicily, and her husband, Prince Juan, have been living in Cannes for some time. Juan, the third son of Alfonso, follows his father in the line of succession by virtue of the renunciation of royal rights by the eldest son, the count of Covadonga, who married a Cuban commoner, and by Prince Jaime, the second son.

U. S. UNION SENDS $5,000 TO HELP SPANISH REGIME

New York, July 30.—[Special.]—The first American financial contribution to the Spanish trade union and Socialist organizations fighting to save the Spanish government from the present onslaught of monarchist and Fascist insurgents was made today by the International Ladies' Garment Workers' union.

The union forwarded a contribution of $5,000 to a fund being raised by the International Federation of Trade Unions. The contribution was in response to a call to American labor to contribute to a "labor solidarity fund to meet widespread distress of Spanish workers incurred in resisting Fascist attack on people's government."

Slayer of Casket Maker Dies in Electric Chair

Huntsville, Tex., July 31 [Friday].—(AP)—Glenn Warren was put to death in the electric chair early today for the murder of Charles E. Cansler Sr., aged Zavalla casket maker, in February, 1934. Warren was placed in the chair at 12:01 a. m. and pronounced dead eight minutes later.

SPANISH REBEL GENERALS OPEN WAY TO ESCAPE

Capture Town on Frontier of Portugal.

BY JAY ALLEN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

GIBRALTAR, July 30.—In Gen. Francisco Franco's conference at Seville yesterday with Gen. Gonzalo Queipo de Llano, his commander of southern rebel forces in Spain, and the commanders at Cadiz and Granada, two decisions were taken, I learned today. They were:

FIRST—To strike tellingly at Huelva to open the way to retreat to the Portuguese frontier. This was accomplished yesterday, when rebels marched in and loyal officials fled.

SECOND—To imprison or execute any officers who might be suspected of planning "to run to succor the victor," as the cynical Spanish saying is, by offering their garrisons on a silver platter to Madrid and at the same time performing the patriotic task of saving the rightists [rebels] from the wrath of the left [government].

"Patriot" a "Suicide."

Lieut. Col. Gautier's death is interesting in light of this.

The "suicide" of Gautier, second in command at rebel Ceuta, Spanish Morocco, was announced yesterday. Lieut. Col. Yague, commander, said Gautier was killed while "cleaning a revolver." However, others alleged Gautier was a "patriot" who tried to raise the garrison against Gen. Franco.

Gen. Franco can count on the en-Foreign legion officers, none of whom foreign legion officers, none of whom could expect mercy in Madrid and whose men would not let their leaders betray if they wanted to.

There are ten tabors of Moors—a tabor is two companies of rifles and one of machine guns, all together 300 men—and six banderas of the legion—a bandera has 800 men—scattered in La Linea, Cadiz, Seville, and Cordoba, Spain. The total is around 7,000.

There are a good 15,000, if I am correctly informed, still on the other side of the Strait of Gibraltar, and Franco's own admission to me was that only 260 a day are getting over by planes. Until a column of loyal troops appeared at Despenaperros pass in the Sierra Morena mountains, near Cordoba, the danger to the rebels was only betrayal within their own ranks. Now that danger has increased and there is also an attack from without, which will give new life to the Popular Front [government] partisans.

Power Supply Unguarded.

The Marxist [loyalist] militia men scattered in southern Spain are preparing to return to reoccupy La Linea at a moment's notice. There are no troops within sixty miles of the power house at El Chorro above Malaga which supplies Seville. Every port of the southern coast is blocked by loyal ships and submarines. And Madrid has got free access to practically the whole of the Mediterranean seacoast.

The collapse may come sooner than some expect. On the other hand, the situation may drag on some days. It seems highly improbable, barring some unexpected defeat at Madrid, for an ugly, long drawn out civil war. The generals lost the first day when they failed to take the Madrid, Barcelona, and Malaga garrisons by surprise, and their death warants were signed when the fleet mutinied against them.

Ships Seek to Change Flags.

There is dismay among the wealthy émigrés at Gibraltar. I was informed resentatives of two important Spanish steamship lines arrived here in a fast car from Seville and mortgaged their fleets to British banks, which are applying for British registry.

One of the objects of Col. Franco's visit to Seville was to shut up the radio broadcasts of Gen. Queipo de Llano who, he admitted to me, is a "mere peon of the movement."

Queipo afterward said he "might not be speaking so often in the future."

Senor Garcia, secretary of the Marxist Youth organization of Algeciras, after listening critically to La Passionaria, communist woman deputy of Madrid, make a statement by radio that the masses are fighting to consolidate a liberal, democratic republic, said:

"Yes, for a time, and a damned short time, unless the republic does something drastic."

Others are thinking the same way.

KING OF BRITAIN TO GO FOR LONG CRUISE NEAR JUGO-SLAVIA

LONDON, July 30.—(AP)—King Edward VIII. of England has chartered the yacht Nahlin for a cruise of three or four weeks along the Dalmatian coast, it was announced today at Buckingham palace. The king will probably join the yacht in about 10 days at Dubrovnik, Jugo-Slavia. He will be accompanied by three or four friends.

The vessel, known as a luxury yacht, is the property of Lady Yule, widow of Sir David Yule, former Anglo-Indian merchant. It is a twin screw schooner, originally costing $1,500,000, and is registered from Glasgow.

The cruise will replace a projected vacation at Cannes, France, which was canceled after the outbreak of the Spanish rebellion.

Dr. Eugene Cary's Hotel Apartment Is Robbed

Dr. Eugene Cary, an obstetrician and surgeon, asked police yesterday to search for a burglar who entered his apartment in the Drake hotel early Wednesday morning and carried off a wallet containing $50. The doctor said his wife heard the intruder and he fled when she spoke. Two weeks ago, Dr. Cary said, his apartment appeared to have been searched, but nothing was taken at that time.

POLL ASSEMBLY CANDIDATES ON SUPERHIGHWAY

Motor Club Will Publish Results of Quiz.

BY HAL FOUST.

Candidates for the Illinois legislature in the November election are to be polled by the Chicago Motor club on their attitudes toward Chicago's elevated highway proposal. The results of the poll are to be published.

The club yesterday mailed invitations to Cook county's legislative candidates to attend a luncheon in the Hotel Sherman next Friday, Aug. 7. At the meeting state senators, representatives, and aspirants will be asked to support elevated highway legislation in the general assembly that will convene next January.

Next week a questionnaire is to be mailed to all Illinois legislators and candidates outside of Cook county. They, too, will be asked to commit themselves.

Club Interested in Safety.

"As an organization," said Charles M. Hayes, president of the motor club, "we are not interested in supporting any candidacy for election or reëlection to the assembly because it is on the Democratis or the Republican ticket. As a safety organization we are interested in seating men at Springfield who will reduce the trafic massacre by building elevated highways, regardless of the party affiliations of these men.

"We are not going to make a downstate versus Chicago issue of the elevated highway proposal. We do not suggest that downstate road building be curtailed to construct life saving highways in Chicago. Such a suggestion would be booed at Springfield. We do urge that money that is now being allocated to Chicago pavements be concentrated on elevated motorways.

Money Is Available.

"Enough money is now being spent on Chicago's streets for a progressive construction of a comprehensive elevated highway system. The state highway department alone has spent $11,636,527 here in the last three and a half years. Additional road money comes to Chicago from its share of the gasoline tax, from the city wheel tax, and from the county's share of the gasoline tax.

"Downstate is in sympathy with the move for elevated highways. Civic leaders at meetings held in thirteen cities outside of Cook county this spring and summer adopted resolutions of indorsement. They have a humanitarian interest in reducing the street massacre. They also have an interest in seeing that Illinois road money is spent for elevated highways of through trafic value rather than for street improvements of purely local benefit."

Harvard Expert to Speak.

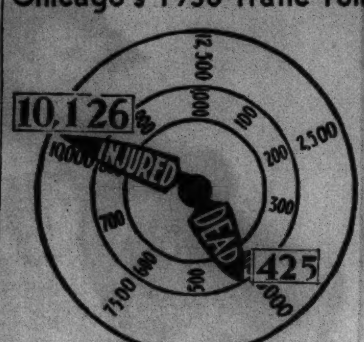
Dr. Miller McClintock, director of the Harvard university bureau of trafic research, will be the main speaker at next Friday's meeting. Three years ago he completed a survey of Chicago's street transportation problem for the city council trafic committee, of which Ald. John A. Massen [48th] is chairman.

Dr. McClintock, whose office and home are in New York, was selected as the speaker not only because of his familiarity with the Chicago trafic and accident problems but also because he is remote from local party politics and neighborhood prejudices.

"We wish to make a political issue but not a party issue of the elevated highway proposals," said Mr. Hayes. "We want an assembly in Springfield next January that will issue an order and an assignment of funds to proceed with construction."

THE MASSACRE

Chicago's 1936 Trafic Toll



Over 98 per cent of the city's automobile fatalities are of a nature physically impossible on an elevated highway.

Assistant Fire Chief at Urbana Takes Own Life

Urbana, Ill., July 30.—[Special.]—William A. Norris, 36, assistant chief of the Urbana fire department, took his life during the night by shooting himself. His body was found in his automobile this morning.

DR. BRADFORD, 69, CHURCH LEADER, KILLED IN CRASH

Wife and Daughter Hurt in Indiana Accident.

DR. JOHN E. BRADFORD.

The Rev. Dr. John E. Bradford of Chicago, general secretary of the board of education of the United Presbyterian Church of North America, was killed yesterday when his automobile containing also his wife and daughter overturned in U. S. Route 20 near La Grange, Ind., forty-five miles east of South Bend.

His daughter, Mrs. Jacob L. Sheets of Toledo, O., was injured seriously. Her mother, Mrs. Mary Bradford, incurred only minor injuries. The three were returning from Toledo to the Bradford home at 6206 Woodlawn avenue.

Dr. Bradford was 69 years old. He was born at Bellbrook, O., and was graduated from Monmouth college at Monmouth, Ill. After taking postgraduate work at the University of Chicago and Harvard university, where he was awarded an LL.D. degree, Dr. Bradford was ordained in the Presbyterian church at Chicago in 1892.

Served in Media Academy.

From 1900 to 1905 Dr. Bradford served as principal of the Wever Media academy at Media, Ill., later becoming professor of history at Miami college, Oxford, O. He served there until 1919, when he was appointed secretary of the Presbyterian board of education.

He was a member of the commission on church related colleges, the Ohio Historical society, and the Ohio Society of Chicago. He was the author of "History of the Miami Valley" and other historical and educational pamphlets.

Besides his wife and injured daughter Dr. Bradford is survived by two other daughters, Isabel and Martha, and a son, James Bradford.

Winnetka Druggist Dies.

Charles Patchen, 70 years old, 1014 Oak street, Winnetka, died yesterday in the Evanston hospital of injuries received June 6 in an automobile collision at state routes 59A and 54, one mile south of Mundelein in Lake county.

Mr. Patchen was owner of the Patchen Community pharmacy at 750 Elm street, Winnetka. He had been a resident of the suburb for the last 32 years. Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Melissa Patchen, and two sons, Gordon, and Earl Patchen.

Thomas Murray, 62 years old, 7847 Morgan street, was fatally injured yesterday when his auto collided with one driven by Oscar Behnke, 30 years old, 6635 Sangamon avenue, at Normal boulevard and 55th street. He was taken to St. Bernard hospital by police but died shortly after arriving there.

Woman Killed in South Holland.

Mrs. May Frye, 50 years old, of Portland, Ore., was killed yesterday when an automobile driven by her husband, Frank, a salesman, went out of control in 159th street near Stony Island avenue in South Holland and overturned in the ditch.

Nathan Edward, 42 years old, of Chicago, died yesterday in a hospital at Herkimer, N. Y., as result of burns received Wednesday when a trailer truck in which he was riding as a relief driver, crashed and caught fire.

John Kuranda, 22 years old, 217 West 147th street, Dixmoor, was freed by Justice of the Peace John Kinney in Riverdale yesterday of a charge of manslaughter growing out of the death of Joseph Oleiniczak, 46 years old, 15702 Carey avenue, Phoenix, on July 14. Cars driven by the two men collided at 155th street and Vincennes road in Phoenix, near Harvey.

No automobile deaths had been reported to the coroner up to 4 p. m. yesterday, the number of persons killed in Cook county this year remaining at 549. Of these 425 were killed in Chicago. In the same period 10,126 were injured within the city limits.

TWO TIPSY DRIVERS IN ACCIDENTS DRAW SIX MONTH SENTENCES

Emil F. Salzman, 52 years old, 1001 Westmoreland avenue, Waukegan, was found guilty of driving while intoxicated and was sentenced yesterday by County Judge Perry L. Persons of Lake county to serve six months on the state farm at Vandalia. Salzman was arrested last Saturday in Waukegan after his automobile struck another.

Judge Olney C. Allen of the Kane county court in Geneva also continued his campaign against drunk driving yesterday. Earl Papenberg of Elgin was sentenced to six months on the Vandalia farm after he admitted he was intoxicated last Sunday when he was involved in a crash in Elgin.

In Chicago Miss Lucille Brock, 23 years old, 940 West 51st street, was fined $25 by Judge Edgar A. Jonas in Safety court on a charge of reckless driving. In the Night Speeders' court Judge Frank M. Padden imposed a fine of $75 on Samuel Hicks, 36 years old, colored, 316 East 31st street, for driving an automobile without brakes and without license plates. Unable to pay the fine, Hicks was taken to the Bridewell.

Lightning Strikes Polish Balloon; 1 Killed, 11 Hurt

GDYNIA, Poland, July 30.—(AP)—One army balloonist was killed and eleven of the ground crew were injured tonight when lightning struck a captive balloon.

6 AUTO TESTING LANES TO REMAIN OPEN AT NIGHT

To accommodate automobile owners who work in the daytime, six testing lanes will be kept open at night until 1 a. m. beginning next Monday, it was announced yesterday by Edward J. Gorman, deputy vehicle license commissioner. The other twelve lanes will operate as heretofore from 7 a. m. until 7 p. m.

The lanes to be open evenings for the testing of both passenger automobiles and trucks are those at Argyle street and Castlewood terrace, Columbus drive and 31st street in Burnham park, and in Humboldt, McKinley, Sherman, and Calumet parks.

Mayor Kelly suggested on Wednesday that some of the lanes be kept open evenings after he learned that numerous motorists were being inconvenienced. Cars must be tested twice yearly under a recent state law.

Dr. Bundesen Becomes a Grandfather; It's a Boy

Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, president of the board of health, became a grandfather for the first time yesterday when Herman Bundesen III. was born in the Passavant hospital to Elsie, wife of Dr. Bundesen's son and namesake. Herman Bundesen Jr., one of the physician's five children, lives at 7703 Kingston avenue.

HENRY FORD 73; SPENDS DAY IN WOODS 'COTTAGE'

Big Bay, Mich., July 30.—(AP)—In the seclusion of a many roomed "cottage" in the woods of Huron mountain west of here on Lake Superior, Henry Ford noted that today was his 73d birthday anniversary.

But, because he never has taken the passing of years very seriously, Ford did as he has on most of his previous birthdays—planned for the future. There were many messages of congratulation and only a few visitors, the latter mainly from among the half hundred other wealthy members of the closely guarded Huron Mountain club.

Ford spent a large part of today supervising and actively participating in the installation of work benches, lathes, and other equipment in a building he erected recently as a workshop for the children of other members of the Huron Mountain club.

Mrs. Ford was with her husband to help him observe the birthday anniversary, as she was a little more than 43 years ago when he tested his first successful "horseless carriage" on a rain swept Detroit street.

FIRST DAY TIDE OF VOLUNTEERS SWEEPS CITY

Begin Fight at Once to Save Americanism.

The headquarters of THE VOLUNTEERS on the seventeenth floor of Tribune Tower had no sooner been thrown open to the public than men and women, young and old, began moving in.

A preliminary organization was on hand to classify the jobs to be done. This organization will be expanded daily as the press of work grows. Directors of divisions were prepared to list the speakers, the singers, the debaters, and the bell pushers as they came. Before the day was over hundreds of workers were scattering over the city in their first efforts in behalf of Landon, in behalf of their country, and against the blight of New Dealism.

Their Ages from 13 to 80.

The ages of these VOLUNTEERS ranged from 13 to 80. A 13 year old girl wanted to sing "O Susanna," Stephen Foster's old ballad which is the Landon campaign song, before groups anywhere. An 80 year old man volunteered to ring doorbells in his neighborhood and do his part to save Americanism.

Some of those who came offered contributions, but these were rejected by Julius Miner, in charge of organization, with the explanation that THE VOLUNTEERS is not a money raising organization, but one to enlist workers and patriots. If the prospective contributor could speak, could sing, or would go out and ring doorbells, as the 80 year old man wanted to do, his services were gladly accepted.

At the end of the day Mr. Miner had interviewed hundreds of debaters, organizers, and ordinary citizens—all of them asking, "What can I do?" They were told off to specific work when their talents had been learned. Mr. Miner found it necessary to establish sub-departments to facilitate these interviews and designate the duties.

Women Eager to Help.

Miss Ruth De Young, woman's editor of THE TRIBUNE, was swamped with applicants all day long. Women responded to the call announcing the founding of THE VOLUNTEERS by the score. When Miss De Young wasn't interviewing and assigning she was kept busy with telegrams and telephone calls carrying more offers of help.

There were housewives, clubwomen, servants, business and professional women, and they came from all sections of Chicago and the suburbs. Typical of the reaction of the women was that of Mrs. Lillian Filman, 4614 North Ashland boulevard, a housewife.

"I want to do precinct work," she told Miss De Young. "I'll ring all the doorbells I can between now and Nov. 3. So many people don't have any realization how important it is to elect Gov. Landon. I'm getting to be an old lady now, but we've got to do this thing for the generations which are to come."

Tells of First Success.

Another enthusiastic volunteer for work was Miss Helen Bennett, who directed the Hall of Social Science at A Century of Progress Exposition. Miss Alma Klunder, 1540 North State street, told Miss De Young that she felt she could make some effective arguments, inasmuch as she had recently converted her brother, a former New Deal Democrat, to the Landon cause.

Phil Maxwell, in charge of organizing hundreds of musical units of VOLUNTEERS, spent the entire day cataloging singers and musicians who offered their professional services. Song writers came by the score, bringing original tunes which carry the Landon mesage, or new words adapted to old songs. One of these "The Landon Song," by Miss Mary W. Hurlburt, 7679 Rogers avenue, has the theme line of "Chins Up, America!"

Headquarters in Tribune Tower.

All these and other hundreds came to the headquarters of THE VOLUNTEERS, directed by a sign in the lobby of Tribune Tower, which read, "There are only 97 days left to save your country! Headquarters—THE VOLUNTEERS—17th floor." Today the sign will read "96 days"; tomorrow, "95 days."

Meanwhile, Republican candidates for congress from Cook county districts met for a luncheon at Henrici's restaurant, on call of Frederick A. Virkus, candidate in the Sixth district, to applaud the work of THE VOLUNTEERS and pledge aid. Seven of the ten candidates were present, the others being out of the city.

"We were in hearty accord as to the worth of THE VOLUNTEERS," Mr. Virkus said, after the meeting, "and we commend the purpose. It is unquestionably the most important movement of the kind ever attempted in Cook county.

Meeting with Mr. Virkus were Oscar De Priest, 1st district; Mrs. Irene Tomas, 4th district; Max Price, 5th district; James C. Moreland, 7th district; E. R. Piszatowski, 8th district, and Mrs. Bertha Baur, national committeewoman and candidate in the 9th district. Absent were Patrick H. Moynihan, 2d district; Frank M. Fulton, 3d district, and Congressman Ralph E. Church, 10th district.

Praise from Women Leaders.

THE VOLUNTEERS were praised by Mrs. Baur at a luncheon of Republican women leaders at the Congress hotel. "We need an organization such as that to organize the unorganized," Mrs. Baur said. "The Republican party belongs to no one group but to every patriot."

Mrs. Worthington Scranton of Pennsylvania, eastern vice chairman of the Republican national committee, spoke similarly at a tea given by the Woman's National Republican Club of Chicago at the Drake hotel.

DOG MAKES N. Y. SOCIAL REGISTER AND STIRS IT UP

New York, July 30.—[Special.]—The pages of the Social Register have gone doggy with a vengeance. In its 1936 summer issue a 4 year old red-haired Pekingese has achieved the recognition for which social climbers without number have struggled and intrigued in vain. There is much consternation.

When the news reached the offices of the Social Register association today there was a gasp of horror followed by silence. The association "has absolutely nothing to say," its spokesman said.

Mrs. Morris, who was said by members of the family to have perpetrated the listing of "Rose" as a joke, is now in Europe studying music. She is the former Estelle Condit Frelinghuysen, daughter of the late Frederick Frelinghuysen, president of the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance company, and granddaughter of the late Frederick T. Frelinghuysen, secretary of state under President Arthur.

Moving Forward

Marshall Field & Company presents here each day observations and opinions intended to be of interest and value to those it seeks to serve.

ART'S SCIENCE

By CALEB

SOONER or later, behind most arts there is discovered a science. Usually in the development of the art, only an outer sublimity is seen. Finally, astute artists or observers with penetrating minds begin to make discoveries about what they admire.

When business gets into the "artistic," the latter is usually quite quickly resolved into its component elements.

Once music was simply concourse of sweet sound. Science now has it a matter of vibrations, acoustics, sound-wave velocity, and other brass tack considerations.

Once lighting fixtures for a room were decorative adornments. They provided light, yes—but how much light technically, and whether or not it was enough, was any man's opinion. Today, men can stand in a room and scientifically measure the sufficiency of light at any given point.

Once colors defied analysis. Your description of a beautiful green would convey to me only an impression of what to me is a beautiful green. Now you can even wire color, which, to the recipient will be unmistakably identical to the color before you.

There is an art of selling. Some house-to-house sales companies are masters of that art. Some smoothly developed sales discourses reach an almost irresistible climactic urge for you to buy. Behind the smooth flowing talk, however, there is a bony skeleton of a sales formula, which existed in mathematical coldness before the interesting and disguising flesh of words and actions was added.

Behind all specialty selling, the trained observer distinguishes again and again this scientific skeletal framework which recurs in carefully developed sales procedures.

Behind all things which seem artistic and simple, there are definite laws either discovered and being used—or discoverable. It is by finding them and working with them that standards are developed which permit the formulation of prescriptions for their reproduction.

Creative work is not hampered by this truth. It is made less stumbling and less fitful. The stark formula can be crudely, clumsily fleshed over by the artist, or beautifully and magnificently so, according to skill. Science and art collaborate.

In our business, each year sees more abstract problems reduced to concrete formulas and unmistakable identities. The more skill with which we can handle the beautiful in terms of the practical, the more we can offer you in the way of interesting merchandise.

1,100 MEN TAME MICHIGAN FIRES ALONG 3 FRONTS

"Superhuman Effort" of Crews Halts Spread.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., July 30.—[Special.]—Eleven hundred men thrown into the battle lines by the WPA, the CCC, the United States forest service and the state conservation department tonight were winning a struggle to bring under control three major forest fires in this area.

Newberry conservation officers said fire fighters, by "almost superhuman effort," had tamed the fire in the Robert Hunter cutting, nine miles northeast of Newberry, after it burned over 175 acres.

Newberry hardware stores were sold out of fire fighting tools and WPA work was suspended as crews of workmen were taken to the fire front.

Farm and forest fires which Wednesday afternoon destroyed two hay fields, two barns, and a home on three farms were believed under control today six miles southeast of Pickford in Chippewa county.

Fire Swerves; Town Saved.

Havre, Mont., July 30.—[Special.]—A roaring forest fire was swerved from the little mining town of Landusky and the historic old St. Paul Indian mission today shortly after women and children fled from the blazing Mission canyon forests by airplane, automobile, and on foot.

Refugees from the flame swept area said the fire was far worse than the blaze that started last week and at that time ate its way over about 20 square miles of green timber.

New squads of fire fighters and more equipment were rushed into the territory to aid more than 1,000 men who have been on the fighting line for six days.

A steady south wind today turned the flames to the east of Landusky, home of the famous Little Ben gold mine. The town previously seemed doomed as the fire raced through valuable timberland.

Earlier in the day, when the flames roared to within a few hundred yards of Landusky, between 200 and 300 residents took to airplanes, automobiles, horses, and foot to reach safety.

Western Alberta Blaze Spreads.

Coleman, Alta., July 30.—[Special.]—Reports of a fast spreading forest fire in western Alberta, that already had destroyed about 100 square miles of timber, caused extra crews of fire fighters to be held in readiness here today.

It was said the blaze jumped the boundary from British Columbia and trapped 56 men for two and a half days.

MURDER VICTIM

Mrs. Venthalia McCandless.

[Associated Press Wirephoto.]

Los Angeles, Cal., July 30.—[Special.]—The nude body of Mrs. Venthalia Hippe McCandless, 23, a bride of six weeks, was found today in the bathroom of her apartment. She had been shot twice in the chest. Police began a search for her husband.

Police said the apartment was in a state of disorder and that a nearly empty bottle of whisky stood on a table. They learned that the young woman, a waitress, had been living there for about a year.

Capt. Hubert Wallis of the detective force said he had been told that the woman met the man she married on a transcontinental bus and that they were married in Yuma, Ariz.

Officers said they learned that upon her return from Arizona the waitress had remarked: "I've gone and done it. I've married. My husband has his business, a café, in the south part of town and he wants to live there, so he won't register here."

An indication that their arrangement didn't work out well was seen in Mrs. McCandless' reported statement last week that "things are breaking bad. I'm going to Mexico in a few days and get a divorce."

Russia's Lindy to Leave for Hop Over Arctic Soon

Los Angeles, Cal., July 30.—(AP)—Russia's "Lindbergh," Sigismund Levanevsky, acocmpanied by Victor Levchenko, will leave Los Angeles harbor Sunday noon in their Vultee transport for an air trip over "the top of the world" to Moscow. The two soviet flyers completed tests of their ship yesterday for the 9,000 mile arctic survey flight. One day hops will be made to San Francisco, Seattle, Juneau, Fairbanks, and Nome.

FEAR OF MURDER SAVES A POLICE SPY FROM PRISON

Bogue Sent to Bridewell on Minor Charge.

MEYER BOGUE.

Meyer Bogue, 50 years old, ex-convict and police informer, appeared before Judge Michael Feinberg in Criminal court yesterday on a charge of forging the name of Attorney Leonora Z. Meder to a $45 check. If convicted he faced a sentence of one to fourteen years in the penitentiary.

When the case was called Assistant Public Defender Lester Grossman, counsel for Bogue, stepped before the bench.

"This man has quite a past," Grossman informed the court. "He is known as an informer. If he is convicted and sent to the penitentiary it would amount to a death sentence.

Tells Prison Code.

"The hatred of convicts toward an informer is well known and I am convinced that convicts against whom he has turned in evidence or their friends would kill him, no matter what safeguards were put around him."

"There is doubtless real danger in the situation," Judge Feinberg replied. At the suggestion of Assistant State's Attorney Donald Korshak it was agreed that the forgery charge be nol prossed so that a misdemeanor charge, carrying a Bridewell sentence, could be placed against Bogue.

File Minor Charge.

He was then taken before Judge Joseph Graber in Felony court, where he pleaded guilty to a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. Judge Graber sentenced him to a year in the Bridewell. Bogue, who had appeared white-faced, seemed relieved as he was taken from the courtroom.

Bogue was formerly employed as an investigator for the Chicago Jewelry association. Last January he was accused of engineering a fake jewelry robbery in order to make his job as investigator more secure.

Col. Tyler Made Assistant Engineer Chief; Promoted

Washington, D. C., July 31.—(AP)—The war department announced appointment today of Col. Max C. Tyler as assistant chief of army engineers with rank of brigadier general. Creation of an additional assistant chief was authorized by the last congress.

THREE SLAYERS STAB DEPUTIES AND FLEE TRIAL

Captured After Chase; Courts in Uproar.

forte. The criminals were openly contemptuous of him.

"Let the little squirt alone," said Bogaci. "He'll do what we say."

He ordered that the elevator be stopped and O'Connor obeyed.

From Tierney the trio took his keys. They unlocked the handcuffs. Then they put them on the deputies, but carefully. Wing's hands were bound behind his back. Next the desperadoes took his two handkerchiefs—he wears one to keep his collar from getting wilted—and gagged him with it. As for Tierney, they handcuffed his hands to his belt. It was a lesson in how to handcuff a prisoner.

"I'm going to kill you," announced Korczykowski as he started to gag Wing.

Dagger at Deputy's Throat.

He stuck his dagger at the throat of the hapless deputy. Wing's assertions that they were foolish to attempt the escape were cut off with the handkerchief.

Jenkot then took charge of the elevator and ran it up to the seventh floor, the top of the shaft. There he unscrewed a plate on top of the car and tried to climb up. His intention was to reach the roof, but there was no outlet from the shaft.

After a brief conference the men decided to go out on the seventh floor. They rang the signal bell [the elevator doors can be opened only from the outside] and Louis Green, personal bailif of Judge Michael Feinberg, responded. He shouted that the judge was absent.

Tierney, threatened with a knife, was ordered to ask Green to open the door.

Opens Door; Cut and Slugged.

As the door rolled back, the criminals leaped out upon Green. Taken by surprise, he swung at them and called for help. For his pains he received a deep gash on the right arm and a slap with a blackjack which had been taken from Wing.

Green fell and the fugitives broke into Judge Feinberg's courtroom. There a clerk, Lawrence Bernstein, saw them and began shouting to all and sundry to halt them. Deputy Sherif James Coleman, aroused by the clamor, ran in. He was beaten down with the blackjack and kicked in the ribs by Korczykowski.

The criminals then dashed into a corridor and made for the stairs, pursued only by the shouts of the vocal Bernstein. At the fourth floor Jack Sullivan, bailif to Chief Justice Normoyle of the Criminal court, got in the way and was beaten aside. Bogaci and Korczykowski continued down stairs. Jenkot took a different route, seeking to go out by a fire escape.

Prosecutor Joins Pursuit.

At the second floor level Assistant State's Attorney Morris Meyers, who is prosecuting the murder case, was somewhat astonished to see his men dash by as he stepped from his office. He added his cries to those of Bernstein and Sullivan.

On the first floor Police Sergeant Frank Hannigan of the state's attorney's office, seeing Bogaci and Korczykowski make for the front door and the sunshine, drew his pistol. He was joined by Deputy Joseph Gallagher, and together they compelled Bogaci to surrender.

Korczykowski continued. He was fleeing across the courthouse lawn to 26th street when Deputy Sherif Peter Agriostathes, returning to the building from lunch, saw him. The deputy said he thought at first the man was a policeman chasing some one and went to help. But when the agile Korczykowski leaped into a clump of bushes Agriostathes drew his pistol and yelled "Halt." Half a dozen policemen seized the fugitive.

Delegation Effects a Capture.

Meanwhile Jenkot was seized on the fifth floor by Deputy Sherif S. H. Shapiro, with the help of a delegation of bailifs from the Safety court of Judge Edgar A. Jonas.

It was learned that the prisoners had torn a strip of iron from the framework of a mop pail, had divided it into pieces eight inches long and had whetted one edge of each piece to razor sharpness on the stone floor of their cell.

These weapons had been taken to the courtroom in their shoes. They were, supposedly, searched. Warden Frank Sain of the county jail announced last night that hereafter prisoners will be forced to take off their shoes in the search.

Two Suspended for 10 Days.

Sherif Toman, who was absent from the city, ordered that Tierney and Wing be suspended for 10 days. He said he intended to investigate and learn whether they had put up sufficient resistance to the criminals. Later at a conference of officials in the Criminal Courts building, it was ordered that Bailif Green also be suspended, on the ground that he violated a rule by opening the elevator while Judge Feinberg's court was not in session.

As for the prisoners, their escapade had a bad ending. Judge Lewe ordered all those involved into his courtroom and after hearing the stories ruled that the evidence could be used to show what desperate characters the defendants are. Their heads bandaged and their hands strapped to their chairs, the killers listened as the tale was told for the jurors.

Slain Pursuing Gang.

The murder of Policeman McCauley occurred the night of May 29. He and Policeman Brieske had been informed by radio that three robbers in an automobile were holding up stores on the north side. They saw the car, in which Korczykowski Jenkot, and Bogaci were riding, at Wood street and Webster avenue. They pursued, with the men in the car firing back at them, until they reached Wood street and Bloomingdale road, where McCauley was shot and killed.

Shortly after their arrest the three men confessed. They have since decided, it was indicated, to repudiate the confession as having been extorted by violence.

At the trial yesterday afternoon Mrs. Belle Lewis, owner of a poultry store at 4063 Milwaukee avenue, and George Weiss, a butcher at 4234 Fullerton avenue, identified the defendants as the men who robbed them shortly before the killing of McCauley.

TWO BROTHERS AND GIRL TELL HOLDUP SYSTEM

Their quota plan of committing 100 robberies since Jan. 1 was described to the Irving Park police yesterday by two men and a woman who gave their names as Emil Jures, 27 years old, 4822 Lipps avenue; his wife Grace, 20, and his brother, Emanuel, Juresk, 31, of 6676 Albion avenue. The brothers said the family name originally was spelled Juresk.

The goal of the trio was $5 each a day, according to their confessions, and if any one of them exceeded his quota he was excused from further robberies until the others caught up. Most of their victims were taxicab drivers. One of these was Nelson Bryant, 2515 East 72d place, who identified Emil at the police showup last night as the man who robbed him last September.

Emil Jures admitted he was paroled from Pontiac reformatory in 1932 after serving four years of a one to twenty year term for robbery. Police said his brother also has a criminal record. The 6 month old daughter of Emil and his wife is being cared for by Juvenile court authorities.

SNAPSHOTS YOU'LL TREASURE are waiting to be taken this week-end

ARISTOCRAT or alley cat—what snapshots they make.

ANY kitten is a whole litter of snapshot opportunities. Or any puppy. They just naturally think of things to do in front of a Kodak.

Right around home, so many snapshots are waiting to be taken—the ones you'll treasure most. But kittens and puppies grow fast—even boys and girls do that.

How long since you aimed the camera at the grown-up members of your family? Remember, they all change. So don't delay.

This week-end, give your Kodak a workout. Take it on the picnic—the trip—the vacation. Have it along, whatever you're doing. Use it around home, too. The snapshots you'll want tomorrow you must take today. Kodaks as low as $5; Brownies from $1 . . . at your dealer's. . . .

CURLY TOP surveys his world—how the snapshot will be treasured.

Shaken Till Teeth Rattled, Says Film Star.

"Several" Men Visited Her.

Miss Richardson, who last night testified that several women visited Dr. Thorpe overnight in his home, was questioned concerning Miss Astor's activities as hotess to men.

"Has any man visited Miss Astor from May 1 until now?" asked Anderson.

"Several," replied the witness.

"Do you know who they are?"

"Yes, some of them."

Anderson brought up the name of Kaufman again.

"Did George Kaufman ever visit her?"

"I don't know."

The witness testified she was familiar with the name of George Kaufman, but said she did not know him. Kaufman was not further identified.

Playwright "Not Involved."

When advised at his apartment at the Beverly-Wiltshire hotel that his name had been injected into the trial, George Kaufman, the playwright and author of "Merrily We Roll Along," said there is no reason why he should be involved in the Thorpe-Astor action.

"I'm just a friend of Miss Astor," he said, "like hundreds of others in Hollywood. I most certainly am not involved in her difficulties with Dr. Thorpe."

Miss Richardson said from last May until the present, when the child has been staying with her mother, Miss Astor gave parties "every other Sunday."

"Any liquor at the parties?" Anderson queried.

The witness said there was, but added that no one ever became intoxicated and the guests left by 11 o'clock at night, sober.

Alone, but Left by 11.

"Was any man ever alone with Miss Astor when you were there?"

"Mr. Goodrich."

The purpose of Anderson's questioning was to show Miss Astor's fitness or unfitness to care for her child.

Anderson pursued a line of interrogation intended to lead the witness into refuting her previous testimony that Dr. Thorpe was overbearing and rough with his daughter. Then he turned to the subject of Dr. Thorpe as host to women friends.

Miss Richardson testified that Mrs. Lillian Lawton Miles was in the Thorpe home two mornings "between 8 and 10 o'clock."

"Wasn't her son there, too?" asked Anderson.

Can't Remember About That.

Miss Richardson replied that Mrs. Miles' son, age 15, had been in the Thorpe home with his mother, but she could not recall whether he was there on two occasions she mentioned.

Anderson asked a question about Miss Norma Taylor, another guest of Dr. Thorpe, and Judge Knight interrupted:

"Since he was not then a married man it was perfectly all right for him to entertain ladies in his home at dinner, particularly when the baby's nurse was present. And in any event, the primary purpose, so far as I am concerned, is to determine the effect of any of these things—if any—on the welfare of the child."

"Isn't it true that you told several different people you thought Dr. Thorpe was a wonderful man?" the doctor's counsel asked, cross-examining Miss Richardson on her testimony of last night.

"Yes, I did," said the nurse in a low voice. "I do think he's a wonderful man."

Talked to Her Lawyer.

"How many times did you talk to Miss Astor's lawyer, Mr. Woolley, before you came here to testify?"

"Three or four times, I think."

"Well, then is it your observation, or the one he gave you, when you say Marylyn seems more fond of her mother than she is of Dr. Thorpe,"

"That's just the way it seems to me," the nurse declared.

Anderson asked if she did not recall a Saturday afternoon recently when he, Dr. Thorpe and a detective called at the house.

"At that time didn't Marylyn come running joyfully out of the house to the garage as her father drove in?" continued Anderson.

"Yes, because she was told to do that."

"Who told her to?"

"I did. I saw him drive in, and I was dressing upstairs. I told her to go to her father."

WALLACE PREPARES DROUTH REPORT TO HAND TO ROOSEVELT

Washington, D. C., July 30.—(AP)—After a private conference with other officials Secretary Wallace today drafted a picture of the drouth problem and relief efforts for presentation to President Roosevelt at Hyde Park, N. Y., next week.

Officials said that in his report to the President, Secretary Wallace would emphasize the importance of the meeting between the great plains drouth area committee and the planning commission for the Dakotas, Montana, and Wyoming under the chairmanship of W. R. Ronald, Mitchell, S. D., publisher.

The secretary was expected to report to the chief executive that a "well oiled" drouth relief machine is now in gear.

Wallace, officials said, found some conflict between bureaus when he reviewed the government's setup this week and in a secret meeting of interdepartmental leaders mapped a program in which each was allotted definite functions.

EXPECT HEAT TO RETURN TODAY IN DROUTH STATES

4 Die as Colorado Is Hit by Cloudburst.

Omaha, Neb., July 30.—[Special.]—A return of fair weather and higher temperatures was predicted for tomorrow in most of the drouth stricken north central states. Hotter weather was forecast for South Dakota, southern Minnesota, Nebraska, and northwestern Iowa.

Weather men said that rains had relieved the drouth to some extent in western and southern Kansas and southwestern Nebraska. A few light rains were expected in the same area before high temperatures return to the area tomorrow.

In sharp contrast to the drouth was a cloudburst that caused four deaths in Colorado, washed out three sections of a bridge near Deertrail, Colo., 60 miles east of Denver.

Woman Among Victims.

A woman was killed at Walsh, Colo., when wind blew a garage roof on her. A power company employé was electrocuted repairing a broken line near Rocky Ford. A motorist was killed near Longmont when his car was struck by a train during the heavy rain.

A Nashville, Tenn., man was fatally injured when his car overturned after striking a pool of water on a highway between Denver and Colorado Springs.

Water Supply Still in Peril.

Secretary of Interior Harold L. Ickes made public in Washington a geological survey report stating that stream flow throughout the drouth area was still abnormally low and that prospects for domestic and commercial water supplies still were uncertain.

"Precipitation has continued to be subnormal and both surface and ground waters are reported to be approaching previous minimum records," the survey said.

STORM WHIRLS ACROSS GULF ON WAY TO FLORIDA

Pensacola, Fla., July 30.—(AP)—Hurricane warnings blinked through rain squalls along the extreme western Florida and eastern Alabama gulf coast tonight.

A tropical storm slowly whirled its way northwestward through the Gulf of Mexico, kicking up unusually high tides and fanning the west Florida coast line with winds which reached momentary gusts of 50 miles an hour.

Warnings issued yesterday, when the storm first entered the gulf after cutting across extreme southern Florida, sent all ships to cover. This deprived the weather bureau of the usual reports from vessels in the storm's path and caused observers to say they were uncertain where and when the disturbance would touch land once more.

However, the weather bureau's late afternoon advisory said the storm probably would strike the northern gulf coast somewhere between Apalachicola, Fla., and Mobile, Ala., some time tonight. It warned of hurricane winds near the center of the storm and of dangerous high tides all along the coast line.

'KEEP AMERICA FREE' IS KNOX'S GOAL FOR G. O. P.

Throngs Cheer Landon's Running Mate.

other alphabetical agencies, each was treated to a salvo of boos.

From time to time the gathering burst into demonstrations similar to those at national conventions. Col. Knox got an ovation when he appeared. When John Hamilton, red headed national chairman from Kansas, took the rostrum, the roof rang.

Reads Landon Telegram.

A telegram from Gov. Landon was read by Senator Frederick Steiwer of Oregon, who made the notification speech. In this the party nominee for President said:

"May I add to the warm tribute which you are paying tonight to my friend and fellow worker, Col. Frank Knox. The years of our friendship add for me a meaning to our new relationship. They contribute a confidence and an enthusiasm to the work we shall do together in a common cause. The Republican party will gain much strength in this campaign from the experience, the vigor, and the outstanding ability of Col. Knox."

Speech Awaited with Interest.

The Knox acceptance speech had been awaited with interest as blazing the trail for the platform campaign upon which Col. Knox is soon to embark. Next week he opens the Indiana campaign with an address at Connersville.

The Knox dominant note about keeping America a land of free enterprise, instead of the "soft, spineless" paternalism of regimented state, and upholding the American system of government, echoed also in Senator Steiwer's notification speech.

He touched off the applause when he predicted "the greatest political victory in three generations" for the Landon and Knox ticket. His declaration that the Supreme court was the one agency which thwarted New Deal attacks upon enterprise and constitutional government, brought cheers and shouts.

Charges Recovery Delayed.

In his onslaught on the New Deal Col. Knox charged the Roosevelt administration with responsibility for 10 million unemployed and with delaying recovery. He remarked that AAA, NRA, PWA, dollar devaluation, and similar schemes failed in Babylon, Rome, and England centuries ago.

"All the major New Deal experiments have ended in failure and economic loss," he said. He remarked later that "with the election of a new administration, the dammed up forces of recovery will burst forth in a magnificent prosperity."

Gusts of laughter burst out when Col. Knox said the New Deal "began with a proposal for a belt of trees," where nature said no trees could grow, and is ending "with the use of public funds to conduct classes in tap dancing." In its fourth year, he declared, the New Deal fruits were mounting deficits, chaotic currency, swollen expenditures for relief, bloated bank reserves, and millions of people without jobs.

Rendezvous with Receiver.

"The President," he said, "recently told the American people they have a rendezvous with destiny. Under present conditions the most likely rendezvous is with a receiver for the treasury."

As to constitutional government, Col. Knox said, "the G. O. P. recognizes that changing conditions call for an increase in federal activities, but insists these shall be legalized by constitutional amendment."

He took up President Roosevelt's famous remark about "horse and buggy days" after the Supreme court knocked out a New Deal measure.

"The party," he said, "approves the horse and buggy method of changing the constitution, and it disapproves a philosophy that laughs at the horse and buggy method and wants to use only the buggy whip. It does not believe in putting a New Jersey pants presser in jail for charging less than the amount dictated by a board in Washington."

SINGING OPENS PROGRAM

As the Stadium, scene of the Republican and Democratic national conventions of 1932, filled up for the ceremonies there was a period of congregational singing, led by the thundering pipe organ, played by Al Melgaard. In honor to Knox it opened with the song of Spanish-American war days, "There'll Be a Hot Time In the Old Town Tonight." The crowd roared it out at the top of their lungs.

Later, on request of Wayland Brooks, candidate for governor, the organ rumbled into "Onward, Christian Soldiers," the anthem of the Bull Moose in 1912, when both Landon and Knox sported the red bandana. After a few snatches of "Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here," the hall swung into "Adeline, Sweet Adeline."

While the entertainment was proceeding ward delegations streamed into the hall parading with banners and signs bearing the names of the Republican Presidents from Lincoln to Hoover. State and local Republican candidates were also placarded. The parade wound round and round the hall.

"Save America with Landon and Knox," read one banner. The parade was augmented by downstate organizations who sent groups to attend the notification. The band and the organ swelled the marching tunes and the affair began to take on the aspect of a national convention demonstration.

A tremendous burst of cheering billowed up as Col and Mrs. Knox, accompanied by Senator Steiwer, Edward A. Hayes, pre-convention Knox manager, and Mrs. Hayes, took the platform.

Col. Knox smiled and waved at the crowd. The cheers increased. Presently Chairman Chauncey McCormick came to the front of the rostrum. "America" rolled out in a mighty chorus from audience and the platform dignitaries.

Then Clarence J. Brown, former lieutenant governor of Ohio and manager of Col. Knox' campaign, was brought forward to bow to the audience.

The Most Rev. William D. O'Brien, auxiliary bishop of Chicago, pronounced the invocation, closing with the Lord's prayer which the throng repeated reverently with him.

"Tonight our country starts at the crossroads of destiny," he said.

Mr. Hayes was called to the rostrum to preside, and he introduced Rabbi Felix A. Levy, who also pronounced an invocation.

When the prayer was concluded Hayes, a former national commander of the American Legion, addressed the audience.

"Republicanism is synonomous with Americanism," he said in introducing National Chairman Hamilton.

A square jawed, red headed representative of a typical prairie state," Hayes called Hamilton, then pronounced his name, and the youthful Hamilton, grinning widely at the warm response he received, strode to the rostrum.

"This is the second occasion of moment to the people of this country within a week," Hamilton began, referring to the Landon notification at Topeka last week.

"The American people will bring to these men a vaster and more important message on Nov. 3," he continued. "They will be told that they have been elected to the highest executive offices in our land."

There followed warm words for Senator Steiwer, whose introduction evoked another outburst.

Senator Steiwer's speech was brief, but it contained a denunciation of the New Deal as well as an enthusiastic introduction for the vice presidential nominee.

New Parade of Banners.

When Col. Knox's name was pronounced the crowd broke into a storm of applause and the parade of banners about the hall was resumed. At its height Chairman McCormick spied a man in the gallery back of the speakers' platform who waved a faded American flag bearing a sign which read "April 12, 1861." He summoned the man, and the flag was carried to the rostrum and directly behind Col. Knox. The nominee turned, saw the tattered emblem, and saluted smartly.

Finally, the demonstration proceeding far into radio time, both Mr. McCormick and Mr. Hayes came to the front of the platform and endeavored to quiet the crowd so that Col. Knox could start his speech. It was a difficult task, for the throng wanted to demonstrate; but finally, with the aid of voice and gavel, the paraders were started back to their chairs and the nominee was able to proceed.

After Col. Knox had concluded his speech the benediction was pronounced by the Rev. John Timothy Stone of the Fourth Presbyterian church, and the crowd started home after the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner." Col. Knox and Senator Steiwer were escorted to the platform outside the Stadium and spoke briefly to the overflow crowd.

REPUBLICAN WOMEN HOLD RECEPTION

Steiwer Tells Knox He's Type of Leader Needed to Save U. S.

Senator Frederick Steiwer of Oregon, in his notification address to Col. Frank Knox last night, said:

"A convention of Americans at Cleveland, on behalf of the Republican party, nominated for President and for Vice President two distinguished Americans who are sincerely loyal in their belief in America. On this occasion a committee of notification, acting under the authority of that convention, meets with the nominee for Vice President to advise him officially of his nomination and receive from him formal acceptance of its responsibilities. It is my privilege to speak for that committee.

"We bring to you, Col. Knox, not alone a message of notification; we bring also the spirit of firm resolution which actuated the Cleveland convention, and with it a full confidence the nominees there selected will measure up to the responsibilities of this momentous campaign—and in November the ticket of Landon and Knox will achieve for itself and for the American people the greatest political victory in three generations.

Calls New Deal a Faction.

"The gravity of the national situation cannot be overstated. The American way of progress under a plan of free enterprise and the American system of constitutional government have both been ruthlessly attacked. The failure of the incumbent administration to destroy that plan of free enterprise and that constitutional system is due only to the refusal of a great people to be regimented and to a Supreme court which faithfully adhered to the basic law—the constitution of the United States.

"The New Deal is not a political party. It is a political faction which has abandoned the traditions and repudiated the principles of a great political party. This faction has been willing to wager untried theories against the safety of our institutions and the welfare of our people. The final net result is fourteen billion dollars increased public debt and eleven million still unemployed.

Country's Safety at Stake.

"The safety and well-being of our country is not promoted by New Deal policies in which first consideration is given to any special groups or classes. Much less is our well-being promoted by would-be political royalists who, to perpetuate their own power, are willing to array class against class in a nation which has never recognized class.

"The safety and well-being of our country will be promoted in the soundest and most permanent way by fair consideration of the needs of all groups, including those great groups of men and women who do the day's work on the farms, and in the factories and offices.

Change in Leadership Needed.

"If the destitute are to be adequately cared for, fair consideration must be given to the problems of these great groups. If they are permitted to produce and to prosper they will save America—even from the rash experiments and the alien philosophies of inexperienced theorists.

"The imperative need of this hour is to rid our country of leadership which lacks understanding of these elementary facts.

"For the leadership we cast out we propose to substitute leadership which comes from the people themselves; it will completely administer the government's business because it knows the meaning of business; it will furnish economical administration because it shares the people's knowledge of the value of a dollar.

"And above all, it will be an American leadership because its very origin is American.

Nominee a Typical American.

"The Republican nominee for Vice President typifies the American spirit of earnest enterprise. He has served his country in many capacities. Twice he gave up his personal career to bear arms for his country in time of war.

"In the present emergency his faith remained unshaken when others doubted. He steadfastly refused to be intimidated into a defeatist attitude.

"Col. Knox, you were honored at the Cleveland convention not only because of your high character and your achievements, great as they are, but also because in the past three years you have demonstrated unusual talent for leadership of the kind America now needs.

"We know that you will fully meet this responsibility. In responding to this call you may be assured your labor will be shared by a host of militant American citizens who, like you, are devoted to America. With the aid of this great host the invincible efforts of Gov. Landon and yourself will lead to victory in November."

CANDIDATE GREETED BY WOMAN, 90, WHO MARCHED FOR LINCOLN

Among those who greeted Col. Frank Knox at the Stadium last night was Mrs. Eleanor Gridley, 90 years old, 1509 East 61st street, who carried torches in the parades that went with the campaign of Abraham Lincoln for the presidency in 1860.

"America needs you and Gov. Landon in this time of crisis," Mrs. Gridley told Col. Knox. "There is a call again for men who will preserve the constitution. I feel safe in predicting overwhelming success for the Republican party this fall."

MRS. KNOX WINS PRAISE OF 1,500 WOMEN AT PARTY

Welcomes Workers to G. O. P. Cause.

BY MARCIA WINN.

Mrs. Frank Knox, a gracious but firm avoider of the limelight, yesterday made her first political utterance in almost twenty years.

Not since she led the women of Michigan and New Hampshire in the suffrage battle some two decades ago has the wife of the Republican vice presidential nominee voiced her own opinions in public.

Nor did she yesterday, when she appeared at a reception given in her honor by the Woman's National Republican club of Chicago at the Drake hotel. She did not say "I think" or "I believe," but by the quiet ardor of her voice she impelled 1,500 women, Republicans and Democrats alike, to rise in fervent applause.

Accepts Gesture Impersonally.

"I appreciate this charming and gracious gesture today," she said, holding her large corsage in which the sunflowers of Kansas mingled brightly with the violets of Illinois, "for I know that you are here with one great purpose.

"You are here to pledge anew your loyalty to the Republican party, to reaffirm your fealty to the popular government and individual liberty for which our country stands and to perfect the organization of Republicans.

"And," she added, in her low voice, "it makes me very happy to share in your enthusiasm and devotion."

Mrs. Knox, demure in navy blue triple sheer with white gardenias at her throat and a small navy turban trimmed with pale pink crushed flowers and a veil, spoke only briefly, but voiced succinctly what Republican women leaders from all sections of the country had been expressing during the day.

Women Anxious to Work.

Mrs. Worthington Scranton of Scranton, Pa., eastern vice chairman of the Republican national committee, expressed the feminine feeling more graphically.

"Did you ever before in a political campaign see a group of women furious in the middle of July because they did not have every utensil of work?" she demanded of the women.

"I just finished a tour of the east," she said, "and the most important question was, 'Where can I get sunflowers?' Well, we know that without coördinated effort in the ranks to get out and vote on Nov. 3, the sunflowers will wither and die.

"I want a house to house canvass of the United States of America for Landon and Knox.

"There can never be anything exclusive in politics—and this election depends upon the great reservoir of votes which has never been touched."

And so it went. What had been intended to be a tea became a report meeting. Mrs. Henry A. Thomas of Wisconsin said she had brought a score of Democratic women to the notification ceremonies with her. Congresswoman Edith Nourse Rogers of Massachusetts predicted that "every New England state will be carried for our ticket."

Mrs. Hoyal Gives Party.

Mrs. Robert Lincoln Hoyal, assistant chairman of the national committee, gave a luncheon at the Congress hotel. It was supposed to be a social affair. There, too, the women leaders settled right down to business.

"The women in the east are so enthusiastic that we've decided the band wagon and the covered wagon are synonymous," declared Miss Natalie Couch, director of women's activity for the eastern division.

Mrs. V. E. Stenerson, national committeewoman from North Dakota, arose. "We've a presidential candidate [Lemke]," she reported, "but we're electing Landon."

Mrs. Bertha Baur, sunflowers and wheat sprays on her hat, arose. "Ninety days is all we have left in which to win this campaign," she said. "That's a long time for a short pull but a short time for a long pull."

Objections to Kenilworth Power Petition Sustained

Judge George N. Blatt of Joliet, sitting in County court here, yesterday sustained objections to a petition requesting a special referendum in Kenilworth to decide whether the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois should be permitted to run a high power line through the village. The objections were on the ground that the petition did not bear the addresses of the nineteen persons who signed it.

PLEDGES RETURN TO SOUND GOVERNMENT BY G. O. P.

In his address accepting the Republican nomination for Vice President in the Chicago Stadium last night, Col. Frank Knox said:

"Senator Steiwer, fellow citizens:

"You have heard the eloquent words of that stalwart statesman from our sister state of Oregon, Senator Steiwer. You have heard him convey to me the official notification of my nomination by the Republican party for the high office of Vice President of the United States. You have heard his clear call to all citizens to join in a crusade for sound government in America. You have heard his friendly and flattering references to me.

"It becomes my privilege and my duty to accept this call to service. I am deeply conscious of the personal honor that has been conferred on me by the Republican party. I am deeply conscious also of the responsibility that rests on me to bear this honor worthily. But I am, above all, conscious of the opportunity for service. Even above and beyond my profound appreciation of the honor and the responsibility that have been given me is my appreciation of the opportunity to serve not only my party but my country.

A Principle of Life.

"It is customary in acknowledgements of this kind to avoid personal reference. Tonight I am going to depart briefly from that custom. I am a working man. I have always worked. I began to work as a small boy in a small town in Michigan.

"Throughout my life I have followed one guiding principle. That principle was to do as best I could the job that lay before me. That principle carried me into life and work in a fine New England town. It took me into difficult and responsible work in the great city of New York. It carried me into the service of my country in two wars. It brought me to my work and my home in the great city of Chicago, the metropolis of a great state in a great middle west empire.

"And I am moved tonight by a realization that in this crusade for the restoration of sound government in our land there is before me the greatest opportunity for service that has ever come to me. Long years ago I learned as a buck private the lessons of duty and of loyalty. In the years that have passed I have learned the equally important lesson that the greatest achievement of any man is service to his fellow citizens.

ACCEPTS PARTY'S CALL

"In this spirit of service I accept the call of my party. I pledge my loyalty to the principles of the Republican party. I pledge my loyalty to the policies laid down at the Cleveland convention. I pledge myself to the principles of sound and honest government. I pledge my personal loyalty to that great governor of a prairie state, the next President of the United States, the Hon. Alf Landon.

"It is no ordinary campaign that confronts us. It is no ordinary political choice that the country must make next November. In this presidential campaign, as in every other, it is for the nation to decide whether the administration in office has performed its duty.

"There is always the question whether the administration in office has met its responsibilities honestly and fairly and wisely. There is always the question whether it has fulfilled the stewardship entrusted to it and earned thereby a renewal of its direction of government for four more years. In every election the people must decide whether they shall say: 'Well done, thou good and faithful servant.'

"In this first and ordinary issue the present administration is found wanting. It has failed to meet its responsibility for the orderly, economical, and impartial administration of the affairs of the nation.

Given Opportunity for Service.

"More than three years ago the present administration took command of the American government. No administration in the history of the nation has had so glorious an opportunity. The country had already begun to emerge from the bottom pit of a grievous world depression, caused by a calamitous world war. A sore and wounded nation needed pathetically a wise and farseeing government. The millions of stagnant enterprises needed only the encouragement of sensible government policies to take on renewed life. A stricken agriculture needed only the encouragement of sound agricultural policies and wise legislative assistance. The timid beginnings of renewed investment needed only the encouragement of sound laws of banking and credit.

"The spirit of American enterprise, discouraged by vanished markets and reduced consumption, needed only the encouragement of economy and moderation and helpfulness in government. No administration in our history since Lincoln's time has had so grand an opportunity to lend aid to a distressed people.

HAREBRAINED EXPERIMENTS

"The present administration in the winter of 1933 had just one immediate responsibility to meet. That responsibility was to promote the little flame of recovery that had begun to burn in the summer of 1932, before the blessings of a New Deal were even imagined.

"The present administration had just one job to perform. That job was to carry out a program that would enable American enterprise to put twelve million unemployed back at work, twelve million men and women workers who were the unhappy and helpless victims of a world depression for which this nation was not responsible.

"The present administration had just one moral obligation to keep. That obligation was to fulfill the solemn promises of economy and moderation with which it lured the people in the campaign of 1932.

Assails New Deal Experiments.

"How did it meet that responsibility? How did it do that job? How did it keep that moral obligation? From the day that it took office it embarked on a series of hysterical experiments on the economic life of a burdened people. At a time when universal coöperation was a necessity it initiated a campaign of abuse and vilification of business men.

"At a time when the credit of the country should have been strengthened it inaugurated a policy of credit adulteration and currency experiment that demoralized foreign trade and frightened domestic finance. It set up a system of regimentation of industry that reduced production and prevented reëmployment.

"By coercion of congress it forced the passage of reform measures so recklessly drawn that they hamstrung the revival of enterprise and paralyzed the renewal of investment. It installed a regimentation of agriculture that destroyed food and reduced foreign markets and increased the cost of living and multiplied the expense of relief.

A Policy of Squandering.

"At a time when private industry was struggling desperately for a new start it set up governmental enterprise to compete with private business. At a time when the burden of taxation was already hard to bear it embarked on a policy of squandering public funds and increasing the weight of taxes.

"At a time when united effort and mutual good-will would have completed recovery it promoted sectional hatred and class strife. At a time when returning business confidence was ending depression it began a campaign to terrorize business and subjugate the banks. At a time when confidence in the character of government was vital, it established a spoils system.

"At a time when the economic system was worn and emaciated it performed major surgical operations upon the industrial body to see what was inside. It adopted an economic philosophy of scarcity and forced it upon a hungry and distressed people.

Recovery Needlessly Impeded.

"The present administration ignored its responsibility, failed in its job, defaulted in its obligation. I do not need to tell you the results. The inevitable recovery could not be permanently blocked by governmental error. It is still on its way. But it was retarded and discouraged. And we slowly emerge from its thralls with the menaces of governmental insolvency and nondescript currency and business disturbance shadowing the future.

"You see the results in the fourth year of mounting deficits, in the chaotic condition of our currency, in the bloated reserves of our banks, in the swollen expenditures for relief. Above all, you see the results in the millions still unemployed.

"I charge the present administration with delaying recovery, in the United States and in the world. I charge the present administration with responsibility for the ten millions still unemployed. It would not be truthful to say that all the measures of the present administration have been failures.

"In the mad whirl of economic experiments there have been a few sound and desirable measures of regulation. That must be freely conceded. But in the major measures of recovery and in the task of administration it has failed completely. It has not kept faith with the nation. It has not fulfilled the duties of its stewardship. On this one issue, that it has not conducted the affairs of government efficiently and economically, it should be condemned and rejected by the people.

GOVERNMENT BY GUESS

"This endless succession of interferences and experiments was inaugurated under the deceptive slogan of a New Deal. This policy of government by guess, officially explained by President Roosevelt as founded on a philosophy of try-anything-once, was initiated under the title of economic planning. No one of its proponents has even been able to define the New Deal or to explain what it is aimed at or where it is going. No one of them has been able to make clear what the economic plan is. It began with a proposal for a belt of trees in a territory that nature had decided should not have trees. It is ending with the use of public funds to conduct classes in tap dancing.

"No one can explain the New Deal, or economic planning, but every one knows what came from it. The major measures were the NRA, the AAA, the PWA, the CWA, the WPA, and devaluation of the dollar. Such measures are not new. They were old in history before America was discovered. They failed in Babylon and Rome and England centuries ago.

"Not one of these New Deal measures is mentioned in the 1936 platform of the Democratic party. There is no reference to the fate of these strange experiments. There is no reference in all that platform to the New Deal or to economic planning. But in this omission they are entirely consistent. There was no mention of them in the 1932 platform either. They are a strange interlude between the solemn promises of the 1932 platform and the vague generalizations of the 1936 platform.

Republicans Obey Constitution.

"It is constantly asserted that the Republican party has always stood for a strong federal government. The assertion is correct. It still stands for a vigorous federal authority. But it advocates this authority within the limits set by the constitution. It has always exercised that authority by legislation constitutionally passed and constitutionally executed. It always will. It has always executed that authority without passing the boundaries of state rights and local self-government.

"The Republican party recognizes that changing social and economic conditions call for increased federal activities. But it always insists that such new activities shall be legalized by proper constitutional amendment. It always will. It approves the horse-and-buggy method of changing the constitution, and it disapproves a philosophy that laughs at the horse-and-buggy method and wants to use only the buggy whip.

"It condemns the abuse of federal power to invade local rights. It does not believe in putting a New Jersey pants presser in jail for charging less than the amount dictated by a board in Washington. It disapproves a government of men instead of a government of law. It prefers a government guided by constitutions to a government guided only by caprice.

Clear, Precise Commitments.

"The Republican platform of 1936 lays down in simple language the program of federal regulation and legislation to which it commits itself on many issues. Where the specific program is not definitly outlined the details will be presented in the coming campaign.

"On certain matters Gov. Landon made the issues clear in his telegram to the Cleveland convention. In his acceptance speech one week ago he presented specific policies in reference to other important issues. Whatever concrete measures the Republican party has in mind will be presented to the voters before election, not after. And whatever measures the Republican administration may urge upon congress, not one will flout the constitution of the United States. Not one will violate the obligation of contracts. Not one will break a promise.

A TRULY BASIC ISSUE

"I have already said that this is no ordinary campaign. On the mere issue of efficiency in administration the present government stands convicted of failure. But there is a larger issue, an issue that goes to the heart of American life. It is the issue of the kind of economic system the American people will live by.

"For more than three years the economic life of the country has been at the mercy of a crew of amateur experimenters, hacking at the vitals of American industry, agriculture, commerce and finance. Driven by a fanatic impulse to shape our economic structure to their fantastic designs, they have usurped the powers of congress, insulted the authority of the courts, invaded the powers of the states, and undermined the institutions of local self-government.

"As one experiment after another has ended in ignominious failure or repudiation by the courts, new experiments have been attempted, from laws to put producers of potatoes in jail to proposals to cut Florida in two.

"Driven to desperation by failure, the present administration undertook to gamble with fate. Realizing that recovery was inevitable, in time, it undertook to overcome the depressing effects of its experiments by an artificial prosperity to be created by the squandering of public funds. It is now a race between the exhaustion of federal credit and the coming of natural recovery. It is a race between inflation and the revival of normal business activity. The race is not yet decided.

Dabbling and Meddling.

"The fundamental issue is now clear. No one can define the New Deal or even describe it. But we know what it means. It means federal control over local business, over local bank credit, over local wages, over local conditions of work. It leads to federal regimentation of the labor, the business, and the home of every American citizen. It leads to price fixing and production control by federal authority. It leads inevitably to the extinction of the small business man, to the end of free enterprise in America.

"There is no half-way house in which American enterprise can take shelter. The coercive control of bank credit leads unavoidably to control of investment and that leads to the end of competitive industry and free enterprise. The country must choose between the regimentation of the economic life of 130 million people by politically appointed federal burocrats and the continuance of the American system of free enterprise under a government of constitutional powers.

History Blazons the Answer.

"It is not a question whether federal regimentation of the economic life of a great nation can be successful or not. It is the verdict of history, from Diocletian in Rome to Mr. Roosevelt in Washington, that no one man can successfully guide the course of industry for a great nation.

"All the major New Deal experiments have ended in failure and economic loss. There are known and true principles of economic life. There are, for that matter, competent economists, if you will look for them outside of Washington.

"There are limits to the ability of government to regiment the economic life of a people. When it blindly passes these limits, it does not encourage industrial production; it destroys it. Such interference always encounters a drouth or some other force beyond the control even of a New Dealer.

"There are limits beyond which federal regimentation should not go, even if it could be efficient. When it passes these limits it destroys personal initiative and individual liberty. The American people do not want federal regimentation of their economic activities even if it could be efficient and fair. As Al Smith has expressed it, the American people do not want a dictator, not even if they could get a good one.

RECOVERY VS. RHETORIC

"Here we have the issue that must be decided next November. It is whether the American people shall have an orderly and economical government recognizing the limitations of federal power or a government determined to reorganize the American economic system by experiment.

"We know what the decision will be. The people want recovery, not rhetoric. They want economy, not waste. They want work, not relief. They want coöperation among the partners in production, not industrial strife. They want order in economic life, not an occasional breathing spell. They want dignity in government, not a merry-go-round.

"They do not believe that all bankers are scoundrels, that all employers are exploiters, that all business men are motivated by greed, that all working people are victims of oppression. They do not believe that the American system was a failure until the New Deal came along to save it from its sins. They do not believe that American industry is a jungle of cutthroat competition dominated by intrenched greed.

"The people know that with the election of a new administration next November the dammed-up forces of recovery will burst forth in a magnificent prosperity.

"The people know that in man's long and troubled journey through the ages he has faced flood and famine, pestilence and drouth, conquest and slavery, tyranny and injustice, poverty and depression. They know that he has overcome these savage enemies through his unrelenting determination to work out his own economic salvation. Poverty and insecurity are not yet exterminated in our land. Economic hardship and economic injustice are not yet eliminated.

"But in the United States, in the last hundred years, the American people have come nearer to these goals than any other people anywhere in history. Grave pioneering and hard work and patient saving have made this the richest and fairest civilization in history. It has not been made by sleight-of-hand tricks.

"With the American system preserved, we shall in due time have a free people, living in plenty and security, without exploitation or destitution. The American people are not going to surrender this prospect to the regimentation of visionaries and amateur economic planners. They are not going to exchange our economic system for the rainbow millennium of political magicians.

"A DATE WITH DESTINY"

"The President has recently told the American people that they have a rendezvous with destiny. As I understand the term, a rendezvous is a date. What is this rendezvous? Under present conditions, the most likely rendezvous is with a receiver for the treasury.

"After the acceptance by the people of the promises of the 1932 platform, what unexpected rendezvous did the people have? They had a rendezvous with the NRA. They had a rendezvous with Farleyism. They had a rendezvous with the tax collectors. The American people want no rendezvous with a destiny plotted on blue prints in a Washington office. When they have a date with destiny they want to know what the lady looks like. They want to have a word to say about it.

Free Enterprise at Stake.

"The issue before the country is the preservation of free enterprise. On this issue the Republican party appeals to the whole people. It appeals to the millions of sincere Democrats who have been outraged by the appearance of un-American practices in the garb of ancient Democratic principles.

"It appeals to the millions of thrifty and hard working people whose patiently accumulated savings in life insurance and savings accounts are jeopardized by the reckless spending of the present administration. It appeals to the millions of business men who have for years faced the adversities of depression and are now facing the regimenter and the tax gatherer.

"It appeals to the real forgotten men and women of the nation, the millions of workers in agriculture and personal service and small enterprise who have been ignored in all the pretense of social legislation of the New Deal. It appeals to the women of America, who have borne the hardest blows of depression and unemployment and now face the problems of household management under a rising cost of living in an economy of scarcity.

G. O. P. Has No Cure-Alls.

"The Republican party does not promise to solve all these problems that you face. It has no patent nostrums to cure every economic ill. There is no royal road to the solution of all our economic problems. But the Republican party does make certain promises.

"It does promise a fair and honest government. It does promise that this government will be as economical and efficient as it can be made. It does promise to make every effort to install sensible and practical measures to help in the solution of the problems of trade and industry and agriculture, the problems of poverty and insecurity.

"Above all, it promises you that in its efforts to aid in these problems it will not prevent you from trying to work out your individual and personal problems for yourselves, with your own ambitions, your own enterprise, and your own energies.

THE PRICE OF PROGRESS

"Through the two thousand years of Christian civilization the price of progress has been sacrifice. Three hundred years ago our forefathers could have purchased safety, but at the price of liberty. They could have remained safe in England and left the new world to be conquered by others.

"The men who signed the Declaration of Independence could have lived safely as colonists in the British empire, but not as free men. Seventy years ago our fathers could have avoided civil war at the price of a disrupted Union. They all preferred sacrifice to safety.

"Again we reach a point where the blazes along the trail run out. Two ways lie ahead. One lies along the apparently easy valleys of a regimented society, maintained by a paternalistic government which falsely promises to provide its subjects with a security that men were wont to purchase in the past by their own efforts. The other lies along the rugged heights of self-support, self-government, and self-respect.

The American Way of Life.

"Which will we choose? We know the path our fathers chose. More often than not the right way of life is not the easy way. Because we have always taken the self-reliant way, the self-respecting way, American character has emerged as our greatest national asset.

"Take from us every vestige of three hundred years of progress, leave only the raw materials that God placed here, give us the American character, and we would swiftly reconstruct here a civilization as great as that we have today. America is too young, too vigorous to be deceived by false promises of an easy way.

"And so I preach to you the doctrin not of the soft and spineless kept citizen of a regimented state but of the self-respecting and self-reliant men who made America. Which way shall we go? The answer is in your hands. I know what it will be. Next November you will choose the American way."

Too Tired to Walk Over Lawnmower; Pushes It Off

Tulsa, Okla., July 30.—(AP)—"I didn't steal the lawnmower," George Tipton, colored, explained to Judge A. A. Hatch. "I stumbled over it and I was too lazy to walk around it—so I just pushed it away."

TYPICAL PRAIRIE THRONG BOOMS KNOX APPROVAL

Demonstration Holds Up Ceremony.

BY JOSEPH ATOR.

Typical citizens of "typical prairie states"—some 30,000 of them—thundered their approval inside and outside the Chicago Stadium last evening as Col. Frank Knox, Republican nominee for Vice President of the United States, accepted the commission of his party.

It was a central western crowd rather than purely a Chicago crowd. Chicagoans were there by the thousands to honor their fellow townsman, but in the conversation of the throng one could detect also the almost southern drawl of Egyptian Illinois and southern Indiana, the baritones of the Illinois and Iowa corn belts.

Radio Technicians Astonished.

It was a happy crowd, and above all, a confident one. And its spirit was spontaneous. Here was no well regimented machine enthusiasm, as the radio engineers discovered to their sorrow. The appearance of Col. Knox, following his notification by Senator Frederick Steiwer of Oregon, was the signal for a demonstration which could not be stilled.

Chairman Chauncey McCormick and Edward A. Hayes, Col. Knox's manager, attempted to quiet it, well aware that valuable minutes were going to waste on four national radio hookups. But the crowd was not to be denied its cheers, and ten minutes had passed, the great Stadium organ had roared through "Oh! Susanna" two or three times before Col. Knox was able to speak.

Young Republicans Gather.

The Young Republicans, new blood in the old party, were out in force. They flocked in, several thousand of them, from downstate counties and neighboring states to their headquarters in the Hotel Sherman. Mostly they arrived before noon, combining a holiday with business, and were off in gay crowds to the baseball game.

But it was business which brought them to town—serious political business. By 5 o'clock or a little later they were back at their rendezvous. Conversation quickly turned from Vernon Kennedy and the White Sox. Charming wives in their middle twenties and early thirties and their husbands, spruce in summer whites and tans, began exchanging opinions on the strength of Landon and Knox, and Otis Glenn and Wayland Brooks in their home counties.

Hamilton Busy With Leaders.

Over at the Hotel La Salle the leaders of the party were busy. John Hamilton, national chairman, held a conference with Chester Bolton, chairman of the Republican congressional campaign committee. Candidate Knox ate a buffet supper with the members of the official notification committee.

Meanwhile in the streets of the west side other Republican workers were rallying. These were the Chicago ward workers, grouped under the banners of their ward organizations. Times have been hard for the Republicans out in the wards, what with the Democrats running all the local offices and the WPA, too. But you would not have guessed it to see these workers swinging in toward the Stadium singing behind bands, brandishing signs, and blaring away on horns.

Street after street yielded its procession. There were to have been four parades. By the time the Stadium was reached, so dense was the automobile trafic that they seemed to have split into twice that many.

People Inside Are Serious.

Within the great bunting-draped hall the seats began to fill early, particularly the 7,500 which had been left open for the general public.

Here was still another type of crowd. Middle aged folk predominated—people with youngsters in high school, or home on vacation from Champaign or Ann Arbor or Madison. Thrifty people, by their dress and manner, with homes of their own and life insurance to worry about as talk of inflation grows. They applauded, politely, at the entertainment given by radio and stage folk, but they were not there to celebrate. They were waiting, they showed by their manner, to hear what Col. Knox had to say.

Above their heads, at one end of the Stadium, hung a big sign. "There are only 96 days left to save your country. Join THE VOLUNTEERS." It was the appeal of the organization with headquarters on the 17th floor of the Tribune Tower to private citizens to work and talk against the dangers of the New Deal.

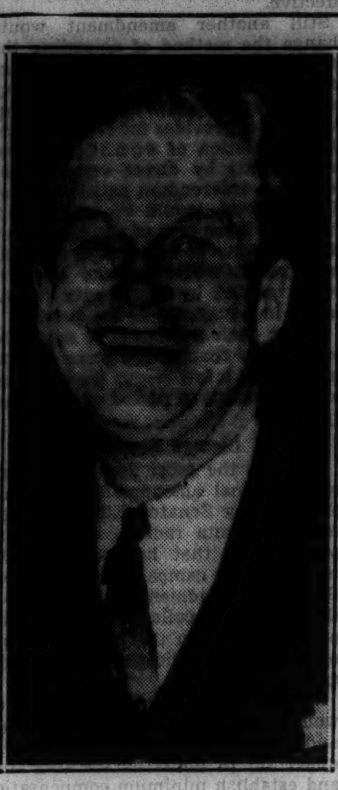
Balloons Greet Col. Knox.

Within the Stadium the program of professional entertainment was run off. When Col. Knox and his party arrived shortly before 9 o'clock, to be greeted by the release of hundreds of small balloons bearing American flags, every seat was taken.

Five thousand more sat in the open air theater outside, to which the public address system carried the speeches. Some of the paraders, arriving behind schedule, had to be content with places there. Other delegates, resplendent in sunflower badges and waving tickets, were met at the doors by police who reminded them that reserved seats had been thrown open to the public an hour before. They, too, joined the outer throng, which was augmented by several thousands more standing in the streets.

After the speaking, as Col. Knox left the hall, giant searchlights sent their bright shafts toward the sky. Along the street below the Young Republicans were waiting for the final tableau of the ceremony. Bright flares in hand, they lined the street for several blocks as the official party drove away. The celebration was over and the Republicans of Chicagoland departed for the work of the campaign.

HE ALSO SPEAKS



John Hamilton, Republican national chairman, took part in the notification of Col. Knox by introducing Senator Steiwer to the throng at Chicago Stadium.

HAMILTON LOOKS AHEAD TO NOV. 3 —AND VICTORY

Introduces Steiwer at G. O. P. Ceremonies.

John Hamilton, chairman of the Republican national committee, in introducing Senator Frederick Steiwer of Oregon at the Knox notification ceremonies last night said:

"This is the second occasion of moment in the history of the Republican party within the short space of a week.

"It was but last Thursday that Gov. Landon was formally notified that he had been chosen to lead the fight for the preservation of the American form of government. Tonight we are assembled to hear that an eminent citizen of the state of Illinois is to be the second in command.

A Forecast of Victory.

"It is not my honor personally to bear that message, but it is my privilege to say to you that from every indication the American people will, on the third day of November, bring to these gentlemen another and vastly more important message—a message that will be a clear and decisive answer to those who would repudiate constitutional government and substitute for it a dictatorial, wasteful burocracy—and our people will at the same time advise Gov. Landon and Col. Knox that they have been elected to the highest executive offices in our land.

"I can think of no one better fitted to bring the formal notification to Col. Knox than our distinguished guest of the evening. For many years he has served the people of the state of Oregon with a diligent public service—a service that was only broken when in 1917 he answered another call and for one and a half years was a member of the armed forces of his country.

Wins Another Senate Term.

"In appreciation of the services he had made and of the services he had rendered the people of his state elected him to the United States senate in 1926. His record for six years in that body merited his return and in 1932 he was so rewarded. It was his voice that sounded the first official protest of his party, for he was our keynoter at the Cleveland convention.

"It is with a sense of pride that I present to you Senator Frederick Steiwer of Oregon."

NOTIFICATION NOTES

Twelve gay yellow sunflower hats shone high in the balcony at the Knox notification ceremonies in the Chicago Stadium last night. They adorned the heads of the twelve "sunflower girls" of the Niles Township Republican club, all of whom wore grass green sweaters to complete the impression of sunflowers growing in the Stadium.

Tiny Ellen Augusta Conlon, who is 5 years old and about 2 feet high, regarded the vast gathering with wide brown eyes as she sat beside her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William F. Conlon, 1922 West Adams street. "But, mama," she protested, "the Republicans can't all be dead like that man told us!" Ellen, her mother explained, is only 5, "but already a stanch Republican."

Mrs. Frank Knox, wearing a dinner dress of flowered yellow and brown [sunflower] chiffon, a small black hat, and pearls, and carrying a sable cape, sat smilingly beside National Chairman John Hamilton while her husband made his acceptance speech. She dimpled with pleasure when, at the close of the ceremony, a long line of ushers strode up to present her with bouquet after bouquet of flowers.

Col. Knox, although wearing no sunflowers on his lapel, put one to good use when handed a mighty double flower—a real one. He twirled it and waved it. He, too, showed dimples when a tattered American flag, labeled "April 12, 1861," was held up behind him on the rostrum.

The Cleveland convention slogan of "three long years," first employed by Senator Steiwer in his keynote speech there, was changed somewhat last night for the parade of banners. In its place were banners blazoning forth in red, white, and blue—"Three Wrong Years."

A majority of the women attending the ceremony wore a single ornament on their hats, a sunflower. Many wore corsages of fresh sunflowers. A few even wore leis of them around their necks.

Chairman Chauncey McCormick, a "Save America" button in his lapel, wanted the broadcast of the evening's proceedings to open with the lusty singing of "America." Due to a slight error in timing, the mighty audience had to sing the first verse three times before the 9 p. m. broadcasts began.

The Stadium was as colorful without as within, for huge red flares shot up into the night sky from the four cornices of the building, while searchlights played continuously against the open air theater, where 10,000 outdoor spectators regarded a 20 foot portrait of Col. Knox as they listened to his words over the public address system.

MANITOBA VOTE PERILS HOLD OF LIBERAL PARTY

WINNIPEG, Man., July 30.—(AP)—With eight seats undecided in the Manitoba provincial election, Premier John Bracken needed tonight to win all of them to assure him a bare majority in the next legislature.

The government had twenty-one members elected against a combined opposition of twenty-six. It needed all of the six seats still doubtful and the two in which election was deferred to enable it to elect a speaker and dominate the combined opposition groups.

It was conceded the government's Liberal-Progressives would again have the strongest single group in the house, however. The lineup of parties was: Liberal-Progressives, 21; Conservatives, 14; Social Credit, 4; Co-operative Commonwealth federation, 4; Independents, 3, and communist, 1.

GAMBLING CHARGES DISMISSED.

Charges of gambling against Oscar Olson, 1204 North Wells street, and William Gutheman, 55 East Superior street, seized in a raid on a cigar store at 111 East Walton place on Wednesday, were dismissed by Judge Leon Edelman yesterday because the police lacked search warrants.

Australian Boy, Nail Out of Lung, Sees Sights of N. Y.

New York, July 30.—[Special.]—Kelvin Rodgers, 3, Australian boy who traveled 9,000 miles to Philadelphia, Pa., to have a nail removed from his lung, today was seeing the sights of New York before sailing on Saturday for Australia. Recovered from the operation, by which the nail was removed from his right lung in seven minutes, the boy exhibited an extraordinary interest in all kinds of mechanism, especially at the NBC radio studios. As a diversion he tried to stand on his head.

LANDON REPLIES TO CRITICISM ON LABOR POLICIES

that I am in favor of infringing in any way the right of free speech or free assembly. I am opposed to any such infringement. The workers have the right to meet among themselves or with others of their own choice to promote organization with complete freedom from interference from any one whatsoever. The workers should be fully protected in this right by the public authorities. This necessarily includes the right of a labor union to promote by lawful and proper means the organization of an unorganized industry, which includes the right to send in an organizer.

Recalls Action in Kansas.

"In connection with the only serious labor disturbance that has occurred in Kansas, during my term as governor, in Cherokee county in June and July 1935, I acceded to a request, jointly preferred by the sherif and prosecuting attorney of Cherokee county that I send troops to maintain order. I instructed the troops through the adjutant general of Kansas to maintain order, to disarm all armed civilians, including the armed guards employed by the smelter and mine operators, and those that may have been armed in behalf of the labor groups.

"Guards on mine and smelter properties carrying deputy constable commissions were obliged to give up those deputy commissions. They were not permitted to carry arms off the private property where they were employed as watchmen. The troops were further instructed to preserve the peace, and secure the execution of all laws of the state of Kansas. Gunmen from other states who had made it a practice to threaten striking workers in Kansas were forced to stay out of the state.

Picketing Protected.

"The troops, however, were directed not to interfere with labor meetings and other activities of the strikers, so long as they were peaceably conducted. This included picketing, and both meetings and pickets were protected from possible violence of any kind.

"My action in this instance protected the workers in the right of free speech and free assembly.'

THOMAS COMMENTS

New York, July 30.—[Special.]—Norman Thomas, Socialist presidential candidate, said late today it appeared that Alf M. Landon in stating his position concerning organization of workers "has recognized as legitimate the activities of the committee on industrial organization and of the Southern Tenant Farmers association."

"Mr. Landon seems to have cleared up the specific inquiry in my letter to him," Thomas said. "I wish he had applied it specifically to the campaign of the committee on industrial organization in the steel areas and of the Southern Tenant Farmers association in the south.

"There remain the questions of the company union and the Wagner labor law. These I intend to discuss in a speech at Allentown, Pa., next Sunday."

50 PEACE CHAMPIONS BRING PETITIONS IN CALL ON GOV. LANDON

Topeka, Kas., July 30.—[Special.]—Fifty determined advocates of peace, led by Miss Mabel Vernon, campaign director for the People's Mandate to Governments to End War, marched upon Gov. Alf M. Landon's office today bearing petitions signed by a million citizens and advocating various methods of ending war.

Senator Arthur Capper presented the group to Gov. Landon, who listened to their spokesmen and then thanked them for coming to see him and congratulated them upon "the way you have presented this matter of so great concern to us all."

Kansas, Colorado, Mississippi, Pennsylvania, Nebraska, and the District of Columbia were represented among the delegates.

"If you are elected to the highest office in the United States," Mrs. C. W. Rodewald, Missouri chairman of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom, told Gov. Landon, "we shall rely on you to take the leadership in securing immediate reductions in appropriations for war."

C. C. Cogswell, president of the Kansas State grange, said that the grange has gone on record as being opposed even to picture shows that place glamor on war, and also opposes any personal, private corporation, or individual profit in war."

W. E. Childress, state legislative chairman of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, said that forty labor organizations were circulating the mandate petition.

The St. Louis committee was represented by Dale R. Johnson. They are for stringent taxation of war profits, nationalization of munitions industry, and strict neutrality legislation.

BOTH PARTIES IN MICHIGAN MOVE TO SEEK ACCORD

Lansing, Mich., July 30.—[Special.]—Republicans and Democratic leaders moved today to bring about harmony in their parties on the eve of the 1936 political campaigns.

Lieut. Gov. Thomas Read, a thorn in the side of the Republican administration during the last session of the state legislature, announced a truce with Gov. Frank D. Fitzgerald.

At the same time Edward J. Fry, new chairman of the Democratic state central committee, revealed he would try to reënlist former Gov. William A. Comstock as leader of the party in this state. Comstock recently "took a walk" from his party.

"I can't watch Comstock kicking around on the sidelines after all his years of personal service," Fry said. "We want him back and I'm going to get him."

Comstock has been reported opposed to the gubernatorial candidacy of High Commissioner Frank Murphy of the Philippines, to President Roosevelt, to some of the members of the Michigan congressional delegation, and to Postmaster General James A. Farley.

Cash Exemption Increased to $400 on Age Pensioners

Miss Anne J. Bigus, supervisor of old age pensions for the Cook county bureau of public welfare, yesterday received notice from state officials that the amount of cash or securities that may be exempted for pension applicants has been increased from $250 to $400. So far, 55,521 persons over 65 years of age have filed pension applications in the county, but only 616 have received the state assistance.

FLOOD OF BILLS REVEALS DRIVE TO CURB COURTS

Also New Deal's Thrusts at Constitution.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 30.—[Special.]—The apparent determination of the New Dealers to accomplish their objective of a collectivist state, in the event of President Roosevelt's reëlection, irrespective of the constitution and the Supreme court, is reflected in a flood of bills introduced in both houses of congress after the invalidation of the NRA, the AAA, the Guffey Coal act, and other regimenting legislation.

These bills, totaling more than a dozen in the senate and at least sixty-six in the house, all being the handiwork of New Dealers, fall into two classes, one designed to undermine the powers of the Supreme court by legislative enactment and the other to amend the constitution so drastically as to revolutionize the American form of government.

New Crop Expected.

None of these measures got out of committee and they died with the close of the 74th congress, but presumably a similar crop will be introduced at the session if President Roosevelt and a New Deal congress are returned. It is known that none got out of committee because the President privately informed the chairmen of the senate and house judiciary committees that he did not regard the time propitious for proposing fundamental amendments to the constitution.

Since then, the President, as well as other leading New Dealers, have intimated in their public utterances that they will seek a more elastic interpretation of the constitution by the Supreme court to give the central government power to regulate all aspects of agriculture, commerce, and industry, and will consider amending the constitution only as a last resort.

Talk of Enlarging Court.

The President might secure a more favorable construction of the constitution if some of the Supreme court justices, a majority of whom are more than 70 years old, should retire or die and permit him to put more men like Brandeis, Stone, and Cardozo on the bench. Another method would be the enlargement of the court by act of congress, thus enabling the President to pack it with New Dealers. The President himself indicated, in his famous "horse and buggy" press conference on the NRA decision that it might not be necessary to amend the constitution to make such legislation possible.

This vaguely intimated possibility which Republicans denounced, as a sinister threat to the independence or else the integrity of the judiciary branch, assumes palpable form in some of the bills introduced by the New Dealers. A bill introduced by Senator James P. Pope [Dem., Idaho], which is duplicated by many others, would require the concurrence of "more than two-thirds," or at least 7 of the 9 justices, to hold an act of congress unconstitutional.

Seeks Curb on Judges.

Representative Joseph P. Monaghan [Dem., Mont.] introduced an amendment to the Tennessee Valley Authority act with the provisions that "federal judges are forbidden to declare this act of congress unconstitutional."

Monaghan's bill went on to provide that any federal judge who declared the act unconstitutional would be guilty of violating a constitutional requirement of good behavior, and ipso facto, would be held to have vacated his office, which the President would be authorized to fill.

Representative O. H. Cross [Dem., Tex.] introduced a bill extending the Monaghan principle to all acts of congress, the measure providing that inferior courts and the Supreme court should have jurisdiction over questions of fact but not over the question of constitutionality.

One by Zioncheck.

These bills are typical of the measures introduced by the New Dealers to hamstring the Supreme court by legislative usurpation of power. Others aimed at the undoing of the court would accomplish their purpose by constitutional amendment. Representative Marion A. Zioncheck [Dem., Wash.], back in the days when he enjoyed the esteem of his fellow New Dealers, proposed an amendment providing that any law of congress held unconstitutional by the Supreme court would be valid if reënacted by congress or approved by the electorate. Representative R. T. Buckler, Minnesota Radical, also proposed an amendment calling for the admission of Supreme court judgments to the people.

The other batch of bills would accomplish the collectivist objectives of the New Deal by amending the constitution to enlarge the powers of the central government, rather than by limiting the powers of the Supreme court. An amendment proposed by Senator M. M. Logan [Dem., Ky.] would give congress power to provide such laws as it deemed desirable for the "conciliation, arbitration, and settlement of industrial disputes of all persons, corporations, or other business associations of whatever description, and their employés, farmers excepted," and for the "regulation and control of the production of any agricultural, mineral, or manufactured product of whatever description which may move in or affect interstate commerce."

Extensive Powers Proposed.

Senator Edward P. Costigan [Dem., Colo.] proposed an amendment giving congress power to regulate hours and conditions of labor, to establish minimum wages in any employment, and to "regulate production, industry, business, trade, and commerce to prevent unfair trade practices therein."

Costigan's bill specifically provided that the due process clauses of the fifth and fourteenth amendments should impose no limitations upon such legislation by congress. The possibilities of regimentation under such a grant of power would be unlimited, and the traditional safeguard against discrimination contained in the due process clause would be ineffective.

Still another amendment would change the method of amending the constitution. The most revolutionary proposal of this nature is that of Representative Matthew A. Dunn [Dem., Pa.], which provides for the initiation and ratification of constitutional amendments by direct voice of the people. A referendum petition, under this proposal, would be sufficient if signed by 5 per cent of the population of a majority of the states, and the amendment would become effective when ratified by a majority of the voters in a majority of the states.

Under such a scheme, it might be possible to change the form of government in a few weeks during some economic crisis or period of emotional hysteria.

Could Change Form Weekly.

Perhaps the most sweeping of all constitutional amendments was that proposed by Senator Elmer A. Benson, Minnesota radical, who was so proud of it that he ordered 10,000 copies for his campaign for governor. Benson's amendment would set up a thoroughgoing collectivist state, with powers lodged in the central government that even Dictator Stalin might envy.

Under his amendment, congress would have power to regulate, limit, and prohibit the labor of persons under 18; to limit the working time and establish minimum compensation for wage earners in all occupations; to protect by law the right of all employés to bargain collectively; to provide for relief of the aged, invalid, sick, and unemployed in the form of periodical grants from the treasury; to establish, acquire, and operate agencies for the marketing and processing of agricultural products; to acquire and operate all natural industries, manufacturing, mining, commerce, transportation, banking, and public utilities.

"I WAS AMAZED TO SEE THE DIFFERENCE IN MY CLOTHES THE FIRST TIME I USED AMERICAN FAMILY SOAP"

—says MRS. KAY PINGREY

"Having a large family of active boys, the clothes budget has always been quite a problem. Their hard play naturally got their clothes dirty—as well as wore them out quickly. I feel like giving three cheers for American Family Soap for it gets rid of the dirt without extra wear on the clothes from hard rubbing."

And here's the secret of the amazing success of American Family Soap. Why it makes washing easier, safer, quicker. Laboratory tests proved that American Family contains as much as one-third more suds-making material than other leading laundry soaps sold in this market. And dissolves almost instantly into rich, creamy, active "DOUBLE SUDS." These "DOUBLE SUDS" work doubly fast—float out the grimiest dirt without hard rubbing—and in utter safety to fabrics. That's the miracle of American Family Soap. Why colors stay true. Why ALL washables keep their life and newness much longer. More women in and around Chicago use American Family than any other brand. Start today to use American Family Soap and prove, beyond any shadow of doubt, that it is cheaper to buy good soap than new clothes. Made by Procter & Gamble.

LAKE SHIP OWNER CALLS DISASTER FREAK ACCIDENT

Pounding Waves Prevent Hunt for Bodies.

LEATHAM D. SMITH.

While pounding waves prevented divers from searching for the bodies of the fifteen members of the crew of the motorship Material Service who perished when the boat sank in Lake Michigan early Wednesday morning, federal authorities yesterday continued their investigation into the cause of the tragedy.

The boat went down in the choppy waters of the lake two miles off shore and about a half mile north of the South Chicago breakwater lighthouse opposite 87th street. Seven members of the crew were rescued.

Four Survivors Testify.

Four of these survivors testified yesterday at a hearing before the bureau of marine inspection and navigation of the department of commerce in the United States courthouse here. Leatham D. Smith, president of the Smith-Putnam Navigation company, which owned the Material Service, was also a witness.

One of the survivors who told his story was the first mate, John Johnson, 44 years old, 1619 North Spaulding avenue. Johnson indicated that the captain, Charles D. Brown of Port Huron, Mich., who perished, might have been at fault by not ordering the hatches over the ship's hold to be covered with tarpaulin.

Hatch Covers Customary.

"It was usual to cover the hatches with tarpaulin in rough weather," Johnson told Capt. Edward J. Fitzgerald, inspector of the bureau of marine navigation. "But as we came into Lake Michigan from the Chicago river the weather was calm, the water not rough, and the captain told me it wasn't necessary to put on the tarpaulin coverings. The hatches, therefore, weren't watertight and some water might have reached the cargo and caused the boat to list. It sank a minute after it listed.

Mr. Smith said that in his opinion not enough water could have entered to cause the list even if the tarpaulins were not on the hatches. Smith's theory was that as the vessel approached the breakwater a water pocket was created by backwash from the sea wall and the undertow.

Called Freak Accident.

"It was a freak accident," Smith declared. "The backwash and undertow might have caused the port bilge [the under part of the boat on the left side] to be caught in a trough and hit the bottom of the lake, which is only about 20 feet at that point. Then the waves swept over the deck."

The survivors in addition to Mate Johnson who testified yesterday were the third engineer, Joseph Change, 11311 Avenue G; a sand scraper, Herbert Larson, 2141 North Lavergne avenue, and a deckhand, Alfred Melby, 2329 Monticello avenue.

Capt. William Nicholas, federal marine inspector, who is assisting Capt. Fitzgerald in the investigation, said the inquiry report would not be completed until after two witnesses, survivors of the wreck now in the Marine hospital at 4141 Clarendon avenue, are heard next week. "The testimony, so far, would indicate that the captain of the boat was at fault in not ordering the hatches battened down," he said.

BOY, 7, PLUNGES FROM EVANSTON PIER AND DROWNS

John Thompson, 7 years old, 400 Ridge avenue, Evanston, son of David Thompson, a construction engineer, was drowned yesterday when he leaped or fell unnoticed from a pier at the Lee street beach in the suburb. The boy's mother, who was seated on the beach, missed her son and notified Life Guard Robert Fox, who recovered the body. Police and firemen worked vainly for an hour to revive the boy.

Mayor Charles H. Bartlett of Evanston ordered an investigation of the case, the suburb's first beach fatality of the year, after bystanders complained that the fire department inhalator squad did not arrive until 20 minutes after the body was recovered. The facts will be presented at an inquest today.

George Russell, his wife, Nora, and their friend, Thomas Smith, all colored, of 4554 South Parkway, were drowned yesterday in Eagle lake, four miles north of Decatur, Mich., when a member of the party rocked the boat in which they and two companions were riding. Florence Butler and C. E. Robertson, both of 4840 South Parkway, saved themselves by clinging to the overturned boat.

The body of a man taken from the lake near Navy pier Wednesday was identified yesterday as that of Charles E. Sturmberg, 40 years old, 2056 North 26th street, Milwaukee.

Nova Scotia Official Loses Life in Maine Cottage Fire

DOG QUARANTINE IS EXTENDED TO DU PAGE COUNTY

The Cook county dog quarantine, under which no dogs may be transported into or out of the area, was extended yesterday to include Du Page county, adjoining Cook county on the west, on orders of Dr. H. C. Rinehart, state veterinarian. The emergency order will be effective in Du Page county for 60 to 90 days, starting tomorrow.

In Chicago the campaign to check the mad dog menace continued. The city board of health reported a total of 157 dog bite cases in the 24 hours ending at 8 a. m. yesterday. Twelve persons received anti-rabies serum at the health department office. At the city dog pound 116 dogs were put to death during the day, reducing the pound's population to 442 dogs, of which 312 were biters. Since Monday the pound has destroyed 281 dogs.

A proclamation issued by Harry C. Kinne, president of the village of Wilmette, gave notice that unleashed dogs will be kept off the streets of the suburb. Forest Golden, 30 years old, a former Texas cowboy now employed as Wilmette's dog catcher, will use a lasso to round up stray dogs.

EX-NAVY OFFICER DENIES GUILT IN SPY CASE CHARGE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 30.—[Special.]—With the justice department preparing fresh evidence for another indictment, John S. Farnsworth, former naval lieutenant, pleaded not guilty to espionage charges today before Justice Oscar R. Luhring in the District of Columbia court here.

William E. Leahy, acting as attorney for the former naval officer, was granted ten days in which to examine the indictment charging Farnsworth with conveying confidential information on naval defense to an agent of a foreign government, reportedly Japan. A second count alleges that Farnsworth made an attempt to communicate information.

The new charges, based on work by agents of the federal bureau of investigation, were reported to be in preparation for presentation to the grand jury next Wednesday. Farnsworth, ignorant of them, appeared jaunty in court with a neatly pressed black pinstripe suit in contrast to his former appearances marked by extreme nervousness.

2 WATERSPOUTS OUT OF LAKE ERIE STRIKE OHIO CITY IN HOUR

Conneaut, O., July 30.—(AP)—Two towering waterspouts, lashing wildly from side to side, raced shoreward from Lake Erie today, damaged property, and endangered many of Conneaut's 10,000 citizens.

Veteran lake men said the first extended "3,000 or 4,000 feet in the air" and the second "well over 1,000 feet." An interval of an hour separated them. One took a circular two mile route over the land, the other spent itself in a lakeside park. The first ripped a porch off one home, demolished chicken coops and sheds and shattered the windows of a score of houses. It hovered for nearly 20 minutes over the city.

The spouts were termed by fishermen to be the largest within memory in the vicinity.

Senate Building Custodian and Car Seized for Debt

Washington, D. C., July 30.—(AP)—Deputy United States marshals reported today they had hauled James J. Dunn, custodian of the senate office building, to a garage when he refused to get out of his automobile which they seized to settle a court judgment of $408. Dunn contended they had no jurisdiction within the capitol grounds. Despite the intervention of capitol police who took Dunn's side, the marshals reported they had jacked up the car with the senate employé still in it and hauled it away.

AURORA SCHOOL HEAD LOSES $120 IN MEXICAN RAID

MEXICO CITY, July 30.—(AP)—Miss Gladys Serviss, the principal of an elementary school in Aurora, Ill., was still shaky today after the terrifying experience of being held up Monday on a highway near Taxco.

The bandits "were like villians you see in movies," she said. The highwaymen were "polite but silent" in taking her watch, nine pesos, and $120 in traveler's checks. Leading the bandits was a man "nearly six feet tall, well setup and good looking, but with a hard face," Miss Serviss declared.

In the same party with Miss Serviss was Miss Edna Horrocks of Cleveland, who lost a few pesos, and Mrs. Marie Wolfs, also of Cleveland, who saved her traveler's checks by thrusting them down the front of her dress.

DEATH PLUNGE CALLED SUICIDE.

A verdict of suicide was returned by a coroner's jury at an inquest yesterday into the death of Mrs. Hinda Weisberg, 58 years old, 3508 West 12th place, who fell from a window on the sixth floor of the County hospital last Tuesday.

MOSCOW TYPE GOVERNMENT.

Senator James Couzens of Michigan in an interview said in answer to one of a number of questions that he did not know of a single member of congress who wants to adopt a Moscow type of government. The senator surely does know that few members of the two Roosevelt congresses have been asked what they wanted. Few laws have been drawn in congress. The bills have been prepared by the administrators of the planned society.

Senator Couzens must have heard of the "must" programs. Such programs listed bills which were to go through a session before congress could adjourn. Infrequently a congressman would understand the bill. Even the introducer could not explain it to a committee. One or two of the designers of the collectivist America would sit at the elbow of the supposititious sponsor and guide him through whatever explanation he would attempt. The house of representatives seldom made a pretense of doing more than certifying its approval of a bill which had been neither read nor understood.

Occasionally a few intelligent senators, perceiving the controling principle in a Rooseveltian proposal, would express their abhorrence of it, but the best they could do, if anything, was to modify a few details. Senator Glass recently lamented the lack of Patrick Henry's withering eloquence which might have stopped the progress of the reckless academicians in control of legislation.

Senator Glass, a stalwart Democrat, sees clearly where Senator Couzens pretends to see not at all. It is pathetic that the Virginia senator cannot give his country the full benefit of his understanding of what has been going on in Washington. His country may be reluctant to believe it and think that the uninformed or uncandid Michigan senator has the common sense view.

The Tennessee Valley Authority is a part of a socialistic government and is recognized and praised as such by Norman Thomas, the Socialist candidate for President. Another Roosevelt congress will create the Norris Mississippi Valley Authority and put three-fifths of the country under the commissars. NRA was an attempt to bring industry under governmental control of production in imitation of the Russian economic policy, and the social planners make no secret of it. The AAA was headed for the Russian collectivized agriculture. Mr. Wallace now calls it a coöperative agricultural society. The Roosevelt tax bills are confessedly more for the redistribution of wealth than for revenue. Max Bedacht of the communist party, at the house committee hearing on the tax on corporation surplus, said that his party liked the bill and objected only because it did not go quite far enough.

When Chairman Doughton of the house ways and means committee was informed that the tax bill would not produce the revenue anticipated he said: "There are two purposes in this bill; one is for reform and the other for revenue. In order to get reform we have to be a little patient about getting revenue."

Senator Couzens should be informed that the program of the Rooseveltians has changed the policy of the American communist party from one of blood and thunder to one of watchful waiting. This year's Red platform coos like a dove.

A SIGN OF THE TIMES.

The late ruction in the Pennsylvania senate chamber, where it was reported the other day a "militant jobless army" invaded the gallery and spent hours in "unbroken unroarious demand for 100 million dollars for relief," has passed off without any very serious results. American good nature is likely to dismiss it with a laugh. But at the moment it seemed serious enough for a demand for the formation of a "public safety committee to enforce sane, decent, orderly procedure."

The incident was humiliating to the intelligent and self-respecting citizens of Pennsylvania. The failure of the officials to deal with the lawless crowd will react against the Democratic administration in that state, but the responsibility is wider. This outbreak, and similar outbreaks elsewhere, of unjustifiable resort to violence for the correction of real or imagined wrongs, or the enforcement of reasonable or unreasonable demands, are an inevitable result of the subversive propaganda which has accompanied the depression to exploit it for the purposes of the New Deal. From its leader down there has been a persistent effort to exaggerate evils, to breed hatred among classes and against individuals, to exaggerate and pervert expectations of profit, to reduce self-reliance and self-respect. While new responsibilities and new powers have been sought by and for government, a state of mind has been created among great numbers of our people which encourages attack upon government.

We think the common sense and good will of the great majority of the American people will protect them and the nation from the destruction promised by these influences. But the danger is with us and its many signals should be heeded.

SOME BRITISH FASCISM.

Great Britain is running a close second to Italy and Germany in Fascist repression. The average Briton may console himself with the thought that it "can't happen here." It is happening there. The King's Bench division has given judgment against Beaverbrook and the editor of the London Daily Express and Rothermere and the editor of the Evening News, fining them for printing stories calling the episode in which the eccentric McMahon drew a pistol, as King Edward was passing at the head of a parade, "an attempted assassination."

A moving picture distributor who had released a picture of the scene with the caption "Attempt on the King's Life" also was fined and a warning was given all distributors and exhibitors. The newspaper editors apologized, explaining that there had been no intent to show disrespect for the court. The theory advanced to support the repression and suppression of news is that publication before a trial would be prejudicial to the defense.

The British government controls the radio. The British people take what the government gives them. Winston Churchill has frequently attacked this control as a censorship of political opinion. Moving pictures and the stage are under censorship. Frequently it is merely stupid, but when desired to do so it obeys the will of the government. The freedom of the press, denied for several centuries and grudgingly allowed, has been progressively impaired. Libel laws of excessive character and repressive interpretation were used as restraints and then classifications of prohibited matter were multiplied.

A censorship of divorce trials was established, ostensibly for the protection of public morals, in reality for the protection of loose living upper classes. In pretense of giving defendants impartial justice, the government then obtained laws which made it next to impossible for a newspaper to tell its readers that a crime had been committed or that there had been a public disorder. The story or the picture of a riot was dangerous matter involving possible defendants.

The accused at the bar of British justice is in a tough spot. He may be at the mercy not only of an infernally suave prosecutor deftly ruining him by suggestions to which the jury offers no resistance, but of a captious or surly judge making the most of the accused's predicament. The British courts make more certain of punishment than of guilt and always have. The pretentious respect for the defendant's rights where the newspapers are involved covers the determination to control expression of opinion when it is so organized as to be powerful. The free soap box orator in Trafalgar square is an insignificant exhibit to the contrary.

The whole episode involving King Edward was a masterpiece of police suppression intended to convey the idea that there could be no such violence offered the royal person and hence there had been none. This repression is Fascist whether or not the supposedly free Briton cares to see or acknowledge it. Only the Scotch laborites call it as they find it and they land on the sidewalk from time to time.

GIFTS OF THE SEA.

At this writing the coast guard cutter Icarus is shelling and ramming a whale off Amagansett, New York. The whale has no interest in the encounter. He is dead. That's the trouble. The shore folk are hoping that the cutter sinks him before a wind shift brings him to land. If that happens he can have the place for a while.

Cape Cod folk could tell the New Yorkers more about such visitations if they do not know enough already. The Cape has had considerable experience. A school of blackfish once was regarded as a gift of nature to the Cape Codders. That was when they made clock oil. A clock oil cooking community must be composed of a sturdy and impervious, almost impenetrable breed. The clock oil process has a way of penetrating, or had. The last Cape clock oil producer died some years ago. The passing of the last of his kind was lamented and on occasions he was missed.

With the blackfish no longer generally wanted for clock oil the Cape's attitude changed. Cries of horror arose, not of elation, when a school appeared off shore. The descendants of the old seafaring people took to their boats, not to get the clumsy denizens of the deep, but to spank them out to sea before they were grounded. A grounded school of blackfish is one thing the dust bowl of the west never knew. There are always compensations. The Cape also has had its grounded whales.

Such occurrences are distracting in a community which still completes the annual house cleaning and painting by dusting out the key holes with a feather.

Editorial of the Day

SPIRIT OF THE STORM TROOPS.

[Peoria Transcript.]

New Deal apologists scoff at the idea that the civilian conservation corps might possibly be turned into political storm troops such as Mussolini's black shirts or Hitler's brown shirts. They assert that any one who sees this possibility, even remotely, is a little touched in the head.

Actual experience, however, shows that the danger of the CCC becoming a political army is proximate and one that should concern every citizen who loves his liberty. The CCC already gives its personal allegiance to President Roosevelt and resents any criticism of him.

Reserve officers who have been attached to CCC units declare that it is unsafe to criticize the President in a CCC camp. In some camps critics of the President are beaten and otherwise mistreated. In others they are called before kangaroo courts and sentenced to various types of punishment.

Naturally these officers are not making charges publicly. They remember what happened to Gen. Hagood and don't want to risk the possibility of court martial before officers selected by a political general staf. Thus any criticism they may wish to make is effectively stifled.

If these CCC boys were armed and militarized it might be unsafe for any citizen to criticize the administration. Given power they undoubtedly would extend their illegal courts to the punishment of citizens generally as well as members of their own ranks who sought to exercise the American right of free speech.

The CCC already has the spirit of old world political storm troops. Given arms and leadership, the conservation corps would be the most dangerous force in the country.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

Hew to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

Reg. U.S. Pat. Office

IT'S GOING TO BE HARD to convince many dog owners that the law declaring a hound must either be on a leash or wearing a dog muzzle does not mean that the owner is to carry the leash or the dog muzzle carelessly in one hand while the pooch romps gayly half a block or more down the street. "Lady," I heard a policeman say to a dog owner whose hound was bounding around on the other side of the street, "you gotta keep yer dog on a leash." "Oh!" said the woman, smiling calmly, "he's got a leash. See, here it is." "But it hain't on him," said the minion of law and order. "But here is the leash," insisted the woman; "look, a brand new leash; very strong and a perfectly lovely color. See the leash, look!" "Lady," said the policeman firmly, "that hound has to be tied to one end of the leash and you have to be tied to the other." "How silly," said the woman, and she went blithely on her way. "Gosh!" said the policeman, "what's the use?"

THE DESIGNATIONS of the warring factions in Spain, "leftists" and "rightists," are being adopted over here, but in a gentler spirit. I am neither a prophet nor a son of a prophet, but I can say that if you're right you may be left and if you're left you may be right.

SILENCE.

When you are silent, silence will be dear;
I will court quiet where it lives the most
In forests darkly inland from the coast
Cupped in still mountains, and no winds to fear;
Or wandering toward a larkless sky and clear
In fields of morning ever hold my post,
Or in forgotten chapels like a ghost
In secret meditation many a year.

This am I steadfast never to rescind,
Knowing that I shall be, who nothing hear,
Closer to your great silence underground
Where not a leaf swings singing in the wind
Of spring that never comes, and around whose ear

JOHN FREDERICK NIMS.

"DECLARES AMERICAN MUSIC Is Advancing Despite Highbrows."—Headline. O, the poor highbrows! In this land of the more or less free and the home of the brave [except when we have to pay our New Deal taxes] we blame everything on the highbrows from jazz to the drought and the twenty degrees below zero weather last winter. But who are the highbrows? Did you ever see one? I never did, but I've been called one. "What are yuh lookin' at me fer?" demanded a woman on the back platform of a Clark street car. "I'm sorry, madam," I replied, "but you are standing on my left foot." "Keep yer feet in your pocket," said the lady, "you big highbrow, you!" I ignored the cutting remark, although some of the other passengers seemed to think I should have resented it or had the lady arrested. For "highbrow" to many people is a fighting word and one should be careful to smile when he says it.

AN ANXIOUS correspondent writes imploringly for more verses to that immortal poem of which I published the first verse several weeks ago:—

"The black bass dived
To the bottom of the pool,
And he said to the wall eyed pike,
There'll be hell to pay,
For I've seen your Uncle Ike."

But I've forgotten the second verse as well as the third, fourth, and fifth, but I remember distinctly the sixth verse, which goes like this:

"The black bass dived
To the bottom of the pool,
And he said to the wall eyed pike,
There'll be hell to pay
For I've seen your Uncle Ike."

REVOLUTION in Spain is a very terrible thing, but in France they just march around and sing the "Marseillaise," throw a few gendarmes into the Seine and then go over to the boulevard cafés in the late afternoon and sip cognac. They really do those things much better in France.

I'M IN FAVOR of the organization of a nationwide league or oath bound society of some kind which will have for its mission the duty of lynching everybody next winter who complains the weather is too cold. After this summer anybody that kicks about zero weather ought to be grabbed by my secret gang and given the works.

THE DUST BOWL.

I am the prairie despoiled, denuded;
Robbed of my heritage, gashed by the plow.
Gone are my lake-beds, vanished the bluejoint—
Gone the velvet of broad rolling acres,
Dust kills the bunch grass—cured on the stem.
Drained are the marshes, stagnant the rivers,
Red water willows shining and slender
I am now called America's dust bowl—
I that once counted my wealth by the head . . .
Turn me back to the creatures that loved me,
Precious their stampeding hooves on my breast;
Succulent grass will sprout for their keeping,
Pastures for sheep and wild hay of the best.
Take from my side the gas-driven plowshare—
White men are gluttonous, unthinking fools;
Guarded, and fought for the sweet water pools.
Turn me back to the creatures that loved me,
Then shall there be no more ruin and woe;
Give me the herds and hard riding cowboys,

PORK WORM DISEASE.

No one of us can expect to possess a body that is entirely free from bacteria. The mouth, the nasal passages, the intestinal tract, and the skin all harbor microörganisms that are so small that they can be seen only when stained with a dye and viewed under a powerful microscope. We have given up as a bad job any attempt to live in an environment free from them. But this does not mean that we should become a "zoo" for animal parasites—worms—large or small. Nevertheless, some of us do, and because of their deleterious effects we should guard all gateways against their entrance.

There is a parasitic worm called the trichinella spiralis which may exist in its youthful state in the muscles of some swine. If infested pork that has been insufficiently cooked is eaten the worms will find their way into the human stomach. The young worms develop in the intestine within two or three days, and the females then burrow through the bowel wall. Many will lodge in the lymphatic vessels and within another few days give birth to their young. Their prolific progeny migrate through the lymph channels, finally reaching the general circulation, and thence are distributed to the tissues and organs of the body. They endeavor to reach muscles and when they succeed each will curl up into a tiny ball, which nature attempts to surround with a protective envelope or sheath. Sometimes the body will inclose them with deposits of lime and thus place the invaders in a prison-like cell. Here they may live for several years, although when death occurs they are absorbed or completely calcified.

If one has eaten poorly cooked pork containing trichina there is sometimes a quick reaction to the toxins produced by the worms. The patient will usually complain of nausea and vomiting, accompanied by severe abdominal cramps and diarrhea. On the other hand, there may be no immediate effect. In such cases, an interval of from six to fourteen days will elapse during which the patient is free from symptoms. As soon as the blood stream is invaded however, headache and general muscle pains will appear. There is a characteristic swelling of the eyelids and hemorrhages may occur under the skin. Muscle stiffness and tenderness are particularly noted in children. Many victims will show definite signs of heart weakness, a rather severe form of bronchitis, and occasionally extreme restlessness.

The fever varies in intensity with the number of parasites absorbed and may continue for from a few days to six weeks or longer. Some attacks will be so light that the individual may pursue his daily tasks with only a moderate temperature and but mild aching.

In May of this year a woman aged 26, while visiting friends in the country, consumed homemade sausage. A week later she complained of pain in her knees, but as the symptoms were not severe little attention was paid to the discomfort. A month later, however, she became worse. The knees were swollen and tender, and the eyelids markedly puffy. At this time a blood count was made and the peculiar white cells—eosinophils—typical of pork worm disease, were found in great abundance. Her temperature continued for several weeks. In fact, she is still convalescing.

The possibility of trichina should be thought of more often than it is. Any fever that is accompanied by swelling of the eyelids and pain in the muscles on movement means that a careful count of the white cells should be made and if eosinophils are found in large numbers pork worm infestation is probable.

Treatment consists of rest in bed, plenty of fluids, and good nourishment. It is well at the outset to give a thorough purge, as many of the parasites will thus be swept out of the intestine. There is no known antiseptic that will kill the worms once they have invaded the blood stream, although some day, perhaps, an antitoxin will be discovered.

Several years ago the government abandoned the microscopic examinations and hence certification of pork and pork products as free from trichina, because it was found that the procedure was without value. The only remedy lies in the thorough cooking of the flesh of swine. This is an individual responsibility and attacks of trichinosis are sufficiently frequent to warrant the adoption of the plan by every family.

MOLES.

C. P. writes: I am a young girl and have moles on my neck and back. Could you recommend something to remove them?

REPLY.

Many dermatologists [skin specialists] claim that certain types of soft moles are not harmful and that other types are very dangerous. Thorough removal is always advisable. However, this should not be attempted by any one but a competent surgeon or dermatologist.

GROIN HERNIA.

L. H. writes: Is it perfectly safe for a young woman who has had a groin hernia since childhood to be married? It does not come down entirely. She wears a truss.

REPLY.

Yes. I would suggest, however, that she consult a physician, as he can advise her as to the complications which may arise.

TONSILITIS.

C. J. C. writes: I am troubled periodically with tonsilitis and have been told to have my tonsils removed. Is it advisable to have them burned out?

REPLY.

Tonsils may be removed by electrocoagulation, but there is no particular advantage to the method. Complete surgical excision is the best plan.

Sketches of the Men of the Convention

Philadelphia, Pa., July 31, 1787.—These articles, having reported the debates in the committee of the whole and in convention upon the Virginia plan submitted by Mr. Randolph, the small state's plan submitted by Mr. Patterson of New Jersey and the report of resolutions agreed to by the convention for the work of the committee of detail, will now take advantage of the breathing spell in the deliberations to give some of the biographical sketches of the members of the convention written by Maj. William Pierce, delegate from Georgia, a man of observation who was interested in his fellow deputies in Philadelphia.

BY MAJ. PIERCE.

From Massachusetts: Rufus King, Nathaniel Gorham, Elbridge Gerry, Caleb Strong.

Mr. King is a man much distinguished for his eloquence and great parliamentary talents. He was educated in Massachusetts and is said to have a good classical as well as legal knowledge. He has served for three years in the congress of the United States with great and deserved applause and is at this time high in the confidence and approbation of his countrymen. This gentleman is about 33 years of age, about 5 feet 10 inches high, well formed, a handsome face with a strong expressive eye and a sweet, high toned voice. In his public speaking there is something peculiarly strong and rich in his expression, clear and convincing in his arguments, rapid and irresistible at times in his eloquence, but he is not always equal. His action is natural, swimming and graceful, but there is a rudeness of manner sometimes accompanying it. But take him tout ensemble he may with propriety be ranked among the luminaries of the present age.

Mr. Gorham is a merchant of Boston, high in reputation and much in the esteem of his countrymen. He is a man of very good sense, but not much improved in his education. He is eloquent and easy in public debate, but has nothing fashionable or elegant in his style—all he aims at is to convince and where he fails is never from his auditors not understanding him, for no man is more perspicuous and full. He has been president of congress and three years a member of that body. Mr. Gorham is about 46 years of age, rather lusty, and has an agreeable and pleasant manner.

Mr. Gerry's character is marked for its integrity and perseverance. He is a hesitating and laborious speaker, possesses a great degree of confidence and goes extensively into all the subjects that he speaks on without respect to elegance or flower of diction. He is connected and sometimes clear in his arguments, conceives well and cherishes as his first virtue a love for his country. Mr. Gerry is very much of a gentleman in his principles and manners. He has been engaged in the mercantile line and is a man of property. He is about 37 years of age.

Mr. Strong is a lawyer of some eminence. He has received a liberal education and has good connections to recommend him. As a speaker he is feeble and without confidence. This gentleman is about 35 years of age and greatly in the esteem of his colleagues.

THE FORGOTTEN ENGINEER.

Chicago, July 27.—For your information in regard to the editorial, "The Forgotten Engineer," appearing in your paper on July 25, I am inclosing a copy of the City Club Bulletin of March 30. This issue contains a report of the traction committee of the City club which recommends a comprehensive traction survey similar to the one your editorial speaks of. The report, like your editorial, questions whether the bankers, lawyers, and politicians alone can adequately settle the traction problem in Chicago.

This report of the City club committee recommends that a city-wide, nonpartisan, nonspecialized citizen committee be formed to retain skilled and capable engineers to make a comprehensive survey of all present and possible means of transportation in Chicago. The club has held several meetings of prominent civic and business leaders for the purpose of organizing such a committee and to discuss its possible success. The opinion so far seems to be that it will be extremely difficult for an independent civic organization to raise funds sufficient to have a general and comprehensive engineering survey made. However, most of our conferees have been of the opinion that the engineers should be recommended by an independent, nonpartisan, disinterested group. As you can see, the problem is not simple. Our committee is still working, but what its final action will be is not yet certain.

Since your assistance is essential, your editorial was extremely stimulating to us. It is only through the coöperation of the press and civic organizations that Chicago will so much as approach a solution to its traction problem.

ROBERT E. GARRIGAN,
Civic Secretary.

Chicago, July 25.—Your editorial this morning on "The Forgotten Engineer" points the way to the proper solution of the Chicago transportation problem for the best ultimate interests of the public. It will be doubly appreciated by engineers, first, of course, as an example of the proper approach to these complicated problems of public service, and, secondly, for its recognition of a profession which for three years has been pretty well submerged. Please accept our congratulations. FRANK F. FOWLE,
President, Western Society of Engineers.

BASEBALL AND CRICKET.

Culver, Ind., July 28.—THE TRIBUNE editorial, "Cricket, but Hardly Baseball," in this morning's issue, in view of the facts as reported in news columns of THE TRIBUNE, is just plain nasty with no semblance of fairness.

The captain of the Queen Mary refused to accept congratulations for winning a record for the very reasons that THE TRIBUNE gave—what more should he have done? Should he have slowed up his boat because he had cut ninety-six miles from the distance traveled by the Normandie? Also the news report said yesterday that the Queen Mary started to go to the rescue of the plane, but proceeded on its journey when signaled by the Exermont to go on.

And after recounting the pop bottle episode at Sunday's ball game in Chicago, does the editorial mean to suggest that baseball represents better sportsmanship than cricket?

RALPH H. MOWBRAY.

AN ARREST.

Chicago, July 28.—Your paper this morning carried a news story which told of the distressingly brutal conduct of Policeman Orlowski in arresting a man named Lewis, a cripple. Like the four eyewitnesses, I should like, as a citizen and a voter, to protest most emphatically against such conduct on the part of the police, and it seems to me that this column is the best place in which to register such protest. Regardless of whether or not Lewis should have been arrested he certainly should not have been physically mistreated, nor is it necessary to kick a cripple's crutch from under him in order to induce him to come to the police station. No conscientious citizen will fail to become indignant at such a story, if it happened as told in your paper, and to feel that when the police can act in this way, with impunity and without being besieged with protest, they can hardly be considered the guardians of our civil liberties that they are supposed, by lovers of democracy, to be. Such citizens will join with me in protesting with all the emphasis they are capable of. NAOMI REEBE.

VIRTUOUS WASTE.

Bloomington, Ill., July 28.—Had it not been for federal spending your crowd would be yelling from every housetop what a flop our President has been. Now that he has brought back an upgrade in business you constantly condemn federal spending, the chief factor in restoring better conditions. If it's a balanced budget you want then elect Landon, just another hand-picked candidate chosen by a few apostles of greed who always allow human suffering so they may bolster their own gains.

ALLEY PARKING.

Chicago, July 16.—[Friend of the People.]—There is a washing and simonizing establishment behind us which has a habit of parking its cars in the rear of its place of business—in a public alley—thereby blocking the passage through said alley to myself and others who have to pass said alley in order to go to and from our private garages. This is also a dangerous hazard in the event of fire, as the fire department would be unable to pass through. As a taxpayer and automobile owner I think I am privileged to the use of this alley and that in order to do so it should be kept open and free of all parked cars. W. B. F.

Officers assigned to investigate report that they have kept the alley in question under surveillance since receipt of complaint and found no automobile parked there. The officers visited the establishment complained of and informed the owner he will be subject to arrest if such violations are committed, and that parking autos in alleys causes a fire hazard. Station complaint has been recorded and members of the command have been instructed to take proper action if violations are found.

Secluded from public gaze on the seventh floor of the Chicago Theater is located "The Little Chicago Theater." It's the one Balaban & Katz playhouse you never see.

We call it the "Screening Room." But it is far more than that. It is the Master Theater of all Balaban & Katz theaters—the laboratory where every feature picture and every "short subject" is previewed and judged by a corps of men and women whose business it is to choose your entertainment.

Years of experience and study of the public's likes and dislikes in picture entertainment qualify each and every member of our reviewing staff. Their standards are as exacting as standards can be where the human heart and mind make the final decision.

It is the purpose of our reviewers to obtain the first choice of all the best pictures for Balaban & Katz theaters in Chicago and Balaban & Katz Great States theaters in Illinois and Indiana—over 100 theaters in all—selecting the most important scenic spectacles, classics of literature, operatic dramas, dramatic masterpieces, comedies, melodramas, and comedy dramas from the world's most famous producers, including Paramount, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, Twentieth Century-Fox, Warner Brothers, First National, R. K. O., Columbia, Universal and United Artists.

Thus is acquired a variety and quality of pictures which meets every taste and preference. Thus is achieved the high standard of entertainment which has given Balaban & Katz 25 years of leadership and built a patronage of approximately 1,500,000 weekly.

Listed below are only a few of the outstanding pictures scheduled for the 1936-'37 season. In total, they represent the cream of the motion picture industry and an expenditure of more than $5,000,000.

When you visit a Balaban & Katz theater—there are six in the loop and one near your home—you may be assured that nothing finer or more diversified in motion picture programs can be found.

SCIENCE ADVISES AGAINST MEALS LOW IN NEEDED "BULK"

Reports ALL-BRAN Supplies This Dietary Adjunct

Scientific tests have shown that meals which miss the proper "bulk" tend to cause common constipation. This condition causes discomfort, and may lead to headaches, loss of appetite, even serious disease.

Avoid these faulty meals by adding Kellogg's ALL-BRAN to your menus. It supplies generous "bulk" in convenient form. This absorbs moisture, and gently exercises and cleanses the system. ALL-BRAN also furnishes vitamin B and contains iron.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is often more effective than that found in fruits and vegetables as it does not break down within the body. Two tablespoonfuls daily are usually sufficient. If not relieved this way, consult your doctor.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN may be served as a cereal with milk or cream. Sprinkle over soups, salads or other cereals. Or work into appetizing muffins, breads, waffles, etc. It adds a delicious nut-sweet flavor to your recipes.

SENATORS READY FOR QUIZ INTO CAMPAIGN COSTS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 30.—[Special.]—The special senate committee on campaign expenditures today announced its program for a sweeping investigation, but said nothing about President Roosevelt's promise to the people of Maine that "'Quoddy will be completed."

The President's pledge, made to his Eastport, Me., neighbors at Campobello Island yesterday, projected the 42 million dollar Passamajuoddy tide harnessing scheme, which was laid low by a rebellious congress, back into the political campaign. The President's announcement is regarded here as a gesture to boost the campaign of Democratic Governor Louis Brann, who is seeking to unseat Republican Senator Wallace White Jr.

Started Against Advice.

President Roosevelt started the Passamaquoddy project with a 5 million dollar allocation of relief funds just before the Maine election in 1934, after both PWA Administrator Harold L. Ickes and the federal power commission had turned it down as unsound. He later turned over another 2 millions by executive order.

Gov. Brann, campaigning on the 'Quoddy issue, was elected, as were two Democrats out of the three members of the house. Maine went Democratic by a substantial majority, although it is normally a Republican state. But this year, according to all polls and other indications, Maine looks good for the Republicans again. The state is the first to vote—on Sept. 14—and the Democrats, mindful of the slogan that "As Maine goes, so goes the nation," are doing everything they can to prevent a huge Republican majority.

The last thing the Democrats want to have happen when Maine comes to vote in September is the creation of an impression that a Landon tide is sweeping the country.

Astonished at "Promise."

Republicans and some conservative Democrats who voted against 'Quoddy, as well as the ill fated 200 million dollar Florida ship canal, were mildly concerned for their legislative prerogatives when Mr. Roosevelt, without any authorization from congress, started these projects with relief funds. But they were astonished to learn that the President had promised to complete 'Quoddy in defiance of an affirmative rejection on the part of congress.

The determination of the President to have his way with these "interesting experiments" is shown by their legislative record in the last session of the 74th congress. The bureau of the budget included 10 millions for the Florida canal and 9 millions for 'Quoddy in the regular war department appropriation bill. The house appropriations committee threw them out. Efforts were made to reinstate the canal in the senate, but to no avail.

Revived by Senator Robinson.

Then Senate Majority Leader Joseph T. Robinson, after a conference with the President, introduced a resolution calling for a reëxamination of reports on both projects by a board to be named by the President. If the findings were favorable, the President could allot the money.

Senator Robinson offered this resolution as an amendment to the 2 billion 400 million dollar relief and deficiency appropriation bill, but on motion of Senator Frederick Hale [Rep., Me.] the projects were voted upon separately. The canal was voted upon first, and because Senators Hale and White voted against it southern senators who had agreed to go along with 'Quoddy in return for support of the late Senator Duncan U. Fletcher's canal ran out on the project.

The canal carried, but was defeated in the house. Senators Hale and White were accused of defeating 'Quoddy by demanding a separate vote and then voting against the canal. Many senators suspected the strategy was deliberate on their part, where it would not have been politically expedient to come out openly against a 42 million dollar slice of pork for Maine.

Gov. Brann is now making 'Quoddy, which he accuses Senators White and Hale of killing, the principal issue in his campaign.

BLUMENTHAL CABLES $26,000 TO SHUT OFF SUIT BY PEGGY FEARS

New York, July 30.—[Special.]—A. C. Blumenthal, theatrical producer, now in London, today cabled $26,000 to his estranged wife, Peggy Fears, in New York. As soon as the money was placed to her credit here Peggy's lawyer, Max Steuer, withdrew a pending breach of contract suit. Peggy had demanded $27,000 in back alimony and $10,000 as part payment of a $50,000 fund promised her in June, 1934.

A payment of $1,000 on account was made to Peggy right after she served a summons and complaint on Blumenthal June 19. That left $26,000 due in alimony arrears.

When Blumenthal departed hurriedly for London a week ago today on the Ile de France he vowed he wouldn't settle.

The $10,000 will be paid later. It is part of a property settlement included in the separation agreement. Peggy has already received $18,000 of the sum. Meanwhile alimony at the rate of about $1,300 a month will start to roll in again.

His Children Get Along with Wife's; Adopts Them

Theodore Matthias of Matteson, appeared yesterday before Judge George N. Blatt of Joliet, sitting in the County court here, and adopted the son and three daughters of his wife, Maude, by a former marriage. The children are Hazel, 16 years old; Ethel, 15; Henry, 14, and Dolores, 7. Matthias has five children by his first marriage. "The two sets get along like doves," Mrs. Matthias told Judge Blatt.

PETITION IS FILED ASKING OAK PARK MUNICIPAL COURT

A petition asking that a referendum be held on the question of installing a municipal court system in Oak Park was filed yesterday with Harry Leadaman, clerk of the village. The document asks that the proposition be put on the ballot in the Nov. 3 election.

The new courts would supplant the present justice of the peace system, which is supported entirely by the collection of court costs from lawbreakers. Under the proposed procedure it would be necessary for the village to appropriate for the salaries of the judge and a court clerk.

It is expected that the petition will be submitted at the next meeting of the village board, which is required to respect it, provided the petition, which bears 950 names, is in proper order.

INDIANA WOMAN NAMED WESTERN REPUBLICAN AID

The appointment of Mrs. Grace B. Reynolds of Cambridge City, Ind., as western director of Republican women's activities was announced yesterday by National Chairman John Hamilton.

Mrs. Reynolds, who is the new Republican national committeewoman from Indiana, long has been active in Republican politics. She is a former state treasurer of Indiana.

Mrs. Reynolds will occupy the same post for the west that Miss Natalie Couch of New York occupies in the east.

Bandits Slash Railroad Watchman, Take $52

Elmer Westphal, 8249 Ingleside avenue, a watchman for the New York Central railroad at the Englewood Union depot, was slashed on his arm last night by two colored men who took from him $52 and checks worth $397 after attacking him with a knife in the yards near the depot. Police found the checks near by, where they had been dropped by the robbers. The loot was the property of the railroad.

PETITION JOHN D. JR. TO REFUSE FRENCH GIFT OF OLD CHAPEL

VESOUL, France, July 30.—(AP)—John D. Rockefeller Jr. was petitioned today to decline France's gift of a 15th century chapel. People of this northeastern region became indignant over printed accounts that the edifice was to be transported to the United States in appreciation for Rockefeller's financial assistance in restoring French monuments.

After historical and archæological societies failed to get a satisfactory response from the government to their requests that the chapel project be dropped, they decided to appeal directly to Rockefeller.

Official confirmation of the plan was lacking, but it was reported the idea originated in a government bill which is expected to be introduced in the chamber of deputies shortly. Under the reported plan the structure would be taken apart and rebuilt in the Metropolitan museum in New York, with France retaining title to the chapel.

FRANCE CONVICTS PAIR IN $1,507,938 N. Y. BANK THEFT

PARIS, July 30.—(AP)—Two men who tried to dispose of securities stolen in the $1,507,938 theft from the Bank of Manhattan in 1935 were convicted today in police court of receiving stolen goods.

They are Bernard Klein, 39, a Hungarian, and his cousin, Jacob Schwartz, 34, a Czechoslovakian. They maintained they received the securities in London from a stranger.

Klein was sentenced to four years' imprisonment, fined 200 francs [about $13.20], and was forbidden to return to France for 10 years after serving his sentence. Schwartz was given a two years' suspended sentence, fined 100 francs, and was banished from France for five years.

The pair was arrested in April as part of a roundup of a supposed international bond theft ring which New York police said engineered the holdup of a Bank of Manhattan messenger.

ROOSEVELT DIPS INTO MAINE ON TRIP TO QUEBEC

Canadian Officials Will Greet Him Today.

BY WALTER TROHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

EN ROUTE TO QUEBEC, July 30.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt tonight was actively engaged in carrying out his "good neighbor" policy in a visit to Quebec intended to further the friendly relations between this country and Canada.

The visit began with an unscheduled detour from Campobello Island to American soil forced by strong political pressure. The President was advised that resentment against failure to put foot on American soil while so near the mainland would cost him votes in September when Maine leads the nation in presidential balloting.

Although Mr. Roosevelt had said his cruise was to be nonpolitical he yielded to local advisors and entered American territory in the afternoon after an absence of more than two weeks. From his car he waved and smiled at prospective voters.

Hospitality at Campobello.

In changing his plans Mr. Roosevelt bowed to the hospitality of Canadians at Campobello. He drove to the dock strung with American and British flags from which he had planned to leave for Quebec.

There he was greeted by islanders. From the dock he drove to the two automobile capacity ferry which ply between the island and Lubec on the American coast. In his car were his mother, Mrs. Sarah Delano Roosevelt, and Lieut. Col. Philip Fleming, director of the doomed Passamaquoddy power project. A second car carried secret service men.

He drove through Lubec and 40 miles on a circling road to Eastport. The route included a fifteen minute stop at the model village built for Quoddy workers for which he must find some use now that the power project funds are being exhausted.

Boards Yacht Potomac.

In Eastport he boarded the presidential yacht Potomac for St. Andrews, N. B. He made the fifteen mile cruise at slow speed so as not to arrive until a half hour before the scheduled departure of his special train for Quebec, which pulled out at 8 o'clock.

"I hope to come back next year even if it is in the rôle of a private citizen," the President told Lieut. Gov. Murray MacLaren of New Brunswick province at St. Andrews.

Mr. Roosevelt will arrive in Quebec about 9 o'clock tomorrow morning and will be met by Lord Tweedsmuir, governor general of Canada; Premier MacKenzie King, and other Canadian officials, who are to escort him to the Citadel, provincial headquarters. He will attend a luncheon to be given by Lord Tweedsmuir, tour the city, return to the Citadel for tea, and reboard his train at 5 p. m.

During the visit the President has announced he will discuss the working of the reciprocal trade treaty, mutual development of hydro electric power at Quoddy and revival of the St. Lawrence waterway treaty.

COLLAPSES IN HOTEL.

Paul C. Lueken, 35 years old, 6537 South Sangamon street, suffered a paralytic stroke yesterday while visiting with his cousin, the Rev. Edward J. Bauer of Evansville, Ind., in the Morrison hotel. At Henrotin hospital it was said that Lueken's condition was critical.

HOW'LL YOU HAVE YOUR BEER ...BOTTLE OR CAN ?

There's a lot to be said for each!

A CAN • keeps out light • saves half the weight and space • cools quickly • no deposits • no empties to return • can't break.

SO WE COMBINED THE BEST FEATURES OF BOTH IN THE CAP SEALED CAN

CUSTOM-BUILT, combining the best points of a bottle and a can, this new Cap Sealed Can is the perfect container for beer. The reasons why it makes your beer taste better are three: The Cap Sealed Can, like a beer barrel, is lined after it is made, to insure a one-piece lining; it permits faster pasteurization; and it protects the beer against light. You open the Cap Sealed Can as you've always opened a beer bottle. You pour from a clean, cap-protected, sanitary opening. And on picnics or outings, what a convenience to save half the weight and space . . . no deposits or returns . . . drink right from the can . . . chills quickly . . . never any breakage. Remember, for the finest beer in the finest container, ask for the Cap Sealed Can.

NAME WEST SIDE VOCAL ENTRIES IN MUSIC FESTIVAL

Hold Preliminary Events in Three Divisions.

BY VIRGINIA GARDNER.

From classroom, barber shop, tavern, bank, factory, and suburban home came the winners in last night's west side preliminary contest for baritones, tenors, and contraltos in the Chicagoland Music Festival, held at the Chicago Woman's Club theater, 72 East 11th street. Winners will compete against those of other districts in the Cook county finals. The festival, sponsored by THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, will be held in Soldiers' field on the night of Aug. 15.

Three Italians, one native born, the others second generation, won the first three places among twenty-six tenor contestants. A small, dapper man with a big voice, Michael Signorelli, 5 feet 3 inches tall, and weighing 145 pounds, placed first. A former teacher of violin, Mr. Signorelli now teaches the Italian language. He is 29 years old and lives at 3641 Lexington street.

Placed Second Last Year.

Last year he won second place among the west side tenors, and two years ago, third place. He sang "The Flower Song" from "Carmen." A former Northwestern university student, a composer, he studies voice with Forrest Lamont and was coached by Isaac Van Grove.

Second place went to John Contrafatta, 34 years old, 4038 Division street, who owns a barber shop at 2342 Madison street. He was born in Italy and studies voice with Alexander Nakutin.

Duilio Pucci, 22 years old, 1614 South 51st court, sang Toselli's "Serenade" and placed third. He studied under Umberto Beduschi for two years, won a movie singing contest, and now is working in his father's tavern and restaurant.

A tall, slender woman who sings "just because I love music and want my three children to know it," Mrs. Lenore Peckat, 34 years old, 208 Marenga avenue, Forest Park, won first among contraltos. She sang "Do Not Go, My Love." She is the wife of Walter Peckat, automobile dealer of Maywood. She has studied with Hulda Blanke.

Pretty Brunette Is Second.

Miss Muriel Schreiber, 28 years old, 5141 Cullom avenue, a pretty brunette, was second, singing "Widmung" by Schumann. She is in the accounting department of the Bell Telephone company, and studies at the American Conservatory of Music with Theodore Harrison.

Miss Evelyn Johnson, 26 years old, 517 North Harvey avenue, Oak Park, sang "Dost Thou Know That Land" from "Mignon," and won third. She is a clerk at the First National bank and studies with Jane Ogden Hunter.

First in the baritone class went to Robert Oehrlein, 24 years old, 1839 Monroe street, who is a wrapper at a candy bar cover factory. Oehrlein sang the "Prologue" from Leoncavello's "Pagliacci." He studies with E. Warren K. Howe.

Youth, 18, Places Second.

An 18 year old baritone, Benjamin Lee Coyte Jr., 7569 West Lake street, River Forest, was second. He is taking a prelegal course at Oak Park Junior college. Mrs. Lulu Lofty is his teacher. Coyte sang "Hills of Home." Harry Swanson, 26 years old, 2501 Ballou street, an inspector with the General Electric X-ray service, won third, singing the "Prologue." Swanson is a pupil of Mme. Emma Roe.

Judges were Rose Lutiger Gannon, Nelli Gardini, and Walter Dellers. At a preliminary contest for west side basses, sopranos, and mezzos, beginning at 7 o'clock tonight, judges will be Mark Love, Ellen Kinsman Mann, Mary Ann Kaufman.

Winners in West Side Music Festival Contest

ONE DAY STRIKE ON WPA PROJECT ENDS IN PEACE

Termed a "misunderstanding," a one day strike of 600 WPA workers ended peacefully yesterday on the Calumet Sag channel project at 134th street and Homan avenue west of Blue Island. After conferring with a strikers' committee, WPA officials said the men had walked off the job because they believed they were not to receive the reduction in hours worked each month, a plan established throughout the state recently.

Under the new system, the hourly wage rates have been increased from 42 to 50 cents an hour, with a reduction in hours to keep the total monthly wage at $55. The first pay period under this change began on Wednesday, officials told the workers.

RESTORE RELIEF SHELTER SYSTEM FOR MEN CLIENTS

Restoration on a limited scale of the shelter system of housing single men who are on the relief rolls was announced yesterday by City Relief Commissioner Leo M. Lyons. Inadequate funds make the step necessary, since it costs more to support the men on an individual basis. The Newberry shelter at 1400 Newberry street will be filled to its capacity of 650 as quickly as possible, Lyons said. Those transferred from the regular family relief lists will be single men who are over 60 years old or who have a physical handicap and who are now facing eviction from their private rooms.

CALUMET TOWNSHIP RECALLS RELIEF TAX; OVERLAPS CHICAGO

Residents of Calumet township yesterday reversed their earlier action in approving a 30 cent tax per $100 of assessed property valuation for relief purposes. At a township meeting in Blue Island they voted 103 to 0, to recall the tax. The reversal was voted because part of the township lies within the city limits of Chicago and the levy would result in double taxation since Chicago already has approved the 30 cent tax. It is expected that the confusion over the relief levies resulting from the overlapping of the taxing districts will be straightened out when the state legislature reconvenes next Tuesday.

HUNT TRIO WHO THREW ACID ON PAINTED BUILDING

The police yesterday were searching for three hoodlums who early Wednesday threw acid on the newly painted two story frame building at 3119 Seminary avenue. Witnesses described the trio. Frank Krause, 2742 Greenview avenue, a painting contractor, reported that on Tuesday, after he had finished painting the house himself he was approached by two men who said they were business agents of the painters' union and asked to see his union card. He informed them that he did not belong to the union. He told the police that they made threats before they left. The building is owned by Mrs. M. Kraftmeyer, 2510 Southport avenue.

NEW YORK ACTS TO COLLECT TAX ON HOUSING UNIT

New York, July 30.—[Special.]—The city today moved to collect taxes on the buildings and improvements of Knickerbocker village, lower east side apartment group, on the ground that the buildings are not being used for the purposes described in the state housing law and therefore are not entitled to tax exemption.

Although the board of estimate and the housing board have granted exemption, Assistant Corporation Counsel John M. Gaston Jr. told Supreme Court Justice Samuel I. Rosenman that it was the city's intention to collect taxes on improvements assessed at $5,150,000.

Mr. Gaston's argument was made in opposition to a motion by Knickerbocker Village, Inc., operator of the project, for a judgment to vacate the $5,150,000 assessment. The board of taxes and assessments placed a value of $7,000,000 on Knickerbocker Village, including $1,850,000 for the land.

"The city," he said, "can show that the rentals charged by Knickerbocker village, the incomes of the tenants residing there and the character of the tenancy were such as not to include any of the persons for whom these projects were proposed by the state housing law."

BRITAIN, RUSSIA IN NAVY PACT; NO LIMIT ON TONNAGE

Japan Plans Early Start on 4 New Capital Ships.

LONDON, July 30.—(AP)—Russia signified her entry into the expanding naval armaments race today by reaching an accord with Great Britain which sets no limit to her tonnage.

Other tangible evidence of naval competition among the largest powers came from Tokio in the prediction Japan would arrange to start replacing four capital ships within the year. The Japanese disclosure followed American and British announcements yesterday indicating accelerated naval construction as soon as the 1922 Washington and 1930 London limitation treaties expire next Dec. 31.

Start Two Battleships in 1937.

The British said they would lay down the keels of two new battleships in 1937.

[Admiral William H. Standley, acting secretary of the navy, declared in Washington he had "not the slightest doubt" the United States would let contracts by fall for two new battleships and their keels would be laid next January. He also gave urgency to congress-authorized recruiting of 10,000 men to raise to 100,000 the navy's enlisted strength, needed to man twenty-three new fighting ships scheduled for completion this year.]

The Anglo-soviet pact pushes one step forward the policy of Britain to arrange bilateral treaties with other powers.

The treaty has been completely drafted, it was said, but is not yet signed. It is based on the London naval accord signed this year by Britain, France, and the United States, with Italy and Japan refusing to participate.

Details Kept Secret.

All that is required to conclude the treaty, officials said, is to inform the United States and France of Britain's intentions and receive official acknowledgments. Pending authorization therefore officials declined to publicize the details.

It was learned, however, from authoritative Russian sources that the soviet received a free hand on the total tonnage of its eastern fleet, a point on which it has insisted since the discussions were started.

Russia was adamant, it was learned, because it was not willing to bind itself to a western pact in the face of an unrestricted Japanese naval program.

One purpose of the agreement with Russia, it was stated officially, was to obtain soviet adherence to the principles of the tripartite treaty signed last March. It provides for limitation of the tonnage of individual ships, but not of their numbers, and for an exchange of building information between signatory powers.

Viscount Swinton, British air secretary, meanwhile announced creation of a volunteer royal air force reserve, open only to civilians. Eight hundred pilots will be required annually.

Denmark May Join Pact.

COPENHAGEN, July 30.—(AP)—Denmark, in response to a British invitation, decided today to send naval representatives to London in August to discuss Danish participation in the Anglo-American-French naval pact.

AGREEMENT ON AIRPORT TRACK REMOVAL NEAR

Progress was reported yesterday in the city's effort to remove the Chicago and Western Indiana railroad tracks from the Chicago airport. A tentative plan to move the tracks from 59th street to parallel the right of way of the Indiana Harbor Belt railroad tracks at 54th street was submitted to a subcommittee of the city council by a group of engineers appointed to work out a solution. The subcommittee voted to get an estimate of the costs before recommending the plan to the aviation committee of the city council.

The report submitted yesterday said that both the Indiana Harbor Belt company and the Chicago and Western Indiana company have recently signified that two tracks for each railroad will suffice. Previously officials of the railroads insisted that each needed three tracks.

Ald. Roger J. Kiley [37th], chairman of the subcommittee, said that this new plan brings a solution of the track removal problem within sight.

SEVERELY BURNED IN BARN BLAZE.

Logansport, Ind., July 30.—[Special.]—Trapped by fire while storing straw in a barn, John Phillips, 50, and Rudy Baker, 54, were severely burned today before they escaped by sliding down the blower of a threshing machine. Ninety-two head of hogs, the barn, and the threshing machine were destroyed.

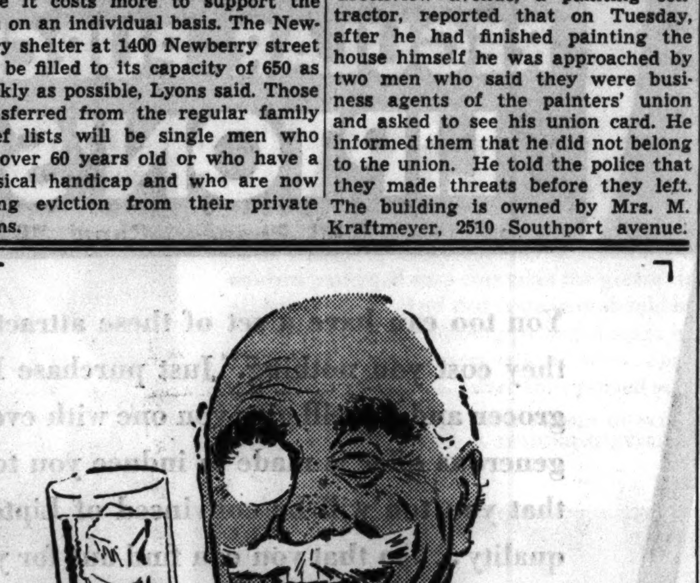
The MILWAUKEE ROAD



The drink that converted the Colonel

LONG YEARS IN INDIA had peppered the Colonel with strange beliefs. "Hot weather demands high seasoning" was his favorite motto. His particular dish was a curry hot enough to melt gold teeth—even his iced drinks seemed to sizzle.

When he visited America, someone gave him a Tom Collins mixed with Fleischmann's Gin. It was a cool, smooth drink—the gin enhanced the subtle tang of the fruit, but didn't overpower it.

"Deuced smooth, you Americans!" was his only comment. Later he was discovered gazing lovingly at his diplomatic passport—which allowed him to salt away several cases of Fleischmann's Gin among his luggage.

BANANAS ARE DIFFERENT IN THESE RECIPES

Brand New Combinations for Them Listed.

"Tips on Tea Parties," a Mary Meade booklet containing recipes and suggestions for formal and informal teas, is on sale at the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street and Tribune Tower, for 3 cents; by mail, 5 cents, stamps or coin. Address mail requests to Mary Meade, Chicago Tribune.

BY MARY MEADE.

Now and again we get so excited about a recipe or a group of recipes that we all but lose our breath in haste as we rush them through the typewriter on their way to you.

That's the way we feel about these banana recipes this morning. We have some new ones! And we can hardly wait for you to try them, and give us your opinion.

A meat or fish salad to start off with. Or you may use chicken, tuna fish, ham, corned beef, shrimp, crabmeat, or salmon. Take your choice. Any of them is sure to be good.

BANANA MEAT OR FISH SALAD.

[Serves 6 to 8]

3 diced bananas
⅔ cup diced pineapple
1½ cups diced cooked meat or fish
¼ cup diced celery
¼ teaspoon salt
Mayonnaise

Mix bananas and pineapple together. Add other ingredients, using just enough mayonnaise to moisten. Serve on crisp lettuce and garnish with chopped nuts and a little more mayonnaise. Omit the salt in the recipe when using ham or corned beef.

Then there's this frozen banana salad which we must get off our mind. We hate to use superlatives, because they are so often overworked, but this salad is good. And it is beautiful. Pimentos give it color.

FROZEN SALAD A LA JEANNE.

4 ripe bananas
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 cup heavy cream, whipped
½ cup mayonnaise
½ pound marshmallows, cut in pieces
3 pimentos, pureed, and juice [1 can]
¾ teaspoon salt

Slice the bananas and mix with lemon juice. Fold in whipped cream, mayonnaise, marshmallows, and pureed pimentos. Add salt. Mix well and pour into freezing trays of refrigerator. Freeze for several hours, or until stiff. Cut into squares and serve on lettuce or watercress with French dressing.

Here's something we like especially well. Bananas baked with tiny sausages. You slit the banana skin on one side, cut the banana within it in two lengthwise, poke a couple of sausages [the link ones] between the two halves and bake them together. It is usually a good idea to cook the sausages for a few minutes first in order to fry out some of the fat which might otherwise completely fill your banana boat.

BANANA SUPREME.

4 bananas
⅔ cup chopped nutmeats
4 graham crackers, crushed
⅛ teaspoon grated nutmeg
⅓ cup brown sugar

Cut bananas lengthwise and crosswise into quarters. Blend nutmeats with crackers, sugar, and nutmeg. Roll bananas in the mixture, place them close together in a buttered pan and bake 20 minutes in a moderate oven [350 to 375 degrees]. Serve with whipped cream.

Oh, dear! We've run out of space without telling you about the banana cocktail made with bananas, grapefruit, and crushed peppermint. And about a new banana cream pie. Well, some other time, then!

SALAD POSSIBILITY

Make the most of salad plate possibilities while the delicious fresh fruits are still on the market. This one in its natural colors is a beauty. The centerpiece of chicken salad on a pineapple slice, is surrounded by watermelon balls, orange slices, whole cherries, white grapes, peach slices, red raspberries, and grapefruit sections. Mayonnaise is the dressing used.

Use Chopped Ripe Olives to Flavor Sandwich Filling

Chopped ripe olives enhance the flavor of almost any sandwich filling, and come conveniently packed in cans for this purpose. They are delicious with ham, chicken, tuna fish, cheese, peanut butter, and egg fillings.

TRY BAKED HAM SLICES AND FRUIT AS SUMMER DISH

You all like occasional warm dinners, no doubt, even on the hottest of the summer days. Baked ham slices, garnished with crusted fresh fruits and a few sprigs of fresh mint or watercress, will liven up even appetites which have gone completely sluggish.

The slices are first browned in a moderately hot oven or under the broiler, then covered and baked in a moderately slow oven [300 degrees F] for 1½ hours for a 2 inch slice or 1 hour for a 1 inch slice.

For the fruit garnish use fresh halved pears, peaches, or apricots [or a mixture of all of these]. Roll prepared cereal fine. Dip the cut side of the fruit in melted butter, then in the crushed cereal, and place, cut side up, in an open baking pan. Let fruit bake until lightly brown. Serve with a spoonful of tart jelly in the center of each. Garnish with fresh mint, watercress, or parsley.

PEACH MUFFINS (FRESH FRUIT) AID A LUNCHEON

PEACH MUFFINS.

2 cups flour
4 teaspoons baking power
½ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons sugar
1 egg
1 cup milk
1 cup diced fresh peaches
¼ cup melted butter

Sift first four ingredients together. Beat the egg, add milk, peaches, and melted butter. Turn liquid ingredients into flour mixture. Stir only enough to moisten the dry ingredients. Fill greased muffin tins ⅔ full. Bake in 400 degree oven for 20 minutes.

Freeze Candy in Ice Cubes Used for Summer Drinks

A new note in ice cubes: Freeze tiny candies in the ice cubes you use in your summer drinks. Simply freeze the cubes until a thin crust forms on the sides, drop the candy pieces into them and continue freezing. Tiny colored gum drops frozen in ice cubes will give fruit drinks a gay note.

EASY TO REMOVE FRUIT STAINS IF YOU KNOW HOW

And This Tells You That, but Don't Use Soap.

Most fruit stains can be removed from cottons and linens if they are treated while fresh by pouring boiling water through the stain, says the New York State College of Home Economics.

To do this, place the stained portion over a bucket on the floor, then pour boiling water through the stain from a height of three or four feet. The force of the water drives out the stain. Do not use soap, as soap sets the stain.

The Same for Dry Stains.

Dry fruit stains are harder to remove, but treat them in the same way as a moist stain. If fruit stains are old or the material has been laundered, they may be bleached with Javelle water or with potassium permanganate and oxalic acid. Another method for removing old stains is to rub the stain well with glycerin. Let this stand for several hours, then pour boiling water through the stain from a height of three or four feet. Oxalic acid and ammonia used alternately are often effective for old stains.

Another method for bleaching white cotton and linen fabrics is to boil the stained material in heavy suds to which peroxide of hydrogen has been added, using one tablespoon of peroxide of hydrogen to one gallon of suds.

Persistence Is the Idea.

Bring the suds to a boil before adding the peroxide. Then add the stained material and boil it for ten or fifteen minutes. If stains such as peach, pear, and plum do not disappear, add another tablespoonful of peroxide of hydrogen for each gallon of water and boil the material again.

Purplish stains like blueberry or plum should be moistened with lukewarm water and rubbed to get rid of the surface stain. Then pour boiling water through the stain from a height. Be sure to remove all the stain before it comes in contact with soap.

BRASS ROLLING PIN FULL OF ICE HELPS MAKE A PIE CRUST

The secret of good pie crust is to keep the ingredients cold while mixing and the pastry cold while rolling. This week there appeared on the market a new rolling pin which makes it possible to keep the pastry ice cold while it is being rolled. This rolling pin, made in a streamline design, is of brass, with removable bakelite handles. It may be filled with ice cubes or ice water and instantly becomes cold. The pin is sanitary and easy to clean.

LIST SHORT RIBS AS A WEEK-END MEAT BARGAIN

Many of the less popular cuts of beef, such as short ribs, club steaks, pot roast, and rump roast, are recommended as the most economical meat buys over the coming week-end by the committee on marketing information of the meat council of Chicago.

Many cuts of veal, including shoulder chops, veal breasts, and shoulder roasts also are retailing at attractive price levels, according to the meat council.

FROZEN SALADS YEAR AROUND AID TO WISE HOSTESS

Tribune Booklet Gives Recipes for 16.

Frozen salads are going right to the top of the popularity list because of their year round charm. They are as appropriately placed on the winter menu as on the summer bill of fare. For a summer luncheon little else but a frozen salad is needed besides a few filling sandwiches and a cooling beverage.

The wise hostess serves frozen salads frequently and has a large répertoire at her command. Mary Meade's booklet "Sixteen Refrigerator Frozen Salads" will give you recipes for many types of frozen salads to which you have not previously been introduced.

Turtles and Something Else Arrive for Zoo Swamp

The first inhabitants for the Lincoln park zoo's new terrarium, or swamp house, arrived yesterday from the Memphis, Tenn., Zoölogical gardens. Foreman Jack Stratton knows three of them are alligator turtles, but said he will have to look up a dozen others in the book today.

FRANCES PERKINS HIT BY FRENCH SUFFRAGE STORM

PARIS, July 30.—(AP)—French suffragettes tonight greeted Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins with yells, "We want the vote! We want the vote!" The disturbance began as Mme. Cecile Brunschvigg, undersecretary of education, arose to introduce Miss Perkins at the convention of the International Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs.

Hotel employés, when they went to quiet the women, found they had chained themselves to their chairs.

Louise Weiss, feminist leader, told the meeting that Mme. Brunschvigg and two other cabinet members should have refused to take their jobs unless women were given the right to vote.

The suffragettes were cheered over passage of a bill in the chamber of deputies recognizing the principle of political franchise for women, by a count of 488 to 1. The chamber, however, has frequently passed such bills, but the senate has blocked them.

Quad City Farmers to Get 30 Cents More for Milk

Rock Island, Ill., July 30.—[Special.]—Farmers of this quad-city area are going to get an increase of 30 cents per 100 pounds in No. 1 class fluid milk beginning Aug. 1, William O. Perdue, federal milk license administrator for this community, announced today. Dealers now pay farmers $1.90 per 100 pounds, but the increase will bring it to $2.20.

ON HOT DAY JUST MIX UP A SALAD FOR WHOLE MEAL

When it's too hot to cook, a substantial whole meal salad is the best solution if there are hearty appetites to be satisfied. This may consist of nothing more elaborate than a well seasoned potato salad to which corned beef cubes have been added. Or it may take the form of a tasty and filling seafood mixture, garnished with hard cooked egg slices.

Other recipes for whole meal salads which will be found useful next time you rebel against a long siege in the kitchen on a hot day are listed below:

SALAMAGUNDI.

1 cup diced boiled potatoes
1½ cups diced boiled ham or pork
⅓ cup canned peas
2 tablespoons chopped pimiento
⅓ cup diced celery
¼ cup watercress, broken into one inch pieces
½ cup mayonnaise
⅛ teaspoon salt

Toss the ingredients together lightly. Place in lettuce cups and garnish with slices of red radish.

HUNTER'S SALAD.

1 cup canned green beans, but in two inch lengths
4 small sized sausages
3 cups shredded raw cabbage
2 tablespoons minced green pepper
¼ cup minced cucumber
2 tablespoons chopped celery
¾ teaspoon salt
2 tomatoes
Mayonnaise

Bake the sausage in a hot oven until browned on all sides. Slice across into small pieces and cool. Combine with the cabbage and beans. Now add the minced green pepper, cucumber, celery, and salt to three or four tablespoons of mayonnaise. Blend this dressing lightly with the other ingredients and serve chilled in a salad bowl with a garnish of peeled quartered tomatoes about the top.

BEEF SALAD.

1 cup cold beef, diced
1 small cucumber, diced
½ teaspoon chopped onion
1 tablespoon capers [optional]
3 tablespoons chopped green pepper
2 tablespoons minced parsley
2 sprigs mint, minced [optional]
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
French dressing

Toss together all the ingredients, using enough French dressing to blend.

Red Pavilion

By Pauline Stiles

SYNOPSIS.

Shortly after the world war Roger Mallard, handsome young Englishman, is embittered by the loss of hearing in one ear from a war injury. Mal's parents died when he was a youngster. He has been raised by his godfather, William Grimwold, an actor. Grimmy persuades Mal to attend Maude Copley's New Year's eve party, where he meets lovely young Pamella Wyeth, though he forgets her on meeting Zelda Manners, an actress, whose only ambitions are mercenary. A month later Mal marries Zelda. She believes he will become a great actor.

INSTALMENT V.

A DETERMINED WIFE.

The honeymoon down in Devon was soon over. A disturbing, a vaguely disappointing one to an ardent young husband. It seemed to end abruptly one morning in the hills above the Valley of Rocks at Lynton.

Screened by heather, Mal and Zelda sat on a slope overlooking the sea. Sheep browsed near by. A pale shaft of sunlight glistened wetly over the slate stones embedded in the hillside, and feebly opposed the mists creeping up the valley.

Mal's dark head was pillowed on Zelda's lap. Her fingers made havoc with his hair. He'd been trying to interest her in Shelley, whose lyricism was too frail for her voluptuous taste. Finally she interrupted his reading.

"Mal, your voice is absolutely remarkable. In my opinion, there isn't one in the English theater to surpass it. You've simply got to give it to the public!"

"I don't give a damn for the public so long as my meager talents suit my wife."

"They aren't meager."

"That's the way a man likes to hear his spouse talk!"

"It's a shame to waste such a reading as you've given this poem on an empty hillside which can't pay to hear you."

"I've had the only audience I care about," Mal murmured.

For some unaccountable reason he suddenly thought of that child he'd met at Maude's party—forgotten until this instant. He felt that Shelley and an empty hillside and a lover would have appealed to her.

"And anyway," Zelda yawned, "why read poems about larks when you can hear them?"

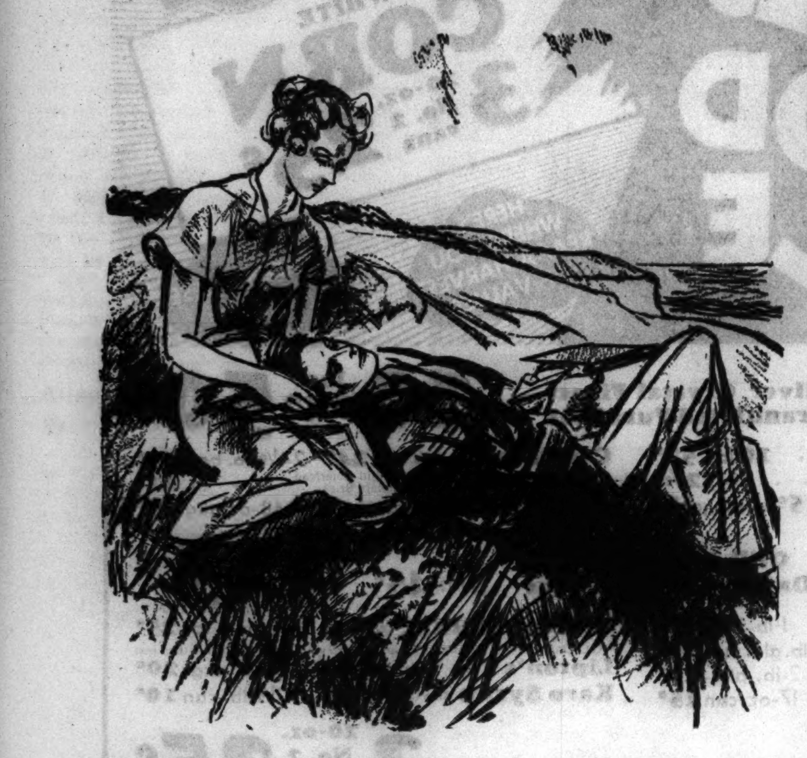
"Larks?"

"Yes. Hear them?"

He looked away from Zelda's face and up from Shelley's poem. He could see the black specks swooping and darting. He heard only a strange, incessant roar. . . .



For some reason he thought of the child he'd met at Maude's party.

"Lovely, aren't they?"

Mal shook his head.

"Zelda, have you noticed that I don't always hear you?"

She gave him a disbelieving stare.

"I've tried my best not to let it bother you."

"The only thing that bothers me about you, Mal, is your stubbornness and your odd sort of inattention."

"My—my what?"

"Inattention."

"Sweetheart—it isn't inattention. I only wish it were! That war injury I've spoken of left this side of my head practically dead to sound. . . . Because of this I'm afraid I couldn't make good on the stage, in spite of any ability I may have."

"Mal, I refuse to believe for a moment it's as serious as all that. This is just morbid imagination. . . . Anyway, there's the cinema with a lot more money in it—and mostly pantomime. . . . Here, let me look at your head." She examined it anxiously, and then pressed it to her breast. "Thank heaven, it isn't a bit disfigured. Mal, for pity's sake, don't get queer like a lot of these shell-shocked fellows. . . . I've heard that old Joe Jefferson played his Rip Van Winkle for years after he couldn't hear a single cue. And you hear as well as anybody when you pay attention."

His eyes searched her face.

"Then this doesn't make any difference to you?"

"Not if you'll go ahead with my great plans for you. Don't forget," she laughed at him archly, "that I put Alfred off because I believed you the better man! . . . O, Mal, I've had such a rotten life. Starving and struggle. All those horrible No. 4 and 5 companies playing melodramas at town halls and corn exchanges. Funny thing—your father and mother were like gods to me. My ideal of what I longed to have and be. And then to meet you, their son. . . . Yes, I'm firmly expecting you to become my famous husband and to give me a smart establishment in Mayfair! . . . Mal, you've often told me how you used to love your profession——"

"Yes. Once. After my first taste of its intoxication—with my teeth in a good part. But now——"

"Dearest—you might be a really great artist, if you'd only try. Won't you?"

Mal stared up at the larks.

"Hail to thee, blithe spirit!" Zelda laughed against his ear. "Remember," she added with a sudden sharpness, "I can't go on caring for any man—no matter how prepossessing—who proves to be a coward. . . ."

Thus it happened that the honeymoon was curtailed by two days so that Mr. Roger Mallard could begin a round of the London theatrical agencies, accompanied by a wife determined to inspire him at once.

But time brought no evidence of an establishment in Mayfair, even though it presented the Mallards with two more New Years' eves.

This second one came in on the teeth of a storm. It beat upon Mal's threadbare jacket and lashed at his neck despite his turned-up collar. He was already soaked, stumbling along through the inky, rain-pelted darkness from a dingy theater to equally dingy lodgings in a town in the north of England.

The two years had dragged along their sultry way. Two years of moving from lodging to lodging in London and the provinces. Years of brief engagements, now he, now Zelda. Years of being cramped and cooped up together, more or less hungry, sometimes ill. Years of increasing disillusionment, leading to out and out bickerings, which only he ever attempted to control. Years of steadily mounting criminations from a wife who began to accuse him of being both stupid and uncanny merely to annoy her.

"I don't know which plagues me more," she would complain, "your weird theft of the very thoughts from my mind, or your pretense not to hear me when I'm ruining my voice screaming at you."

"You know I'm not pretending."

"I think you are shamefully weak, Mal, to harp so much on that war injury. I can't see that it's affected you any except to make you provokingly touchy."

And Mal would retire into an impregnable silence which often seemed to torment her the most.

But her main grievance was his failure to make a success under her inspiration—his abject failure to provide her with money. And the times when he turned on her with some of her own methods were the unhappy occasions on which she upbraided him for refusing help from Grimwold, or for taking what money they had to pay their bills.

Two years—O daughter of Jerusalem, Mal was thinking. And this is my beloved—my friend. . . .

And now he'd lost this last engagement—the lead in a play so maudlin it made him sick—which Zelda had got for him by petty wire pulling.

Well, now for it. . . . Mal braced himself and, bending head down before the wind, struggled into Mrs. Prickett's garden path at the top of High street.

It was indeed a grubby little lodgings. In after years, as in a nightmare, Mal could see exactly how it had looked when he opened the door and then stood there, leaning against it. No fire in the grate because he couldn't pay for the coal.

RISE IN PRICE OF FLOUR REFLECTS WHEAT SHORTAGE

Other Items Also Boosted on Week-End Counters.

BY FRANK RIDGWAY.

Farm crop shortages, resulting from the drouth, are being reflected more and more each week in higher retail prices on several items of food. Fortunately these advances are being offset to some extent by retailers who are able to lower their prices on several foods.

The world's half billion bushel wheat shortage is beginning to show up on price tags in retail stores. Housewives who bake their own bread and pastries will find that flour is higher this week-end than last. Bread prices have not been advanced.

Fresh Meat Is Higher.

Practically all retail fresh meat prices are higher than they were a week ago. In most Chicago and suburban butcher shops included in THE TRIBUNE's weekly retail store survey prices on round steak are 4 cents a pound higher than last week. Sirloin steaks are up from 2 to 3 cents a pound. Beef rib roast is one of the few fresh cuts of beef that is lower. Many shops are selling it at 2 to 6 cents a pound less than a week ago.

Dressed choice beef in Packingtown is up 50 cents to $1 a hundred pounds. Live cattle of the good to choice grades are off 25 to 50 cents a hundred pounds because farmers are rushing their steers to market. Water shortage and high priced corn have made it necessary for corn belt feeders to market more than the usual number of steers this week, according to John Campbell, federal live stock market reporter.

Butcher shops have raised the price of fresh lamb. Some are asking about 4 cents a pound more than last week for leg of lamb and lamb chops. Dressed wholesale lamb prices are about $1 a hundred higher. Fat lambs, however, are off about 25 cents a hundred pounds.

Pork Prices Boosted.

Retailers have boosted their prices on pork in many shops. Some have marked up loin of pork 3 to 4 cents a pound. Fresh loins of the lighter grades are 50 cents to $1 a hundred pounds higher on the wholesale market. Light hogs are comparatively scarce and as a result farmers got 15 to 25 cents a hundred more this week. Good to choice light hogs, weighing 190 to 220 pounds, sold as high as $11.30 a hundredweight, the highest price paid producers this year. The drouth has encouraged farmers to market their brood sows which has had a tendency to force prices downward on the heavier grades. Heavy loins and shoulders are 50 cents a hundred pounds less on the wholesale market.

Sugar is on sale in many stores at 5 cents a ten pound sack less than last week. Lard is down about 3 cents a pound in some stores, while it is slightly higher in most stores that are not featuring it in their week-end sales.

Fresh tomatoes are down generally in stores throughout the city and suburbs. However, receipts of tomatoes were light this week on the wholesale market and prices there are tending upward again. Lemons are lower than last week, both on the wholesale and retail markets. Cooler weather has caused the drop in lemon prices, dealers say.

Bargains in Tea and Coffee.

Most stores are featuring some brands of tea and coffee on their bargain lists. The reductions on coffee are on the lower priced brands. Cooking apples are slightly lower than last week. Fresh peaches are lower in most stores, but are higher on the wholesale market.

Green beans still are high, with prices varying more than usual between the different retail stores. A few stores have raised the price of green beans, some have lowered them, and others have made no change. Wholesale prices on green beans are lower than last week. Fresh peas are slightly lower in most stores.

A few stores are selling flour at last week's prices but most of them have added 4 to 6 cents to the price of 24½ pound sacks of the leading brands. Eggs are up 2 cents a dozen. Roasting ears are higher in most stores and a few have marked up their price tags on cabbage, celery, and head lettuce.

TRIBUNE RECIPES

FRUIT FLAKES

- 2 eggs, slightly beaten
- ⅓ cup corn oil
- 1 cup light brown sugar
- 2 cups cake flour
- ½ teaspoon baking powder
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon soda
- ½ cup chopped dates
- 1 cup chopped nuts
- 2 cups corn flakes

Combine the eggs and oil, add the sugar, and beat well. Add the flour, baking powder, salt and soda, which have been sifted together twice. Fold in the nuts, dates, and corn flakes. Mix well, then drop the batter from the end of a spoon onto an oiled baking sheet. Flatten the cookies somewhat and bake in a moderate oven [350 degrees F.] for fifteen minutes

PEANUT BUTTER SHORTBREAD

- ½ cup peanut butter
- ½ cup shortening
- ½ cup brown sugar
- ½ cup granulated sugar
- 1 egg
- 1¼ cups pastry flour
- ½ teaspoon soda
- ¼ teaspoon salt

Cream together the peanut butter and shortening. Gradually blend in the sugar, creaming until light and fluffy. Add the unbeaten egg and beat thoroughly. Sift the flour together with the soda and salt, and work into the peanut butter mixture. Form the stiff dough into balls about the size of a large hickory nut and place on a cooky sheet about two inches apart. Press the dough down into flattened cookies with cross-wise strokes with the tines of a fork. Bake at 350 degrees F. for about fifteen minutes, or until lightly browned. For variation, decorate the cooky tops with a nut, or bit of date, or fig before baking, or retrace the fork markings with melted bitter chocolate after baking.

COCONUT SNOW PUDDING

- 1 tablespoon granulated gelatin
- ¼ cup cold water
- 1 cup boiling water
- 1 cup sugar
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 1½ teaspoons vanilla
- ¾ cup shredded coconut
- 2 egg whites, stiffly beaten

Soak the gelatin in the cold water for five minutes. Add the boiling water and stir until the gelatin is dissolved. Add the sugar, salt, and vanilla. Chill the mixture until it is cold and sirupy. Then place the pan in a bowl of cracked ice or ice water and whip with a rotary egg beater until fluffy, and as thick as whipped cream. Fold in the coconut and the egg whites. Turn out into a shallow pan. Chill until firm, then cut in one-inch cubes and pile into sherbet glasses. Serve with a thin lemon sauce. Serves eight.

SIMPLE REFRIGERATOR DESSERT

- 16 graham crackers, rolled
- 1 small box marshmallows
- 1 cup chopped walnuts
- 1 cup dates or 1 cup crushed pineapple, drained
- ½ pint coffee cream

Cut up marshmallows and soak in cream. Mix all ingredients together and roll in crums of two more crackers. Put roll in refrigerator over night. Slice and serve with a touch of whipping cream and a garnish of maraschino cherries.

WHIPPED CREAM PIE

- 3 egg whites
- Pinch of salt
- ¾ cup sugar
- 1 tablespoon flour
- 2 cups heavy cream
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- ½ teaspoon almond flavoring or any other desired flavor
- Unbaked pastry shell

Whip the cream with the flavoring until stiff. Combine the sugar and flour and fold them into the cream. Add the salt to the egg whites and beat until stiff. Fold this into the whipped cream mixture. Pour into a pastry lined pie pan, and bake in a moderate oven [350 degrees F.] until the filling is set.

MAKE SANDWICH OF COOKIES AND A TASTY FILLING

A day's cookie baking can be saved by preparing the following home-made fillings for crackers and store bought cookies. These fillings use candies in various ways and the resulting sandwiches make delicious accompaniments for the iced beverage or the summer dessert.

PEPPERMINT FILLING.

NOUGAT FILLING.

HERE'S PUDDING OF BLUEBERRIES FOR YOUR MENU

A blueberry pudding—one with more than just a slight scattering of berries—tops off a light summer menu effectively. The following, served with hard sauce and stewed berries, is most delicious:

BLUEBERRY PUDDING.

- ½ cup butter or margarine
- ¾ cup of sugar
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 2 cups flour
- 4 teaspoons baking powder
- Milk to make a stiff dough
- 1 quart blueberries

Cream the butter and add the sugar gradually. Add the flour, salt, and baking powder mixed together alternately with the milk until a soft dough is formed. Stir in the berries and pour mixture into a greased pan. Bake in a hot oven [400 degrees F.] for 20 minutes. Serve while hot, topping individual servings with stewed sweetened blueberries and hard sauce.

"'Cause I love salads with real mayonnaise!"

AND no wonder. For Hellmann's has a richness and creaminess . . . a delicious full-bodied goodness and flavor that no ordinary dressing can ever give you.

You see, Hellmann's is made differently . . . combining only choice salad oil, freshly-broken eggs, special vinegar and imported spices. No starchy fillers. It's all mayonnaise. And it's double-whipped for extra creamy smoothness.

See how much better salads taste with real mayonnaise. Get a jar of Hellmann's today. It costs but a trifle per salad.

WISE parents make sure their boys and girls have plenty of energy to ride and run all day long.

How? By giving them the right foods to eat. Corn, for instance, is a good source of energy. Served in the form of Kellogg's Corn Flakes, it's not only wholesome and appetizing but wonderfully easy to digest.

Every child loves the taste of those crunchy flakes in milk or cream! A big bowl of Kellogg's makes an ideal breakfast for active youngsters. Equally good for grown-ups. Serve them for lunch or supper. Extra tempting with fruit or berries.

Remember to ask for Kellogg's — the original Corn Flakes — for 30 years the world's most popular ready-to-eat cereal. Kept always oven-fresh by the heat-sealed WAXTITE inner bag — an exclusive Kellogg feature. Easy to serve. Economical. One of the greatest values your grocer sells. Four Gardens to Be Opened in Lake Forest

Visitors Must Bring White Elephant for Shop.

BY JUDITH CASS.

EVERY summer for years Mrs. D. Mark Cummings has arranged a tea to enlarge the stock of the White Elephant Rummage shop which the women's board of the Children's Memorial hospital has run for years as a means of raising money. Mrs. Cummings' health is somewhat delicate this summer because of an operation several months ago, so no plans for the usual tea have been made.

The shop runs on, however, and more white elephants are needed for it, so Mrs. Cummings and her coworkers have decided that something must be done to augment the stock of the shop which is located at 27 East Ohio street.

A garden tour is the result of their planning and on Saturday, Aug. 8, four of Lake Forest's most beautiful gardens will be opened to the public. A white elephant, or in other words, some article which you no longer want but which some one will buy, is the price of admission to each garden. Mrs. Edward L. Ryerson will open the garden of Havenwood, her estate at 1075 Ringwood road; Mrs. James H. Douglas of 910 North Green Bay road will be another hostess; the Misses Colvins' garden at 1350 North Lake road will be another on display, and Mrs. Donald R. McLennan's residence across the road, at 1345 North Lake road, will be the other one to which the public will be admitted that afternoon.

Mrs. Jacob Baur, Mrs. Augustus K. Maxwell, Mrs. Charles K. Foster, and Mrs. Samuel T. Chase are those who are working with Mrs. Cummings on plans for the garden tour.

August to Bring Rush of Vacations.

The coming of August is the signal for many Chicago residents to be on their way to a cooler—or more exciting—part of the country. The Francis M. Knights and their children and Mrs. Knight's mother, Mrs. Herbert F. Perkins, are leaving today for Les Cheneaux, Wis., to be away until after Labor day.

The Edward H. Bennetts, Edward Jr., and Mrs. Bennett's daughter, Betty Mead, left yesterday for their ranch in New Mexico where they usually spend a part of each summer and each winter. The Bennetts are not expected back in Lake Forest until after Labor day.

Also planning to be away until after Labor day are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lincoln Farwell who left their Libertyville farm yesterday for the activity and the cool and stimulating climate of the Seigniory club, near Montreal in Canada. The Laird Bells did not wait until the first of the month to go to the Huron Mountain club where they generally vacation every August. Miss Frances, Miss Margaret and Nathalie Bell accompanied their parents north. The oldest daughter, Miss Helen Bell, is in Europe. The family will assemble at home after Labor day.

The Richard H. Mabbatts and Mr. and Mrs. Louis C. Seaverns are leaving today by motor to spend the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. George Seaverns in Wisconsin.

Mrs. R. Joseph Rich is in Canada visiting the Rich's new property north of Toronto, but she is expected at home in Winnetka at the end of two weeks. Joseph E. Rich, who was graduated in June from Yale, came home from college to be in the wedding party of Fred W. Fairman Jr. and the former Caryl Ely, July 1, but returned east to sail for Europe to spend the summer abroad. When last heard from he and a Yale classmate, Hugh Chisholm Jr. of New York, with Miss Barbara Field and her mother, Mrs. E. Marshall Field, who has taken a castle at Portofino where "The Enchanted April" was written. Mrs. Field's brother, Charles H. Marshall, has taken the castle with her, and the Field cousins, Miss Field, Miss Peggy Marshall, and Miss Cynthia Banks, are spending the summer there.

Mrs. Philo Otis Will Visit Sister in East.

Mrs. Philo A. Otis will leave today to visit her sister, Mrs. Henry A. Wilkinson, at Waterford, outside New London, Conn. She will be away until the middle of September.

Mrs. Farwell Boston, who has been so widely entertained since she has been visiting her mother, Mrs. Granger Farwell, at the Deerpath inn, in Lake Forest, has decided to postpone her return to England until September. Her son, Granger Farwell Boston, is arriving from abroad the middle of August to see his grandmother before returning home with his mother and younger brother, Michael, who is here now.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Fisher of Detroit and their daughter, Miss Mary Fisher, arrived yesterday for the final days of racing at Arlington. They are at the Deerpath inn. They

Other Awards

Mrs. Augustus M. Maxwell was awarded the blue ribbon in the breakfast tray class at the flower show given by the Lake Geneva Garden club yesterday, and Mrs. William M. Spencer won first prize for decorated tables. Mrs. Robert Tarrant, Mrs. Arthur Wakeley, and Mrs. Daniel Peterkin all received honorable mention for their attractively decorated tables. Mrs. Peterkin's zinnias received a blue ribbon. Mrs. Bartholomay and Mrs. Otto L. Schmidt were the prize winners in the vegetable display. The show will continue today.

Hold Preview of Fall Styles for Children

Back-to-school dresses, their deep tones of rust, dark green, plum, and British tan hinting of cool fall days, were modeled yesterday in a preview of women's, children's, and infants' wear fashion shows which next week will mark the opening of the fall markets in the Merchandise Mart.

Beginning Monday and extending through Aug. 15 buyers of merchandise of all lines will come to Chicago to purchase fall and winter wares. Next week will see much activity, with 2,000 manufacturers and wholesalers in all lines of business taking part.

Thirty child models will show new, low cost merchandise for children in a Tuesday morning clinic on the Mart's second floor, conducted by Miss Mari Floto, style expert, following breakfast in Henrici's in the Merchandise Mart. Dresses will feature a schoolroom print, called "geography," in a design of continents in circles; another, called "algebra," showing figures in checks, and others. Children's coats will pattern themselves after their elders', with princess lines, velvet trims, bands of fur, and high shouldered sleeves.

A lingerie, pajama, and women's dress fashion clinic will be held Wednesday, and one on accessories Thursday.

More than 1,000 visiting retailers and buyers of women's ready-to-wear apparel from all sections of the United States were guests of the Style Creators of Chicago on a moonlight cruise of the S. S. Theodore Roosevelt last night. This and a similar excursion Aug. 5 are part of the entertainment arranged for those who attend the two fall market weeks here, July 27 to Aug. 8. A feature of the boat trip was a skit portraying the capture of style pirates, who were made to walk the plank.

DISPLAYS AT PARIS

PARIS, July 30.—(AP)—Parisian dressmakers in showings today borrowed striking masculine styles, but modified them with feminine notes.

The swagger style, on the decline, was replaced by three-quarter length mannish topcoats.

Many suits had knee long mannish fitted jackets or flared and short styles with plain tailored sleeves.

Sensational designs drawn from the exaggerated styles of the directoire period appeared in the show by Creed, who exhibited masculine evening suits of midnight blue broadcloth with a long swallow tail jacket and a man's handkerchief in the pocket.

Wool shooting suits were displayed with trousers and shirts.

Three piece ensembles included suits worn with three-quarter length topcoats or capes. Black flares were used in jackets, dresses, and coats.

White lace ruffles were added to the neck and wrists of the directoire models.

Trimmings included braid bindings, velvet collars and piping along with Persian lamb and sealskin. Fur buttons were utilized in a double breasted manner.

Must Women's Skins look "OLD" At 30-35-40?

WOMEN who once were helpless to fight off "old skin" at 35 now know how to avert this tragedy. A new cream applied at night like cold cream, acts in scientific way to free skin of that veil of semi-visible darkening particles which ordinary creams cannot remove after a certain age. So gentle! And often only 5 days is enough to bring out rose petal softness and white clear look of youth. The way to eliminate ugly pimples, blackheads, freckles is a revelation! Janssen Opens Final Week of Ravinia Series

Conductor Uses Sibelius for Debut Program.

BY EDWARD BARRY.

Ravinia used to scoop Chicago regularly in the old days, sometimes presenting works and personalities with which the big city to the south was not to become familiar for several years—if ever. Exactly the same thing happened last night. Werner Janssen, who had never before conducted in this district, came to the north shore park to direct the Chicago Symphony orchestra in the first concert of the 1936 Ravinia festival's final week.

The Sibelius First Symphony was the corner stone of the program. This constituted an additional bit of interest, for Janssen has conducted in the presence of Sibelius himself and received from the Finnish composer praise for the understanding and enthusiasm the conductor brought to the performance.

But before talking about the symphony here is a general picture of Mr. Janssen and his conducting. He is young—still in his middle thirties—and of martial mien and carriage. He is extremely generous of gesture and has none of the self-consciousness which might prevent him entering wholeheartedly into the music at hand.

Frequently Janssen turns a rapt and earnest profile to the audience while he deals with the men downstage for some effect particularly close to his heart. Sometimes he seems to move a step nearer the orchestra at the approach to some climax, as if he would gladly tuck every fiddle in the lot under his own chin and draw a mighty bow across their strings. He likes the piercing brilliance of massed violins. Most of his other tonal effects are rather restrained.

Janssen's modesty is almost morbid. He acknowledges applause only with the greatest reluctance, and tries to make the orchestra stand at the conclusion of a number before he has himself taken a single bow.

He conducts without score, taps his baton on the concert master's music stand to gain attention.

The tone colorings of the Sibelius symphony were consistently more somber than Frederick Stock's. The beat was extremely incisive, except in the lyric passages of the second movement. This combination of sparingly used colors with rhythmic strictness created an effect of austerity.

Perhaps this effect is necessary if that suggestion of the inhuman loneliness of sub-arctic lands, that informs so much of Sibelius' music, is to be made real for an audience seated amid the gentle, man-dominated beauty of Ravinia park. The conductor unfolded the icy saga with enough regard for its pregnant, mysterious phrases to make the performance as a whole absorbingly interesting.

Another Sibelius item on the program was the "All'overtura" from "Scenes Historiques." The "Royal Fireworks" music of Handel was represented by its overture, Liszt by his "Mephisto" waltz, and MacDowell by an "Indian" suite.

The audience received the new conductor in a friendly manner, but was disappointed, apparently, by the lack of great brilliance in the program as a whole. However, there was a good demonstration after the symphony and another at the end of the evening.

Mr. Janssen conducts again tonight, and closes the festival Sunday afternoon. Hans Lange returns for a single engagement tomorrow evening.

Virgin Timber Dedicated to Kilmer, Author of 'Trees'

Robbinsville, N. C., July 30.—(AP)—A primeval forest in western North Carolina was dedicated today to the spirit of Joyce Kilmer, who wrote the famous poem, "Trees." Hundreds of friends and admirers of the late journalist-poet stood in rain by a huge stone bowlder in the heart of the forest of towering trees for the ceremony. A bronze placque on the bowlder was unveiled, and the 3,840 acre tract of virgin timber was formally named the Joyce Kilmer Memorial forest.

Ice Fund Gets 80 Cents from Lemonade Sale

Other Children Launch Newspaper.

Annette Ruth Greenberg, 1622 Wallen avenue, who is 9 years old, built a lemonade stand last Saturday at Clark street and North Shore avenue. For the stand she printed a sign which read:

"Help the Ice Fund.
"Buy a Drink.
"Pay as much as you want."

"In two and a half hours," Annette Ruth wrote to the Tribune Free Ice Fund yesterday, "I took in 80 cents, which I am enclosing. Mother said this is good for a 9 year old girl to do, but I hope I can do better next time."

Annette Ruth was one of several Chicago children who yesterday sent money to the Free Ice fund. Elinor Kuttnauer, Naomi Levine, and Marilyn Louin started a paper, called the Ice Fund News. Already they have earned $1.21—"so that many little babies will enjoy their fresh milk."

John J. Klocke Jr. of Park Ridge, who is 8, had an orangeade stand. "I made $1 and am putting $1 of my own to that," he wrote. "I hope this will keep some family in ice for a short time."

Current contributions to the ice fund are:

Dance Floor Is Poor Place for Chattering

Occasional Silence Good Rule at All Times.

BY DORIS BLAKE.

A girl reports that at a recent dance her escort, who dances divinely and is just a big bag of conceit, had the nerve to tell her curtly to keep her mouth shut when she danced with him. They had a spat right there on the dance floor and the girl eventually found her way back to her seat alone. She says she was only talking to pass the time and to appear pleasant.

Well, we could think of nicer ways of challenging a fair dancing partner to silence than telling her to keep her mouth shut. But it is a well known fact that good dancers prefer their partners to glide along in a dream without benefit of conversational tidbits. You do enough for the gentleman, girls, when you keep in perfect step with him. It's all he asks and all he wants for the time being. When the music stops and you're escorted back to your corner, or sneak off to a quiet place, you can turn on the chatter. If you're not a good dancer and attempt to cover up with talk you're going to be out of luck next time there's a dance date.

The dance floor isn't the only place where it were well to practice conversational relaxation occasionally. We have in mind a personable young woman whose constant bright line has become so advertised as boring that she is not getting the many invitations she used to enjoy. Feel your way conversationally. One ought to be able to sense the right moment for silence from the lack of interest exhibited by the other person. Not many young men have the courage or the rudeness to tell a girl to keep her mouth shut, but we'll wager that often is their impulse. While you young women are permitted much more liberty of speech than your feminine forbears, and a bolder exhibition of your mental prowess, if you are smart you'll still learn to practice occasional silences just for the sheer quiet of them.

"Baby Doe" Tabor's Red Flannels Sell for $1.50 at Auction

Denver, Colo., July 30.—(AP)—Red flannels that once belonged to "Baby Doe" Tabor were sold across the auction block today for $1.50 a pair.

A silver dollar pocket piece once carried by H. A. W. Tabor, Colorado's eccentric millionaire senator of fifty years ago, sold for $26. Inset in the worn coin is a tiny photograph of the daughter of the Tabors, Silver Dollar.

The auction room was filled for the sale of jewelry, clothes, and other treasures of the once wealthy Colorado frontier family.

"Baby Doe," an old woman dressed in tattered clothing and living in dismal poverty, was found dead in her one room shack beside the abandoned mine in March, 1935.

The flannels were sold to a Denver housewife, who said: "It's going to be a long, hard, cold winter."

According to CULBERTSON

A TREMENDOUS SWING.

A sensational hand has just been sent me by an Australian correspondent, James J. Newman. His letter declared:

"The following hand which was dealt and played in a pennant bridge match in Melbourne in May, between teams captained by N. Mussen and V. Champion shows that the seemingly impossible can sometimes occur. The teams concerned are leading in a competition, and the gigantic swing of 3,300 on one hand is probably unprecedented in competitive bridge.

"At Table No. 1, North and South called and made seven hearts, scoring 1,720 points. At Table No. 2, East and West called and made seven diamonds and scored 1,580 points on the same deal, but playing the opposite hands to those on which the grand slam was made at the other table."

This colossal hand was:

The bidding in room 1 was:

South	West	North	East
Pass	Pass	1 heart	2 spades
4 hearts	4 spades	5 hearts	5 spades
Pass	Pass	6 hearts	6 spades
Double	Pass	7 hearts	Double

Result—Seven hearts bid, doubled and made. 1,720 points to North-South.

The bidding in room 2 was:

South	West	North	East
Pass	1 diam.	1 heart	1 spade
4 hearts	Pass	Pass	5 diam.
5 hearts	Pass	Pass	6 diam.
Pass	Pass	6 hearts	Pass
Pass	7 diam.	Double	Pass

Result—Seven diamonds bid, doubled and made. 1,580 points to East-West.

Mr. Newman's report continues: "Mr. Mussen's [North, room 1] reasoning, when making his seven heart bid, is interesting. Immediately upon completion of the hand, he told the writer, 'East's two spade bid over my one heart bid indicated a two-suiter with at least six spades. West's support to four spades showed at least three, but probably four, spades in his hand. It is almost certain, therefore, that my partner is void in spades. Now my partner's support to four hearts over East's two spades shows me that hearts are safe and that she has another ace somewhere. My only gamble then is that it is the ace of clubs and not the ace of diamonds."

"In room 2, West called seven diamonds primarily as a sacrifice. That she was permitted to make the contract was fortunate, as an opening lead of a club or a spade would have defeated her. North had a difficult choice of 'blind' leads to make and led the card which the majority of players would have selected, the ace of hearts."

I think a few comments by myself on the bidding will not be taken amiss by my Australian friends who may see this column.

It appears to me that, in room 1, North should not have bid seven hearts after his partner doubled six spades. The fact that six spades would have been cold except against a diamond opening lead and ruff does not constitute a valid objection to my remark because the real point is that South should not have doubled! A forcing pass was very much in order. Also, East was ill advised to gamble on setting a contract which, if made, would mean an enormous number of points. The safer course, by far, would have been to bid seven spades.

There was much more excuse in room 2 for North's double of seven diamonds. But even so, the same argument just advanced applies to this case also. Seven hearts would have been the more discreet bid.

TODAY'S QUESTION.

Question: If declarer leads from wrong hand, may he correct the lead himself before either opponent speaks up?

Answer: No, either opponent may elect to have the erroneous lead stand.

Four Gardens to Be Opened in Lake Forest

Visitors Must Bring White Elephant for Shop.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Hamill are going out to the Deerpath inn tomorrow for the final concerts at Ravinia, and will remain on in Lake Forest for about a week. They are staying in town this summer except for a short trip or two.

Mrs. John I. Shaw Visiting Her Parents.

While Mrs. John I. Shaw is visiting her parents, the Charles Garfield Kings, at Southampton, her husband has gone to San Francisco. They are both returning to Winnetka the middle of next week.

Mr. Shaw's parents, the Arch W. Shaws, are remaining in Winnetka this summer.

Mrs. Gilbert E. Porter III. and her mother, Mrs. Thomas Kilby, who has been visiting the Porters in Lake Forest, are leaving Aug. 5 to motor to North Hatley in Quebec, where Mrs. Kilby has a summer home. They will be there until Labor day. Mrs. Porter is taking the children with her.

Mrs. Lawrence Eggleston's visit to her sister, Mrs. Lithgow Mitchell of Lake Forest, has been postponed due to a death in Mr. Eggleston's family.

Capt. Pietro Santini, the equitation instructor from Italy, who is visiting the junior Joseph T. Bowens in Lake Forest, was at the Post and Paddock club at Arlington Park yesterday with Mrs. Bowen, J. Andrews King, and Prentice Porter. Mrs. John R. Thompson Jr., just back from a two weeks' fishing trip, had a group of guests at the club, including her daughter, Eleonore.

Maj. and Mrs. William Higgins of Omaha, Neb., and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Pruitt, who will be leaving soon in their yacht, the Joanbar, for a cruise to Georgian bay, were with John E. Hughes. Mrs. Robert J. Thorne, stunning in dubonnet pleated chiffon, had with her her daughter, Mrs. Corson Ellis, and Mrs. John B. Drake Jr.

Mrs. Bernard A. Eckhart was a guest of Mrs. James G. Condon, who also had with her her daughter, Mrs. Truman Brophy III., and Mrs. Allan M. Clement. Mrs. Eckhart is young Mr. Brophy's grandmother.

Miss Susan Means Will Become Bride on September 19

Boston, Mass., July 30.—[Special.]—The wedding of Miss Susan Means, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Whitman Means of Boston and granddaughter of Mrs. William H. Hubbard of Chicago, to Charles Loring Jackson Noble, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Noble of Cambridge, will take place Sept. 19 in Christ church, Hamilton. The Rev. William Stride, the rector, will officiate.

A reception will follow at Two Brooks, Topsfield, the summer home of the bride's parents.

Miss Means will have her sister, Miss Anne Middleton Means, for her maid of honor and only attendant, and John Noble Jr. will be his brother's best man.

The ushers will be announced later. After their wedding trip Mr. Noble and his bride will make their home in New York.

Dietrich Will Avoid Germany Because Nazis Don't Like Her

LONDON, July 30.—(AP)—Marlene Dietrich, arriving in London today from Paris, said she planned "never to go back" to her native Germany.

Asked, "Don't you like the current Germans?" she replied, "They don't like me."

Miss Dietrich asserted she was Aryan, but she did not explain her stand further. The reich has banned most of her films.

Powell's Straw Hat Can't Be Used in Films

Gift of Two Arkansas Fans Made in Vain.

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hollywood, Cal., July 30.—[Special.]—Dick Powell received a package from Little Rock, Ark. It contained a straw hat. The note with it indicated the hat had been woven by two young women of Little Rock and said, "We've seen you in all your pictures and you never have worn a straw hat. Doesn't it ever get summer in Hollywood? We are speaking for all Arkansas fans in asking you to discard your felt hats for a while and wear a straw."

Powell went to Director Lloyd Bacon of "Golddiggers of 1937" and asked to wear the straw. Bacon said that Powell's customary green felt was good enough and he should continue to wear it. Seriously, the trouble may be that a young man who has so many close-ups near the big arc lights cannot take a chance wearing straw hats; they might ignite. But anyway, Powell wrote a letter of regret to the Arkansas girls.

Ginger Rogers will leave soon for Texas to be honor guest at the Dallas centennial fair. She got so excited over the prospect she wrote a little song for the occasion, thinking up her own tune and having some of the R. K. O.-Radio studio music department boys arrange it in notes for her.

It was to be a big secret, but one of the tunesmiths snitched on her to Fred Astaire and the latter drilled all the show girls in the present Astaire-Rogers film, "Swingtime," to sing it with a few appropriate dance steps.

When Ginger appeared on the lot to start her third big musical number with Astaire the girls broke into Ginger's Texas hymn. Then they did a few hey-hey tap steps to the tune. Ginger looked bewildered at first and then grinned. "Now I know the song will be a hit," she said.

Seena Owen, the silent star, has been assigned to collaborate on writing an adaptation of "Carnival" at Paramount.

Mary Carlisle, who entered films at 8 in Jackie Coogan's "If I Were King," has now been signed to a Paramount long term contract.

Isabel Jewell has recovered from flu and Arline Judge is well enough from her two fractured ribs for both girls to return to "Valiant Is the Word for Carrie."

Two aged Indians who were at the battle of Beecher's Island in September, 1868, when 1,000 Cheyennes ambushed sixty-one United States cavalrymen under Col. George Forsyth, are playing the same rôles they enacted then in fight scenes for "The Plainsman." The island on the river in Colorado has been washed away and the reënactment is taking place on an island in the Tongue river, Mont. The two aged Indians are Chiefs Braided Hair, 101, and Pickout, 86. Seventy-five of their tribesmen were killed in the nine day battle. Seven cavalrymen survived the nine day fight. Two nephews of the Cheyenne chief, Roman Nose, who lost his life in that battle, are with the Indians now employed by C. B. De Mille and the Paramount Film corporation to whoop and shoot at the National Guardsmen who are impersonating the United States regulars of that little remembered engagement. The nephews are Little Coyote and Medicine Bird.

Frank Forest was a bit ill after a scene in "The Big Broadcast of 1937," in which he had to smoke portions of seven Cuban cigars till the "take" was satisfactory. He had smoked only one cigar before in his life.

John Ince, brother of the late millionaire producer, Tom Ince, and himself a director, writer, and producer, as well as actor in the silent days, is playing a bit in R. K. O.-Radio's "Don't Turn 'Em Loose," featuring Lew Stone, Bruce Cabot, and Jimmy Gleason.

Paul Robeson, famous Negro singing actor, is going to London as another addition to the cast of American players summoned there. He will have a main supporting rôle in Gaumont-British's "King Solomon's Mines." Roland Young will have the lead.

Jacqueline Saunders, one time star of the silents, reported to Director Mervyn Leroy at Warners to play a secretary in an office in "Three Men on a Horse." "Try and act nervous," Leroy ordered. "I don't have to act. I am nervous," Miss Saunders retorted. Her auto had been in a crash on the way to the studio.

Charlie Ruggles and Adolphe Menjou pulled a ten-minute revolt on the set at Paramount. They declined to leap, fully dressed, into a ditch full of water over which a light oil had been spread to make the water seem muddy. Finally a new ditch was filled and an aromatic brown solution poured in. As long as it wasn't oil, Charlie and Adolphe did their dip.

For Informal Hostessing

WOMAN'S DRESS.

Every housewife finds herself doing a surprising amount of hostessing during the summer. Whether she is at home in the city or presiding over a little household in the country, there are innumerable visitors dropping in at all times, and she must be trimly, neatly, and comfortably dressed at any hour of the day. The pattern which provides for just this need is the one illustrated today. It is designed primarily for the heavier-than-average figure, which usually is a difficult one to garb smartly. The dress has simple straight lines with soft details of styling which make it feminine and graceful. The sleeves are cut in one with the shoulders, and the dress is cut in one from neckline to hemline. There couldn't be a frock in the world which is easier to make than this one. The skirt drapes itself softly around the hipline, and the belt and neckline have graceful bows.

The cool, always delightfully fresh, sheer cottons are perfect for this indispensable dress. Select a cotton voile print, handkerchief linen, dotted swiss, or delicate chiffon. If you wish a sturdier fabric, you might choose cotton crash or shantung.

Style No. 3106 is designed for sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, and 48 inches bust measurement. Size 36 requires 3⅛ yards of 39 inch material, with ¾ yard of 2 inch ribbon for the neckline bow, in case you want contrast instead of employing self-fabric for the trimming.

Holds Creams Are Essential to Skin Beauty

Plentiful Use Required in Hot Weather.

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

Women who dread the greasy feel of face creaming are missing an excellent beauty bet. You can't do better by your face than to "clothe" it in a good thick film of cream for an hour or so daily, sitting somewhere in the heat until the emollient has penetrated deeply, or wearing it around the house mornings while you are actively engaged in household duties. It's messy, it's true. But what's an hour of discomfort compared to the sight of a skin that looks cleaner than it has for months?

If you're having throat or chin trouble, ply that cream well, and while you're feeling messy just use the back of your hands or fingers for patting where chins usually need it. Do a few neck exercises while the cream is on. Stop and go about your work for a time and then come back to your mirror and do a few more slappings and pattings. At the end of your hour use your cleaning tissues for cream removal and then slap on your astringent lotion.

I believe that there is no local assistance you can offer the slipping chin line like a good astringent application. Personally, I vote for the ice astringent because I have seen it work so effectively on chins that through its use have been preserved beyond the expected number of years. Some women claim they simply cannot use ice on the face. If they can't, they certainly have good astringents within reach that will serve most effectively. I like the idea of the ice use first and then for good measure the astringent.

If you're too tired these warm days to do much other work, you're no daughter of Eve if you won't raise a hand to do these little things for the face and throat. I urge it, because these hot days take the very life out of skin left to its own resources. If you take this daily care you can stand a good deal more exposure to wind and sun. If you don't take it, then be sure to let your skin soak up oodles of cream after you've been out driving, golfing, or swimming.

Charges Normandie Vibrations Broke Kidney Stone; Sues

New York, July 30.—[Special.]—A concert singer who says the vibration of the French liner Normandie caused physically and financially painful internal injuries, sued the line today for $100,000.

The complaint, filed in federal court by attorneys for Nastia Poliakova, says the singer embarked on a westward voyage on July 24, 1935, in cabin 960, tourist. She charges there was "unusually violent and excessive and unseaworthy vibration at or about the location of the plaintif's stateroom."

It was so bad, she charged, that a stone in her left kidney became dislodged and two or more pieces broke off, causing an infection. An operation was followed by pneumonia, she said, and as a result she had to cancel a $250 a week contract and "may never be able to earn that salary or any other in the future."

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

We haven't made any secret of our enthusiasm for scientific exercise as a health and beauty promoter. We'd give anything we have to sell women on the exercise idea, especially the business women.

And we've decided that as an exercise for women swimming can't be topped. Couldn't we persuade you to take it up? It's a stabilizer. The thin women will find that it develops them perfectly. The fat women will find that it makes the figure streamlined. And all women will find that it promotes a feeling of well being and of mental buoyancy that adds to poise, personality, and charm.

One good thing about swimming is that all women can take it up. Age isn't any barrier. One expert teacher we know boasts of a pupil who had never gone near the water; she learned to swim when she was 63. And you should see her wham through the water now!

This same teacher, who specializes pretty much in children and terribly timid people, starts her pupils out with breathing and coördination exercises on land first—a grand system for women in particular, we've found.

Girls who are too thin, whose figures are lamentably undeveloped, and who are never quite up to par in health will find swimming profitable as a beauty investment.

A course of lessons is less expensive than a course of body treatments in a beauty salon—and when you've learned how to swim you've opened up a whole new world. You can swim summer and winter, having fun and keeping young and beautiful. The flat chest, the poor posture, the general dilapidation of figure that's inevitable for the woman who doesn't exercise are all vanquished.

Fortune Tellers Dispute Powers of Two Sexes

New York, July 30.—[Special.]—Dispute over the relative psychic powers of the sexes today threatened to wreck the organization of a national association of fortune tellers.

The association was being formed to combat quackery among fortune tellers, and until the sex question intruded all was lovely among the crystal gazers, astrologers, phrenologists, tea leaf and palm readers, card trickers, and sand sifters.

At their meeting aboard the Peter Stuyvesant, Hudson river day line steamboat, they presented a united front against all quacks, all practitioners of black magic, all makers of love potions, and all gypsies who gyp.

Then, in the middle of this harmony, up rose the stately Señora Rita Rivera. Declaring herself the only civilized member of a long line of Hungarian-Spanish gypsies, she shouted that the honorable profession of fortune telling had been invaded by a host of male charlatans.

If these men are not curbed or ousted, she said, they will ruin [speaking professionally] the women.

"That ain't so," bellowed Harry Sperson. "Men are doing very good at telling fortunes and I can prove it. I say that no woman can beat me yet."

At this point Miss Helena A. Peiota, known as "Gypsy Lee," protested as chairman of the meeting that fortune tellers would never eliminate charlatans if they quarreled among themselves.

And so the issue was dropped for the time being.

Supply Books for Children's Leisure Hours

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

A good book on a summer day means enjoyable leisure hours of reading.

Of course, summer time isn't book time for the little children. They are so in love with the earth and the physical freedom that summer outdoors means—no galoshes or snow suits, the sun and breezes on their bodies, digging and paddling in water, and making all kinds of small and fascinating discoveries [stones, twigs, shells, worms]—that books often temporarily lose their appeal.

But the older school child usually is in a different frame of mind. In the winter, the lover of books never has enough leisure to read, but when vacation time comes he can indulge his longing to his heart's content.

Of course, there are some boys and girls who never will be readers, for whom books never will have a great fascination. But every child should sooner or later learn to lose himself between the covers of a book, to have enough of a taste for reading so that this will become one of the resources of his leisure.

The mother who wants to teach her children to love books might try reading aloud to them in the summer.

Our newest list of books for the teen age boys and girls is called "Reading for Pleasure." We have other book lists for all ages. A large, stamped, self-addressed envelope is required for each list requested.

Circus Party Is Milestone in Lives of Guests

Hundred Children Awed by Big Show.

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

There's nothing in the world which entrances the average child like a circus, and from the time my group of 100 met yesterday, at the entrance to Ringling Bros. and Barnum and Bailey's main tent, until the big show was over, all were enthralled.

The weather was perfect and our seats were in the center of the big tent, so that we had a good view of all the marvelous things which were going on in the big rings. We loved the big, colorful parade, the acrobats, and the elephants. Following just in back of the big ones, came the new midget elephants, and the kids were crazy about them. The horses wheeled and pranced, pawed the air, played dead, and danced.

During the tight-rope performance, the little freckle-faced girl sitting next to me, whispered, "Gee, everybody's quiet!" as all eyes were fastened on the slender Japanese girl who tested her weight on the wire, then did a double backward somersault.

The seals balanced balls on their "noses," played tunes on a series of horns, and one of them did a clumsy tap dance, with the aid of a pair of wooden shoes fastened to his forefins.

The horde of clowns in outlandish costumes were greeted with yells of delight, how kids do love their antics! Little Robert, his eyes popping as one thrill followed another, said, "Gee, Sally, the longer you look the better it gets!"

There were always squeals of "Lokkit that guy!" and "Gosh, she must be strong," as a pretty girl balanced a table and a chair and two other performers on her shoulders. When the big cannon was rolled out, 200 fingers were poked into 200 ears, then it went off with a resounding boom, sending two men flying across the length of the tent.

The show is a gay and a glamorous one, and Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey made 50 boys and 50 girls very happy yesterday afternoon.

As we were leaving the big top, young Jim, eating the remains of a box of crackerjack, said longingly—"Would I like to have a day in the circus all by myself—I'd be a clown and an elephant trainer, I'd ride the ponies and I'd even 'preform' feats on the trapezes!"

Don't Be Fat!
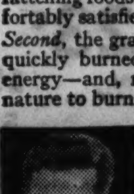
IRENE RICH
Lovely Lady of the Screen
"Eat Sensibly—Drink Welch's Grape Juice"
HERE, at last, is a SAFE way to reduce. A way that does NOT call for strict dieting, exercising, or taking drugs. A way that actually increases your mental and physical energy as pounds of ugly fat seemingly melt away.
Please read carefully: In a recent test, held under the direction of the eminent Dr. Damrau of New York, 14 people who were gaining at the rate of 1¾ pounds a month, followed this method. And the average loss registered was 7 pounds a person in a single month—WITHOUT STRICT DIETING OR EXERCISING.
What You Do
Now, all you have to do is this: Mix ¾ of a glass of Welch's Grape Juice with ¼ of a glass of water—and drink before each meal, and at bedtime. Then eat sensibly—and this is what happens.
First. Welch's Grape Juice satisfies your normal craving for rich, sweet foods. You have less desire to over-eat fattening foods—yet you do feel comfortably satisfied.
Second, the grape sugar in Welch's is quickly burned up—producing vital energy—and, most important, helps nature to burn up excess fat.



"Gives Quick Pep and Energy"
"Red" Woodworth, All-American Star and Coach at Morgan Park Military Academy, says: "Welch's Grape Juice gives my boys strength and energy without adding health-destroying fat. The minerals and vitamins are valuable in helping to build red blood, strong bones and teeth. I recommend it for all growing children and athletes. I have also found it excellent between meals as a quick energy pickup drink for children and grown ups."

Irene Rich is over 40, but weighs the same as at 16
Only One Thing To Watch
In following this proved, SAFE way to lose ugly fat, eat sensibly—and then there is only one thing to watch. Use only the genuine Welch's Grape Juice. In order to get the finest, selected, premium grapes grown we pay more than anyone in the United States. That is why Welch's is always full strength. No adulterants; no artificial coloring—Certified Pure. Insist upon Welch's.

JAPAN, FINLAND FIGHT FOR 1940 OLYMPIC GAMES

Brundage Placed on Committee.

BERLIN, July 30.—(AP)—The biggest pre-Olympic battle tonight was being waged between Japan and Finland, rival bidders for the 1940 games, as Nazi Germany applied the finishing touches to its $25,000,000 athletic extravaganza.

The heaviest oratorical guns were brought into play during an all day bombardment before the international Olympic committee which, earlier in the day, had ousted Ernest Lee Jahncke of New Orleans by a unanimous vote and promptly installed Avery Brundage of Chicago as his successor.

A decision on the next games, already overdue, is slated to be made by secret ballot at the committee's closing sessions tomorrow afternoon.

Officially Jahncke lost his place on the committee on the grounds that he had failed to attend two consecutive meetings of the committee. It was recalled, however, that the New Orleans sportsman and former assistant secretary of the navy opposed American participation if the games were to be held in Germany. Brundage, president of the American Olympic committee and leader in the fight for participation, was suggested as Jahncke's successor by William May Garland of Los Angeles, another member of the international committee.

Close Vote Expected.

Meanwhile the odds lengthened on Japan's hitherto well regarded prospects of winning the 1940 games as a result of a Finnish appeal to return the games to "Spartan simplicity."

Despite Tokio's offer to subsidize the transportation of foreign athletes to the extent of a million and a half yen [about $485,000], it looked like a close battle of ballots. The Finns claimed between 30 and 35 votes, sufficient for a majority, but there was every prospect of much jockying for position overnight and a close vote tomorrow.

There was a possibility of a possible split in the American delegation over the question. Garland already is committed to Japan's support, but Brundage, after sitting through his first session this afternoon, apparently was impressed by the Finnish case and declined to commit himself.

Good Day for Workouts.

The athletes, although shunted out of the headlines temporarily by the Olympic solons, capitalized on the first warm, sunny day since Sunday, enjoyed full workouts and eased the burden the medical staf has been shouldering.

Except for the women's track and field and swimming teams, which remained hard hit by illness, the entire American contingent appeared in better health and spirits.

The shot putters, Jack Torrance of Baton Rouge, La., and Dimitri Zaitz of Boston college, remained so far off form that their Olympic chances have virtually vanished, barring sudden comebacks. On the other hand, the foot racers who start competition Sunday, notably Jesse Owens, John Woodruff, and Don Lash, were pronounced in the best possible condition.

Washington's stroke oar, Don Hume, who laid off because of a heavy chest cold, took light exercise today and hopes to pace the Huskies' eight in a time trial tomorrow.

4,000 Athletes on Scene.

Approximately 4,000 athletes, double the 1932 entry list, were encamped in the Olympic village and elsewhere by nightfall after a series of almost continual welcoming demonstrations.

Eight national delegations, including the neighboring Austrians, 300

ELMER LAYDEN TAKES LEAD IN COACHES' POLL

BY ARCH WARD.

Elmer Layden of Notre Dame has taken the lead in the national poll to determine a staf of coaches to handle the All-American football players who will meet the Detroit Lions in Chicago's third annual charity game at Soldiers' field on Sept. 1.

It is apparent that Layden will draw a heavy vote from Chicago. Hundreds of postcards, letters, and other forms of ballots came in yesterday marked for the Notre Dame leader. The Gary, Ind., Post-Tribune forwarded 4,191 first place votes for Layden yesterday and 2,385 for Bo McMillin of Indiana, who is developing strong support throughout Indiana.

The Minnesota returns are just beginning to come in and, as expected, they are almost 100 per cent for Bernie Bierman. The Twin City newspapers predict the final figures from Minnesota alone will be sufficient to put him over. His supporters are relying on the Gophers' brilliant record under Bierman to win him thousands of votes throughout the nation.

Order 200 Tickets.

Enthusiasm over the prospects of seeing seven Minnesota players, directed by a Minnesota coach, in the lineup against the Lions is running so high that the Minneapolis Journal yesterday ordered a block of 200 tickets to take care of fans from that section who wish to sit in a group. A special train will carry the Minnesota rooters to the game.

There will be no lack of support for the Lions, however. In addition to the regular followers of professional football there will be at least 2,000 Detroit fans who will attend the game for the sole purpose of watching the world's champions roll up a score on the collegians. Special trains will leave Detroit the morning of the game and leave shortly afterward to accommodate the Lions' delegation. Civic enthusiasts are planning a demonstration between halves depicting Detroit as the city of champions.

Support for City Coaches.

Considerable support is developing locally for Clark Shaughnessy of the University of Chicago and Lynn Waldorf of Northwestern in the coaches' poll. A big block of votes came in Wednesday for Shaughnessy from friends who said that as long as the All-Stars had the season's greatest player, Jay Berwanger, in their lineup, they ought to be coached by the man who developed him. Northwestern alumni are active for Waldorf. A voting booth will be opened in Evanston for the Purple leader today.

It appears that Matty Bell of Southern Methodist, who developed the most successful team in the south last season, will have almost unan-

Midget Auto Racing Driver Dies of Injuries

OLD FAVORITES MEET TOMORROW IN $10,000 RACE

BY FRENCH LANE.

The old standbys of the racing public, the tried and trusted stake horses who have campaigned long and hard at Arlington Park and other leading tracks, will make their bids for the limelight tomorrow in the $10,000 added Arlington handicap.

Dividing honors with them on the program will be the season's topnotch 2 year olds—led by Mrs. Ethel Mars' Case Ace and Hal Price Headley's Apogee—whose big moment will come in the running of the Arlington Futurity. Together, the two races will make up one of the richest days of racing in America this year.

The 2 year olds, of course, will have the alluring $60,000 purse to shoot at, but the familiar race horses, those which have brought the crowds to their feet cheering on many occasions, will be out fighting for the glory more than the purse.

Where Away Center of Interest.

Interest in the handicap yesterday centered upon the entry of Tony Pelleteri's Where Away, 4 year old bay gelding which leaped into fame by winning the Inaugural handicap on opening day at Arlington on June 29. Jocky Charlie Corbett held the reins and plied the whip on that day, when Where Away swept out of the field and ran the wild horse Pharosay into the ground in the stretch. Another entered is Warren Wright's chestnut colt, Sun Teddy, which has shown an abundance of fighting heart in his races hereabouts.

Surprisingly, a horse that was a long shot in the Stars and Stripes handicap—Mrs. Emil Denemark's Corinto—has been installed favorite over such performers as Hal Price Headley's Hollyrood, Mrs. John D. Hertz's Count Arthur, and F. M. Alger's Azucar.

Hollyrood, of course, will be remembered for a game race in the Stars and Stripes, and tops even William Woodward's Granville as a money winner. Nevertheless, Corinto defeated Hollyrood, which finished fourth a couple of lengths in front of Discovery on Independence day.

Don't Overlook Hollyrood.

Corinto, 5 year old gelding sired by Wildair-Paloma, encountered tough going in the Illinois Owners' handicap on the closing day at Hawthorne, and was beaten by St. Bernard and other good horses. Hollyrood will find favor with a great many of the thousands of fans who throng the colorful north side racing center for the grand finale. Third last Saturday in the Classic, gamely fighting Granville and Mr. Bones every inch of the way, Headley's plucky bay colt has won nearly $115,000 for his owner during the last two seasons of campaigning.

Giants Beat Cubs, 3 to 1, on Cavarretta's Wild Throw

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, July 30.—Fuzzy strategy, Manager Charley Grimm's florid oratory and Phil Cavarretta's flop as emergency substitute for Grimm enabled the Giants to defeat the Cubs this afternoon, 3 to 1.

Augie Galan hit Carl Hubbell's first pitch of the game for a homer. Fifteen batsmen, the minimum, had faced Curt Davis in five innings. Curt had yielded two singles, and both had been wiped out in double plays. Going into the sixth the Cubs were leading, 1 to 0, having failed to cash on several elegant opportunities.

In the sixth the Cubs had two men on as a result of a single and an intentional pass. When Hubbell threw three straight wide ones to Grimm, it appeared certain Charley would get another wide one to walk. The bases would be full with one out. Then something happened to Grimm's thinker. He hit the three and nothing ball into a double play. Charley, in his wandering from orthodox procedure, tried to take it out on Umpire Lee Ballanfant, and was chased for his sizzling verbiage.

The effect of the Cubs' merry go round conduct was instantaneous. The Giants tied the score in a jiffy on singles by Mancuso and Hubbell, with a sacrifice by Bartell sandwiched between. But the panic should have stopped there. It didn't. Cavarretta promptly threw a double play ball into left field, and two more runs blossomed therefrom.

They're Lost in the Mist.

The stunned Cubs moved around in a coma the rest of the time. Not a man reached first in the last three innings.

It was the third straight licking for the nervous champions. The Giants, 11 games behind the Cubs when the latter left Wrigley field, are only six back now. They have gained 4½ games in the last three days. And the lead over the second place Cards has been reduced to one game.

After Galan, who batted right handed against Hubbell, had sent the first pitch into the left field stand for his seventh homer, Allen singled off Jackson's glove. He went to second on Herman's bouncer, and took third on Hartnett's drive to Ott. Demaree walked on four pitches. Then Hack lost an eyelash decision at first after his high bounder to Jackson.

Moore beat out a hit to Grimm as the home offensive got under way, but promptly was sunk with Whitehead in a double play started by Herman. Ott lined to Grimm.

Cubs Fill Bases—but Can't Score.

The Cubs were halted after loading the bases in the second inning. Grimm singled to right with one down and Davis reached first on Bartell's throwing error. Galan flied to Ott, but Allen beat out a roller toward third, filling the bases. Herman tried to change his mind about taking a swing at one of Hubbell's shots, but his half swing met the ball and the result was an easy grounder to Whitehead on which the side was retired.

With one out in the third, Demaree singled to center, but Hack hit into a double play. The Giants again went out in order. Jurges opened the fourth with a single to center and reached second on Grimm's tap to Whitehead. Then Davis fanned, and Galan popped to Whitehead.

Moore led off the home fourth with his and the Giant's second hit, a single to center, but Whitehead again hit into a double play, a duplicate of the first inning one, except that Herman had to sparkle to get it started. Ott walked, but was out, Hartnett to Herman, when Leiber failed to function on the hit and run play. The fifth was the first inning in which the Cubs failed to hit. The Giants also went out in order.

Demaree opened the sixth with a single to left center, and advanced on Hack's sacrifice. Jurges was given an intentional pass. Hubbell threw three wide ones to Grimm. Charley couldn't resist the cripple strike that Hubbell tossed for his fourth pitch, and hit into a double play.

Here's the Big Blowoff.

Mancuso opened the home sixth with a smash off Hack's glove and advanced on Bartell's sacrifice. Hubbell singled to left, scoring Mancuso. Moore bounced a double play ball to Cavarretta, who threw the ball past second into left field, Hubbell reaching third and Moore second. Whitehead singled to right, Hubbell scoring and Moore stopping at third. Ott fouled to Hartnett, but Ripple, batting for Leiber, singled to center, Moore scoring and Whitehead reaching third. Henshaw replaced Davis and struck out Leslie.

Stainback batted for Henshaw at the outset of the seventh and lined to Moore. Galan tapped to Hubbell, Allen sent an easy fly to Moore. Warneke was the Cub pitcher in the seventh and eighth and held the Giants hitless. The Cubs were retired in order in the last two innings.

KENNEDY GETS REVENGE, 10TH VICTORY IN ROW

Jackie Hayes' Bat Is Big Help.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Vernon Kennedy called on Connie Mack's Athletics yesterday and convinced them that the blast they touched off at his expense in the series opener Monday hadn't been forgotten. He handled them without much trouble, his White Sox mates in the meantime supplying an attack that hoisted them to their third straight triumph, 7 to 4, and Kennedy to his fourteenth of the season. It also was his tenth victory in succession, although he has been knocked out of a couple of starts since prosperity struck him.

As a hint that he was going to enjoy hearty coöperation, the ex-collegian was provided with a two run lead right at the start. It wasn't enough, so as soon as the hapless A's had restored themselves to a tie the Sox resumed offensive operations. They reëstablished the two run edge in the fourth and fifth, and then for safety's sake knocked Gordon [Dusty] Rhodes, the starter, out of employment with a three run splurge in the eighth. The belated effort proved highly valuable because Kennedy had his troubles in the ninth.

Jack Hayes Big Help.

Chief contributor to the Kennedy cause was Jack Hayes, who on three occasions upset the calculations of Rhodes. Jack was heard from the first time in the opening inning when he singled with the bases full, driving two runs across. In the fifth his long fly ball enabled a runner to sneak in from third. In the eighth he surprised the Macks with a bunt, beating it easily for a hit and starting the three run rally that gave Mack a chance to reveal that he has a pitcher named Horace Lisenbee.

Johnson was kind enough to kick one in the first inning and the Sox accepted it as an invitation to score a pair of runs. After Radcliff had been tossed out, Kreevich beat out a bunt. Johnson did his erring by fumbling Haas' grounder. Bonura lined to Moses, and Appling filled the bases by scratching a hit to Higgins. Jackie Hayes relieved the weight on the bases by singling over short, Kreevich and Haas counting and Appling taking third. The bases were filled again on a pass to Piet, but Sewell fanned.

Kennedy Loses Control.

Lack of control inflicted a one run penalty on Kennedy in the second

KRUTILLA BEATS MATHISEN; GOES TO SEMI-FINALS

Upsets Frequent in City Golf Tourney.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Four utterly surprising strangers to the semi-finals of the 32d annual city amateur golf tournament reached that stage yesterday with victories in the fourth and fifth rounds of the ancient battle at the Jackson park links. Heading them was John Krutilla, 20 year old steel mill worker, who in the morning round turned in the reverse of the six day show—a 4 and 3 victory over Harold Mathisen, the young chemist who had won the title the last two years and gone to the final the year prior to those. John, representing the Lansing airport course, made sure of his presence in today's 36 hole semi-finals by eliminating Mike Yansick of Cog Hill, 2 and 1, in the afternoon.

Today Johnny meets Tom McInerney of the home club, who turned in a day's work himself, first by defeating Bill Crannell of Columbus park, 1 up, in the morning, and, coming back in the afternoon to win a 19 hole battle from Jim Woods Jr. of Lincoln park, Midwest Public links champion.

Judelson Meets Tolman.

The other semi-final brings together Hymie Judelson of Harlem, former Metropolitan title holder, and L. N. Tolman of Ridge, last of the private club hopes in this tournament which bars no amateur. Judelson and Tolman saved their upsetting energies for the afternoon round yesterday, the latter knocking out John Dixon of Evergreen, Chicago junior open winner, while Judelson defeated Fritz Jordan of Kinsman, 4 and 2, in the other side of the bracket. Jordan had duplicated Krutilla's defeat of Mathisen with a 1 up decision over Pete Miller of Jackson park, 1928 champion, and finalist against Mathisen last year.

The defeat of Mathisen, a night working chemist in South Chicago's steel mills, was the Big Run star's second in 25 appearances in the tournament. He reached the final match in 1933, won the last two events, and had passed into the fourth round before meeting Krutilla.

The card for the McInerney—Woods battle in the afternoon follow:

Par—Out	444	443	434—34
Par—In	444	354	434—35—69
McInerney—Out	452	463	645—39
Woods—Out	444	454	543—37
McInerney—In	344	355	543—36—75
Woods—In	444	355	544—38—75
McInerney—Out	4

Holes 12 Foot Birdie.

McInerney lost the second to Woods' par, but won the third on a conceded deuce after Jim found a trap. Tom discovered grief at the fifth and seventh, but took the fifth with a par against Jim's trapped drive. A four footer brought Woods a birdie at the ninth and a two up edge at the turn. McInerney then holed a 12 foot birdie putt at the tenth, and after halving the match. He got his par at the extra hole, while Woods was exploring the bushes and then overshooting the green.

Results of yesterday's play:

FOURTH ROUND.

L. M. Tolman, Ridge, defeated R. A. Bowker, Jackson park, 5 and 4.

QUARTER-FINAL ROUND.

McInerney defeated Woods, 1 up, 19 holes.

Krutilla defeated Yansick, 2 and 1.

Tolman defeated Dixon, 5 and 3.

Judelson defeated Jordan, 4 and 2.

RED SOX FLY TO CHICAGO; PLAY WHITE SOX TODAY

The Boston Red Sox, headed by Owner Tom Yawkey and Manager Joe Cronin, flew to Chicago from St. Louis last night for the opening game of their series with the White Sox today. It was the first time a major league ball club had made a trip in one plane. Twenty-one ball players were aboard the big American Air Lines plane.

The 260 mile flight was made in 90 minutes. In 1934 the Cincinnati Reds flew from Cincinnati to Chicago, but three planes were needed to transport all the players. That trip required 3 hours.

The Boston players had dinner aboard the plane. "The plane trip enabled us to get a good night's rest in hotel beds instead of a rolling sleeper," said Cronin.

3 AMERICANS GET 10 GOAL RATING IN ENGLISH POLO

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, England, July 30.—Three American polo players, Winston Guest, Cecil Smith, and Stewart Iglehart, today were given ten goal handicaps by the Hurlingham Polo club committee. The three players, along with Tommy Hitchcock Jr., now are the only ten goal men in the world.

Eric Pedley, Los Angeles, and Eric Tyrrell-Martin were raised to nine goals and Capt. H. P. Guinness and H. Hesketh Hughes to eight. Guest, Smith, and Iglehart are rated as eight goal players by the United States Polo association.

Lincolnshire Golfers Win League Match

Three of Chicago's leading golf families—the South, Northwest and West District leagues—assembled yesterday to continue their schedule of competitive reunions. The South league gathered at South Shore, the Northwest at Nordic, and the West at Glen Oak.

Lincolnshire's team reached the 100 point mark in the south side standings by defeating Idlewild, 19 to 8. In other matches, Midlothian won from Flossmoor, 18 to 9; Ravisloe defeated Olympia Fields, 17 to 10, and South Shore triumphed over Calumet, 18½ to 8½. Russell Martin, Flossmoor star, had the best round of the day, a 70, followed by Eddie Murphy of Midlothian, 72; Gene Budd of Midlothian, 72, and Jack Kamsler of Ravisloe, 73.

Brierhill retained the Northwest district lead with a 16 to 11 victory over Twin Orchard. Tam o' Shanter defeated Nordic, 15½ to 11½; Mohawk clung to second place with a 17 to 10 decision over Itasca, and Bunker Hill helped itself to a 19 to 8 victory over Rolling Green. Jim Ferguson of Tam o' Shanter led the individual scorers with a par 71, followed by two Brierhill marksmen, Dick Martin with a 73, and Bill Chambers with a 74.

Elmhurst defeated Medinah, 14 to 13, in the West league. Glen Oaks was beaten by Westward-Ho, 14½ to 12½; Oak Park defeated Brookwood, 15 to 12, and Hinsdale and Riverside wrangled to a 13½-13½ draw. Hardy Hodgson of Brookwood led the scoring with a 75.

Elmer Layden Takes Lead in Coaches' Poll

imous backing in Texas and the southwest. He is running 50 to 1 ahead of all rivals in the Dallas News returns.

Bierman and Layden are the favorites in first returns from northern Illinois. Layden is the choice in Freeport and Bierman leads in Dixon. Fritz Crisler of Princeton heads the list in La Salle. Earlville, Crisler's birthplace, and Mendota, where he attended high school and played sand lot baseball, are opening voting headquarters in an effort to stimulate his candidacy.

Thornhill Popular on Coast.

Tiny Thornhill of Stanford is the most popular of the coast coaches thus far and the returns do not include any votes from San Francisco, Portland, and other far western centers where he is certain to run well. Lou Little of Columbia tops the eastern leaders. There have been no returns from the New York Herald-Tribune, in which poll Little, as well as Crisler, is expected to score heavily.

If you wish to have a voice in the selection of the coaching staf, mail your selections to the All-Star Football Editor, CHICAGO TRIBUNE, at once. You are permitted to name three in the order of your preference.

JOSEPH HUNT AND M'DIARMID REACH SEABRIGHT FINAL

Seabright, N. J., July 30.—[Special.]—Sidney Wood, New York, seeded No. 1 in the 49th annual Seabright tennis tournament, was eliminated in the semi-finals today by John McDiarmid, Fort Worth, Tex. The scores were 6-2, 4-6, 6-1, 6-1.

Seventeen year old Joseph Hunt, Los Angeles, added another upset when he defeated Gregory Mangin of Newark, N. J., defending champion, 6-1, 11-9, 11-13, 6-4.

Lyons to Pitch Today's Opener with Red Sox

Ted Lyons will be given the job of pitching to the Boston Red Sox today at Comiskey park in the first game of a series. The Boston starter may be Bob Grove, the somewhat ancient southpaw.

After working out daily for more than a week Outfielder Fred [Dixie] Walker has learned much about the condition of his shoulder which was operated on a couple of months ago. He's done some light throwing, but hasn't made an attempt to swing a bat.

The attendance yesterday was announced as 3,000.

John Henry Lewis Wins Easy Victory Over Gainer

Pittsburgh, Pa., July 30.—(AP)—John Henry Lewis, light heavyweight champion, won an unanimous judges' decision tonight over Al Gainer, Hartford, Conn., before 18,000 spectators in a nontitle 12 round bout tonight. Lewis weighed 178½, Gainer 177.

In the semi-final, held after the main bout, Fritzie Zivic, 145, Pittsburgh, scored a technical knockout in the sixth round of a scheduled ten round bout over Laddie Tonielli, 145½, Chicago.

GALE VI. VICTOR IN FOURTH OF YACHT RACES

Twin Star Is Beaten by 22 Seconds.

Harry G. Nye Jr. won the fourth race of the Sheridan Shore Yacht club's race week yesterday. His sloop, Gale VI., is the Lake Michigan champion which will represent the local fleet at the international regatta in Rochester, N. Y., in September.

A ten nautical mile course was sailed. The wind was moderate from the east, and a rough sea covered the race course. On the second lap of the contest the wind fell, changing the positions of several of the yachts.

Gains in Light Wind.

At the start Max Hayford's Twinkle Ditto appeared the leader. On the leeward runs, with the wind, however, Twinkle Ditto lost ground, allowing Gale VI. and Twin Star to gain.

On the last leg, Gale VI. headed the fleet in the light winds that settled down. The winner's time was 2 hours, 22 minute, and 52 seconds. Twenty seconds later Lockwood M. [Woody] Pirie and his brother, John T. Pirie II., sailed the former's Twin Star across the line in second place. Twinkle Ditto was over the finish line 16 seconds later. T. E. Mead, one of the newest Star boat sailors in the race, sailed his new boat, Little Audrey, to fourth.

Twin Star Leader in Points.

Twin Star remains in the lead in points, having a total of 165. The tie for second between Kamo and Bonnie B. with 113 points each previous to the race, was broken in yesterday's event by Kamo. A new split in points for second honors developed between Kamo and Twinkle Ditto. Each yacht now has 148 points. A close third is Skimmer, with 146 points. Summaries of yesterday's race:

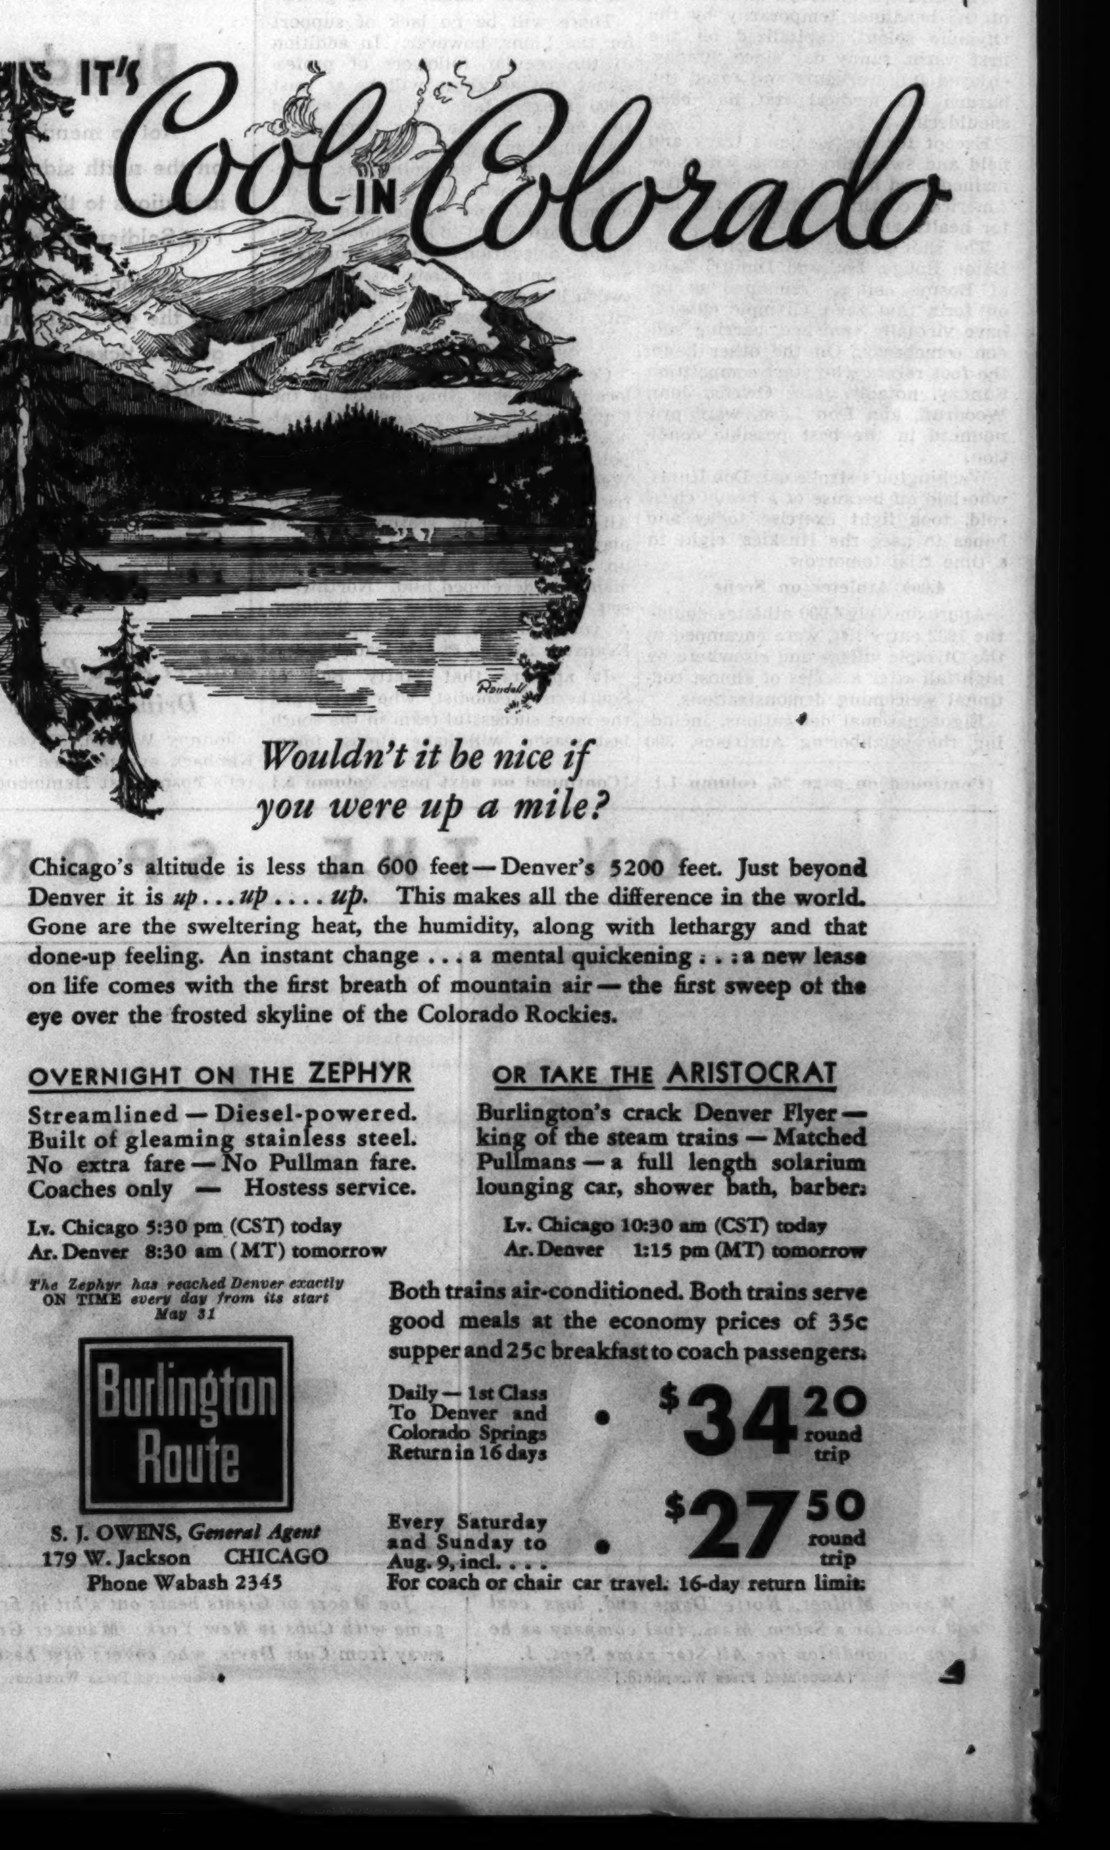
Bill Harris of Buffalo Pitches 2d No-Hit Game

Newark, N. Y., July 30.—(AP)—Bill Harris, right hand pitching ace of the Buffalo Bisons of the International league, hurled his second no hit, no run game of the season tonight, with a 4 to 0 victory over the Newark Bears in the second game of a double-header. The former Pittsburgh Pirate pitcher struck out seven men and walked one. On June 3, he pitched a no hit game against Toronto, winning 2 to 0.



IT'S Cool IN Colorado

Wouldn't it be nice if you were up a mile?

Chicago's altitude is less than 600 feet—Denver's 5200 feet. Just beyond Denver it is up . . . up . . . . up. This makes all the difference in the world. Gone are the sweltering heat, the humidity, along with lethargy and that done-up feeling. An instant change . . . a mental quickening . . . a new lease on life comes with the first breath of mountain air—the first sweep of the eye over the frosted skyline of the Colorado Rockies.

ST. LOUIS BEATS DODGERS, 7 TO 0; CUTS CUBS' LEAD

Climbs to Within Game of League Leaders.

Brooklyn, N. Y., July 30.—(AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals' star rookie trio, led by Pitcher Jim Winford who pitched four hit shutout ball, led the way to a 7 to 0 victory over the Dodgers today, pulling the Gas House gang up to within one game of the league leading Cubs.

In addition to Winford, the other youngsters having a big hand in the victory were First Baseman Johnny Mize, who banged out two hits, one a homer in the sixth, and Third Baseman Arthur Garibaldi, who drove in one run with a long fly and had two hits.

Manager Frankie Frisch, who had failed to hit in his 24 previous times at bat, drove in two runs with a single during a three run spree in the second inning.

PHILLIES, REDS SPLIT.

Philadelphia, Pa., July 30.—(AP)—The Reds and Phillies divided a doubleheader today, the visitors winning the first, 5 to 0, while the Phils took the second, 5 to 4.

Kiki Cuyler, after making three successive hits in his last three times at bat in the first game, hit safely his five trips to the plate in the second and had a record of eight consecutive safeties when the game ended.

Tigers Defeat Yankees, 5-4, in 10 Innings

Detroit, Mich., July 30.—(AP)—Schoolboy Rowe pitched his second winning game against the league leaders in four days as the Tigers came from behind today to defeat the Yankees, 5 to 4, in ten innings, and cut New York's edge to 7½ games.

A passed ball, which got away from Bill Dickey just after Pat Malone had relieved Johnny Broaca with one out in the tenth, sent the winning run across to give the Tigers an even break in the four game series. Charley Gehringer's homer with a mate on base in the eighth inning tied the score for the Tigers after the Yanks had taken a 3 to 0 lead in the first four innings, and had held a 4 to 2 edge going into the last of the eighth.

HOAG REPORTED BETTER AFTER BRAIN OPERATION

Detroit, Mich., July 30.—(AP)—Myril Hoag, New York Yankee outfielder who suffered a head injury Tuesday in a collision with Joe Di Maggio in a game against Detroit, underwent an operation tonight and his physician said he was "much improved" although still in serious condition.

A trephining operation was performed to permit fluid to drain from the surface of the brain.

"He has had no convulsions since the operation," his doctor said, "which indicates the pressure has been relieved. He is resting well now, but his condition will remain serious for 48 hours."

Hoag must remain in the hospital for several weeks, the physician said, and will not be able to play again this season.

inning. He walked Higgins and Frank Hayes with one out. As an experiment the hit and run was put on and it worked. Newsome shoved a single between first and second, Higgins crossing the plate and Frank Hayes taking third. Kennedy wriggled free, fanning Rhodes and getting Finney on a fly to Kreevich.

Kennedy's one run lead shrunk into a tie for a few minutes in the fourth. Johnson led off with a drive into the left field first floor for his 16th homer. That completed the scoring but not the trouble for the inning. In the wake of the homer came a single to center by Higgins and a pass to Frank Hayes. Newsome's bunt put the two runners on third and second with one out. Rhodes fanned in an attempt to bunt and Jackie Hayes concluded the inning with a snappy pickup of Finney's bounder which had been deflected by Kennedy.

Regain Their Lead.

The Sox went back into the lead in their half of the fourth and Rhodes almost started for the happy hunting grounds. After two were gone Kennedy scored a bull's eye on Rhodes' right leg with a drive which squirted into right field for a double. After testing his bruised limb Rhodes resumed work and Radcliff singled to right, sending Kennedy across the plate. Kreevich also singled to right and Radcliff endeavored to reach third. Puccinelli's throw beat him.

The Sox encountered a bargain run in the fifth, giving them a 4 to 2 edge. Haas opened with a single to right and was promoted to second on Puccinelli's fumble of the hit. Bonura walked and moved up along with Haas on Appling's sacrifice. Jackie Hayes slapped a fly to Moses and Haas drifted home after the catch. Piet fanned for the third out.

That Profitable Eighth.

Four hits, good for three runs, earned Rhodes his relief from labor in the eighth. Jackie Hayes started this affair by beating out a bunt to Dean. Piet's liner was flagged by Newsome. Sewell tripled to right center, Hayes scoring. Kennedy singled to center and Sewell registered. Radcliff doubled past first base, putting Kennedy on third and finishing Rhodes. Lisenbee took over the job and Kreevich bounced out, Kennedy scoring.

The two runs picked up the Macks in the ninth inning started with a pass to Higgins. Frank Hayes singled to left and Newsome singled to center, Higgins scoring. Kreevich's throw to the plate got away from Sewell, Hayes going to third and Newsome to second. Niemiec batted for Lisenbee and Appling threw him out, Hayes counting.

HELEN MOODY RETIRES.

HELEN WILLS MOODY, onetime "Little Poker Face," who has been a national figure in American women's tennis since 1922, announces her retirement from active tournament play. She purposes, hereafter, to engage only in events which coördinate with her work as a designer for which she prepared in the art department of the University of California.

Thus probably ends for all time the feudistic rivalry with Miss Helen Jacobs, fellow Californian, who never was quite the equal of Mrs. Moody in their numerous meetings. Once Miss Jacobs triumphed. That was the celebrated default of 1933 when Mrs. Moody essayed to play despite a previous injury, then quit the courts while the final round match was in progress.

Whether or not Mrs. Moody's action was justified because of her physical condition, it seemed to us she never was quite as unanimously popular with the American public thereafter. But the merits of that controversy are past history.

This reverse, if a reverse, was more than balanced last year at Wimbledon when Mrs. Moody in her "comeback" campaign defeated Miss Jacobs by retrieving a match which at one time seemed clinched for her opponent.

Mrs. Helen stands as the greatest woman player of American tennis. Her seven national championships are tied by Mrs. Molla Mallory, but Helen's successes abroad place her higher than Molla in ranking. They met three times in national finals. Helen won two of them. At that time Molla was "going" and "Little Poker Face" was coming.

Mrs. Moody's decision is within her right. She has received from tennis all the honors possible to attain. She gave tennis practically all her time for many years. She probably is still the best amateur woman tennis player in the world, although some commentators think Miss Jacobs might beat her this year.

Yet when an athlete reaches 30 years she realizes that sooner or later a younger adversary will dim that former prestige. Helen Wills, and then Helen Wills Moody, gave us a colorful figure for a decade and a half. She has earned retirement with her laurels if she so elects.

Lesson from Bride's Notebook.

All dulcetly I spoke to him of love;
Was gay and witty, eager for his praise,
Put ribbons on my curls, wore his favorite gown,
Seeking to please his dearly ardent gaze.
How proud my heart when sweetly he avowed
Our love was a melody wafted to the skies.
Joyous reward! I thrilled each time I saw
The tender lovelight gleaming in his eyes.
Later I kindled that same glow when I
Baked for him my first perfect apple pie!

Youthful Comment.

Recently military rites were given one of our citizens of Carbondale, Ill. When the military salute was fired, the mother of the deceased fainted and fell off her chair, whereupon the little grandson in a clear treble shouted, "Jimmy crickets, they killed grandma." Despite the solemnity of the occasion, it sure relieved the tension. Carbondale.

MRS. ZUPPKE IN DANGER AFTER 2D OPERATION

Muskegon, Mich., July 30.—[Special.]—The condition of Mrs. Robert C. Zuppke, wife of the University of Illinois football coach, was reported as critical at a local hospital today. Mrs. Zuppke underwent a major operation last May and a second was performed two weeks ago. She rallied after the second operation, but heart complications have developed, according to physicians.

WOODS ARRIVES TONIGHT TO MEET ARON ON MONDAY

Opens Drill Tomorrow at Trafton's.

Chuck Woods, Detroit welterweight whose most noted achievement is a victory scored over Tony Canzoneri about two years ago, will arrive tonight for a ten round bout with Milt Aron at Marigold Gardens Monday. He will make the trip from Detroit, where he knocked out Joe Sutka in two rounds Wednesday, by automobile accompanied by his manager, Jimmy Brady, former north side boxing master, and a lightweight stablemate, Joe Miehielove.

Woods and Miehielove, who will appear in a supporting match, will open workouts tomorrow at Trafton's gymnasium. In two previous appearances at Marigold Woods defeated Laddie Tonelli Feb. 10 and Pat Murphy Feb. 17. He also engaged Canzoneri in a return encounter at Chicago Stadium, losing the decision on this occasion.

Aron continued training yesterday, sparring several rounds with three partners.

Promoter Sammy Mandell contemplates shifting his weekly shows from Northwest stadium to Western stadium. The former lightweight champion was forced to cancel a ten round battle between Johnny Brown and George [Tiny] Bittner, scheduled at the Northwest arena Wednesday. If Mandell's proposal to present fights under the joint auspices of Sam Abruscato is accepted the Brown-Bittner scrap likely will be held at Western stadium Tuesday. . . . Leo Lomski returned to training chores yesterday in anticipation of clashing with Max Chowaniec at Milwaukee Aug. 6. He turned down an offer to fight Al Gainer at New Haven, Conn., Aug. 10. . . . Ivan Rasputin and Nango Singh have been signed to wrestle at White City Monday. . . . King Levinsky expects to battle Marty Gallagher for the second time at Washington, D. C., in late August. strong, and the Hungarian contingent arrived during the daylight hours, while Great Britain's array moved into the village tonight.

Dropping out of the picture at the last minute were the Spanish fencers who reported they were too busy at home to permit an Olympic sortie at this time. Spain, however, will be represented by a number of athletes who arrived before the revolution broke out, thus keeping the total of fifty-three nations on the Olympic list intact.

Nearly 1,500 American visitors, including two Olympic tours, helped to increase Berlin's jam, which already had reached unprecedented proportions, snarled all trafic and forecast a tremendous outpouring when Chancellor Hitler opens the games formally on Saturday.

Besides the capacity crowd of 100,000 in the main stadium, it was expected that 400,000 more would pack Olympic environs to hear the ceremonies broadcast. The flag bedecked city expects between 50,000 and 100,000 visitors daily. Tickets already are at a premium for the featured events. The aggregate sales are near the three million mark now.

U. S. REFUSES TO LOWER COLORS IN OLYMPIC PARADE

BERLIN, July 30.—(AP)—Avery Brundage, president of the American Olympic committee, today formally notified the German organizing committee that the United States delegation will not dip the flag while passing in review in Saturday's opening ceremonies.

He explained this was in accordance with American regulations, and not to be interpreted as any discourtesy to the Germans. Germany had included in its general parade orders a request that national colors be dipped before the reviewing stand which Chancellor Hitler will occupy.

SEPT. 24 DATE FOR BRADDOCK, SCHMELING BOUT

New York, July 30. — [Special.] — James J. Braddock will defend his heavyweight title against Max Schmeling in the Madison Square Garden bowl the night of Sept. 24, it was learned today. James J. Johnston, who will promote the fight for the Garden, will request approval of this date at the next meeting of the state athletic commission.

Previously the fight was proposed for the afternoon of Sept. 26, but this will be an important Jewish holiday. In addition, it would conflict with local ball games and horse racing.

Old Favorites Will Clash in $10,000 Stake

Hertz in several stake triumphs, also is held in high esteem. The race of this 4 year old last Tuesday, when he literally tore out Nellie Flag's heart in a fighting finish over the mile route, established him as a strong contender for the judges' nod. Old Nellie, game and famous mare from Wright's Calumet farm, was sent back to the farm after the race, it was learned yesterday, crippled as the result of the hard battle with Count Arthur.

Azucar, hero of the $100,000 Santa Anita handicap in 1935, still packs a wallop in those flying hoofs. The chestnut gelding is eight years old, has plenty of seasoning, and only needs to be in the mood to turn in another of those sensational performances. He will like the mile and a quarter of the handicap.

E. K. Bryson's three year old mare, Carvola, will be a long shot, but sentimentalists probably will back her as they did E. D. Shaffer's Floradora in last Saturday's classic.

The return to the turf of Headley's great riding star, Smokey Saunders, probably will be observed in the handicap. Regular rider of Hollyrood, it is likely Saunders will be sufficiently recovered from injuries received in a fall more than a month ago to take the mount.

There they are, then, you Futurity hopefuls. You may take down the lion's share of Uncle Sam's dollar bills on closing day, but the old campaigners—gallant horses all—will be fighting along with you for the glory.

SHOSTROM BEATS GREENBERG IN JUNIOR TENNIS

Delafield, Wis., July 30.—[Special.]—Charles Shostrom, Chicago, entered the semi-final round of the western junior tennis tournament by defeating Seymour Greenberg, also of Chicago, 6-8, 6-3, 6-4, on the St. John's Military academy courts today. Harrison O'Neil, Milwaukee; Julius Heldman, Hollywood, Cal., and Don McNeil, Oklahoma City, also reached the semi-finals.

O'Neil defeated David Wilhelm, Lake Forest, Ill., 6-0, 6-0; Heldman won from Richard Bennion, Salt Lake City, 4-6, 6-3, 7-5, and McNeil triumphed over David Brock, San Diego, Cal., 6-2, 4-6, 6-4.

In the boys' tournament quarter-finals, Arthur Leighton of Chicago was beaten by Jack Kramer, Montebelo, Cal., 6-0, 6-1, and James Wade handed John Townsend, Hampstead, N. Y., a 6-1, 6-1 defeat.

OLYMPIC FLAME CAUSE OF NEW DEMONSTRATIONS

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, July 30.—(AP)—Passage of the Olympic torch through Prague today was marked by minor incidents.

Anti-Nazi crowds along the route in the city raised anti-German and anti-Olympic shouts. Police arrested thirty demonstrators.

A reception by authorities headed by Foreign Minister Kamil Krofta was not disturbed and the torch proceeded toward the German frontier about 70 miles away.

Earlier in the day the torch bearers were welcomed at Tabor by President Eduard Benes and other high state functionaries.

MacDonald, Hutchison Play Bernardi, Silver

Bob MacDonald of Brierhill and Jock Hutchison of Glen View, two of golf's best known veterans, will meet Sam Bernardi of Old Elm and Charles Silver of Brierhill in an 18 hole exhibition match at Brierhill Sunday. The match will start at 2 p. m.

Masterpiece Wins Thriller at Arlington

There have been few more thrilling finishes at Arlington Park this season than the one which came out of the Rogers Park purse at a mile yesterday afternoon.

Masterpiece, Her Reigh, and Fra Diavolo, the favorite, came up to the finish line only inches apart. Only the eye in the sky could determine the outcome.

The eye decided that Masterpiece was the winner and that Her Reigh and Fra Diavolo had run a dead heat for second money. It was a slowly run mile, the time being 1:37 4-5.

Clem McCarthy will broadcast the running of the Arlington Futurity and Arlington handicap over a coast to coast NBC hookup of one hour from Arlington Park tomorrow afternoon. Norris Royden will be at the mike in a broadcast over the Mutual chain.

All major news reel units stationed in the Chicago area will take sound movies of the running of the Futurity and Arlington handicap tomorrow.

Immediately after the running of the Futurity, Trainer Ted Horning will ship Percy M. Pike's Supply House to Saratoga, where he is to be engaged in all the major stakes for juveniles, including the rich Hopeful.

After working the colt yesterday morning Trainer Bert Williams said he might start the Calumet stable's Privileged as a running mate for Hasty Wire. Privileged breezed the Futurity route of six furlongs in 1:15 3-5.

Hal Price Headley's Hollyrood, which will be Kentucky's chief hope in the Arlington handicap, was given a speed sharpener of a half mile in :50 yesterday morning.

Special race trains will be added to the regular Chicago and North Western schedule to handle the Futurity day crowd. The first of these specials will start from the Madison street station at 12:30 p. m. and the last will leave at 1:45.

Time, :23 1-5, :46 4-5, :59 3-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Sweet Desire, $12.00 straight, $3.60 place, $2.80 show; Pansy's First, $2.40 place, $2.20 show; Wise Dart, $2.80 show. Winner trained by R. E. Potts. Went to post at 2:21. At post 1½ minutes. Good start from Bahr gate. Won driving, place same.

SWEET DESIRE, lucky and a strong factor from the start, saved ground throughout, came through on the inside when closing with determination under strong handling and wearing down PANSY'S FIRST, appeared ready to draw out. PANSY'S FIRST displayed the most speed from the start, raced a trifle wide in the nal three-eighths and held on well but was not good enough. WISE DART, well up from the start, made a bid when racing on outside entering the stretch, but weakened in the final eighth.

Time, :23, :46 1-5, 1:12 2-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Grey Streak, $16.00 straight, $8.60 place, $4.40 show; Playmaster, $7.80 place, $3.20 show; Apprehend, $2.60 show. Winner trained by R. Goose. Went to post at 2:47¼. At post 1 minute.

GREY STREAK, away fast, raced into a good lead easily, increased his advantage while under stout restraint on the turn and, continuing well, held sway thereafter. PLAYMASTER, also quick to begin and having speed, was under strong pressure after three-eighths and held on with determination but did not menace the winner. APPREHEND, sore, lacked usual speed, was forced to race wide the final half mile and gave an even performance.

Time, :23 4-5, :47 3-5, 1:12 4-5, 1:26. Two dollar mutuels paid: Flavor, $16.00 straight, $6.00 place, $4.20 show; Hatcheck, $23.20 place, $12.40 show; Amijo, $6.80 show. Winner trained by B. S. Mitchell. Went to post at 3:15½. At post 3¼ minutes.

FLAVOR, fractious at the post but away fast, dropped back when losing much ground on the turn, took command quickly when placed to strong urging after reaching the last five-sixteenths and taken under light restraint in the final eighth, won with something left. HATCHECK, never a great distance back and unable to get through when saving ground on the turn, forced his way to outside entering the stretch and closed well when straightened up. AMIJO, away very slowly, saved ground throughout and finished well, wore down TEDDY HASLAM and POLYWHISK in the closing strides.

Two dollar mutuels paid: Old Forester, $21.40 straight, $9.20 place, $2.80 show; Fitter, $5.40 place, $2.60 show; Miss Dolphin, $2.20 show. Winner trained by A. Pelleteri. Went to post at 2:46. At post 4½ minutes. Good start from gate. Won driving, place same.

OLD FORESTER, improved and overcoming a big loss of ground in the early stages, responded to pressure in the final three-sixteenths, came between horses in the last eighth and, getting up in the closing strides, appeared ready to draw out. FITTER had speed from the start, suffered light interference from MISS DOLPHIN on the turn, continued to save ground in the drive and held on well, but was not good enough. MISS DOLPHIN, rank at the post but away well, took command easily, bore out slightly on the turn where she impeded FITTER when coming back in, opened up a good margin quickly entering the stretch but weakened in the final furlong.

MASTERPIECE, brought over rather sharply before taking a clear lead in the chute, was rated under light restraint to the final three-eighths, increased his advantage entering the stretch and weakened after seven-eighths, but lasted. FRA DIAVOLO, badly outrun for three-quarters and brought to outside in the stretch, closed with a rush when straightened up and deadlocked HER REIGH in the final stride. Latter, slightly forced back as winner came over in the first quarter, was rated smoothly to the final five-sixteenths, then stood a long drive gamely.

MISS SAXON began to move up after a half mile, stood strong hand riding gamely in the final quarter and, wearing down OUR REIGH, won drawing clear. AMAZING slow to begin, saved some ground when beginning to move up on the stretch turn, came out in the final quarter and, finishing strong, headed OUR REIGH in the final stride. Latter well rated, increased his margin gradually when approaching the stretch, and continued well to the final sixteenth where he weakened.

See Big Field for Inaugural at Washington

At least a dozen thoroughbreds and perhaps as many as 17 of the 23 nominated, will be in the starting gate at Washington Park Monday when Starter Roy Dickerson gets the Chicago Handicap under way. The second running of the Handicap, won last year by Biff, features the first of Washington Park's 31 days of racing and is over a six furlong route.

A contest within the opening feature will take place for the Inaugural championship of Chicago race tracks. Where Away, top weight at 120 pounds for the race, ran away with the Arlington Park inaugural. Rock X., third on the list of weights, scored a decisive victory in the Hawthorne inaugural.

The two now rule slight choices to make it two out of three. The veteran Charley Corbett will be up on Where Away, while Basil James is expected to ride Rock X.

Where Away and Rock X., among others, are expected to attempt to make it a clean sweep opening week by also going in the Lakeside handicap at one mile to be run the first Saturday of the meeting.

Entries for Monday's eight races will be accepted at the Washington Park track tomorrow by George Swain and also at Arlington Park by Racing Secretary McLennan.

The daily double will be on the first and second races, instead of the second and third as last year. Betting on the daily double will close at 2:15, five minutes before post time of the first race.

BRITAIN REVEALS ACCORD FOR AIR LINE TO AMERICA

[Copyright: 1936: By the New York Times.]

LONDON, July 30.—A north Atlantic mail and passenger air service agreement between Great Britain, Canada, the Irish Free State and Newfoundland was announced in the house of commons today by Sir Philip Sassoon, undersecretary for air.

The agreement was concluded in consultation with the United States government. The accord reached was based on the principle of full reciprocity, which it is hoped will bring about as soon as practicable the establishment of a trans-Atlantic air service connecting the countries concerned.

Main Points of Accord.

A joint operating company will be incorporated at the instance of three companies, one nominated by Great Britain, one by the Irish Free State and one by Canada. The company nominated by Britain will be the Imperial Airways. The capital of the joint company, to be subscribed, will be held as follows: Fifty-one per cent by the British company, 24½ per cent each by the Canadian and Irish Free State companies.

Each government concerned has undertaken to arrange for the provision of necessary airport, radio, and meteorological facilities. Each government will grant the necessary landing and transit rights within its own terrritory to the joint company and Pan-American Airways.

Establish Commission.

An intergovernmental commission on trans-Atlantic air services will be established. It will consist of four members appointed by the governments to which will be referred for approval decisions on proposals of the joint company which may affect national policy or the relations of the governments concerned with other governments.

Landing facilities will be granted to the joint company by the United States, and Pan-American Airways will obtain landing facilities from the governments of Britain, Canada, Irish Free State, and Newfoundland and participate on a basis of reciprocity with the joint company in the operation of the services.

Favor Direct Route.

All practical preference will be given to a direct route between Britain and Canada via the Irish Free State and Newfoundland, but it may be necessary to operate the services via Bermuda in the winter.

Experimental long distance flights and other necessary investigations will be carried out shortly. During the experimental stage the flying operations will be financed by the British government. When the joint company assumes responsibility it will receive an annual subsidy from the participating governments as follows: Canada, 20 per cent, up to a maximum of £75,000; Irish Free State, 5 per cent, up to a maximum of £12,000; Newfoundland, a sum to be agreed on between that government and Britain, and Britain will make up the rest.

When asked for a full statement of the financial arrangements with Pan-American Airways, Sassoon replied that they were wholly on a basis of reciprocity.

LINCOLN TAVERN LIQUOR LICENSE MAY BE REVOKED

Village President Herbert A. Dilg of Morton Grove announced last night that the village liquor commission, of which he is chairman, will meet tonight to consider the revocation of the license of the Lincoln tavern on Dempster street. The place was formerly operated as a luxurious gambling resort, but was raided by the state's attorney's police on July 19. It has since been conducted as an eating and drinking resort, with highway policemen on duty to halt gambling. The state's attorney has written to the Morton Grove officials suggesting that the liquor license for the place be revoked.

News of the Radio Stations

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

Amos and Andy not only have gone to Hollywood; they have "gone Hollywood!" That is to say, like so many of radio's programs, they have presented a film celebrity as a guest on their program. Without any preliminary ballyhoo, Lionel Barrymore was introduced in their episode on Wednesday night direct from the Metro-Goldwyn lot.

Two months ago Charlie Correll and Freeman Gosden moved to the movie colony. Then they had their radio characters, Amos 'n' Andy, journey by taxi and trailer from Harlem to Hollywood. Arrived there, Amos 'n' Andy have been visiting the movie lots. While wandering around a set the other evening they ran into a pleasant stranger with whom they conversed until some one summoned him away. Not until then did Amos 'n' Andy know that it was Lionel Barrymore.

Correll and Gosden, however, have known Barrymore for a long time. Recently they obtained permission from their sponsor to use guest stars, and Barrymore was the first to appear in their decade of broadcasting.

If they continue to do this they will attract renewed attention to their program. In the long run, however, it seems unlikely that they will make listeners any happier than they can alone. Lionel Barrymore himself said about a year ago that Amos 'n' Andy were radio's finest actors.

"Portraits in Harmony," a dance program featuring 13 famous bands in as many weeks under the sponsorship of a shoe concern, is to make its bow over NBC at 9:30 Tuesday evening, Sept. 15, immediately following the Fred Astaire hour. Five bands already selected are Ted Fio-Rito, Hal Kemp, Jan Garber, Vincent Lopez, and Henry Busse. Fio-Rito wrote the theme song, titled the same as the program. Program idea is reminiscent of the Magic Carpet of a few years back, one of radio's most successful shows.

A tabloid adaptation of the movie version of "Green Pastures" is to be presented over WAAF at 5 p. m. Sunday. Robert Dunmore will play "De Lawd." An all colored cast will be used. Nathan Caplow will direct the production. Mr. Caplow is WAAF's continuity editor, succeeding Larry Davidson, who is moving to the Wade advertising agency.

The entire wheat crop on Marion Talley's Kansas farm was destroyed by drouth. Miss Talley is now making her living singing the praises of a cereal, on the air. And it's made of rye! . . . Richard Himber, whose song "Am I Asking Too Much" is popular now, has another ditty ready to release any day now. He calls it "Farewell to Swing." . . .

Gale Page is safely out of the air and back on the air. Flying back from Spokane early Wednesday her plane went bad near Fargo but was landed safely. She came the rest of the way in another ship, arriving just in time for an early morning rehersal of Today's Children.

CHARLES M. COVER, EX-BANKER, FOUND DEAD OF GUN WOUND

Baltimore, Md., July 30.—[Special.]—Charles M. Cover, 47, of San Diego, Cal., who for many years was prominently identified with California banking interests, was found shot to death here today in his hotel room.

Cover formerly was a vice president of the Southern Title and Trust company of San Diego. Police indicated he shot himself.

Friends told police that he had been "acting in a nervous manner" for several days.

CURTIS KIMBALL DIES; HEAD OF PIANO COMPANY

Curtis Nathaniel Kimball, a Chicago manufacturer of pianos and other musical instruments for 57 years, died yesterday in the Presbyterian hospital following an operation. He was 74 years old. His home was at 320 South Green Bay road, Highland Park.

Mr. Kimball was born in Mitchell county, Ia., and was educated in private schools and at a business college. He joined the W. W. Kimball company in 1879 and four years later became its treasurer. From 1898 to 1905 he served as vice president of the company. Since 1905 he had been president, extending the concern's operations to include the manufacture of phonographs and radios. The company's plant is at 26th street and Marshall boulevard.

In 1894 Mr. Kimball married Fannie C. B. Hadley of Chicopee Falls, Mass., who survives, with two sons, William and David, and two daughters, Mrs. Harold F. Van Steenderen and Miss Elizabeth Kimball. He was a life member of the Art institute and the Chicago Historical society. His clubs included the Chicago, Bob O' Link Country, and Highland Park.

EDWARD CHAPIN, PIONEER EDITOR, PUBLISHER, DIES

Champaign, Ill., July 30.—[Special.]—Edward B. Chapin, 80, pioneer newspaper publisher of Champaign county, died here last night. He had been retired since 1925 after a long career as an editor and publisher. He had extensive holdings of land.

Mr. Chapin began newspaper work in 1869 as a contributor to the Nashville, Tenn., Journal. He came here in 1891 and founded the Champaign News. He sold his interests in the paper in 1915 and four years later it was consolidated with the Gazette to become the present News-Gazette.

The publisher was a stanch Republican and a long time friend of the late Speaker Joseph [Uncle Joe] Cannon, congressman from Danville, Ill. Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon.

Death Claims Fifth Victim of Dye Plant Explosion

George Lazzarotta, 19 years old, 5508 North Long avenue, died in St. Joseph's hospital yesterday of burns incurred in the explosion and fire which on July 22 wrecked the plant of the National Superior Fur Dyeing and Dressing company at 1406 North Halsted street. Lazzarotta was the fifth person to die as a result of the blast. Mrs. Slyvia Vizonsky was crushed to death and Mrs. Gussie Saks, John Gorz, and Dominic Colocci died later of their injuries.

THEOLOGY CITED AS EDUCATION'S FORCE OF UNITY

VillanovaCollegeHead Speaks at Loyola.

Secular educators are thoroughly dissatisfied with the chaos of modern education, declared the Very Rev. Edward V. Stanford, president of Villanova college, Villanova, Pa., in a commencement address at the annual summer school convocation of Loyola university yesterday. He spoke in St. Ignatius auditorium, 1320 Loyola avenue, where 84 degrees were presented by the Rev. Samuel Knox Wilson, president of the university.

An honorary degree of doctor of laws was conferred on Father Stanford by President Wilson. Father Stanford is vice president of the Catholic Association for International Peace and a member of the executive committee of the Association of American Colleges.

Quotes Hutchins Article

Quoting from an article on "University Education" by President Robert M. Hutchins of the University of Chicago, published in the Yale Review, Father Stanford said:

"'Why is it,' he asks, that the chief characteristic of the higher learning is disorder?' Here is his own frank answer: 'It is because there is no ordering principle in it. Certainly the principle of freedom in the current sense of that word will not unify it. In the current use of freedom it is an end in itself. But it must be clear that if each person has the right to make and achieve his own choices the result is anarchy and the dissolution of the whole.'"

Father Stanford pointed out that the article said: "The medieval university had a principle of unity. It was theology."

Old Idea Still Persists.

Father Stanford said Dr. Hutchins "is singularly unaware that here at Loyola university and at other Catholic universities theology and theologians are still living forces."

De Paul university will confer 125 degrees on students at its 25th summer convocation tomorrow. The exercises will open with a 9 o'clock mass in St. Vincent's church. Graduates then will proceed to the university auditorium at 2235 Sheffield avenue.

The Very Rev. M. J. O'Connell, president, will confer the degrees. The Very Rev. Francis V. Corcoran, former president, now president of Los Angeles college, Los Angeles, will receive an honorary LL.D. degree.

BOGUS PRIEST TAKES STAND IN ROBBERY TRIAL

Donald R. Brower, 21 years old, a hairdresser who disguised himself as a priest to help three ex-convicts in the $2,200 robbery of the Oak Lawn Trust and Savings bank, 5310 West 95th street, last Feb. 8, was brought to Chicago yesterday from the Pontiac reformatory to testify in the Criminal court of Judge Robert C. O'Connell, against John Valernio, alias John Sheets, 38 years old, in the latter's trial for that robbery. Brower is now serving a term of one to ten years for the crime. He was sentenced March 24 with James Larsen, 35 years old, and William Adams, 32 years old, after all pleaded guilty. Larsen and Adams are serving one year to life sentences in Joliet prison.

Rites in Dubuque Today for Sister Superior Caverly

Clinton, Ia., July 30.—(AP)—Funeral services for Sister Superior Mary Adora Caverly will be held tomorrow morning in Dubuque, Ia. Sister Superior Caverly, widely known religious educator, died yesterday of Waterloo, Ia. She achieved national recognition through her work at Angels academy, Clinton, Ia. She was a sister of Judge J. J. Caverly of Chicago.

Worden Legion Leader, Injured in Crash, Dies

Worden, Ill., July 30.—[Special.]—James Irvin Kell, 45, former commander of Worden post of the American Legion, died today at St. Francis hospital at Litchfield from a fractured skull and other injuries suffered last night when an automobile in which he was riding struck the rear of a cattle truck operated by H. E. Schoen, Morrisonville.

R. S. Murray, Ex-Treasurer of General Electric, Dies

Schenectady, N. Y., July 30.—[Special.]—Robert Stanley Murray, 67, former treasurer of the General Electric company, is dead at his home here. Mr. Murray resigned from the General Electric company on May 1 because of poor health.

Lawrence Peacock, Noted for Prize Dahlias, Dies

Tansboro, N. J., July 30.—[Special.]—Lawrence K. Peacock, 65, flower grower whose prize dahlias won him notice all over the world, died today. Mr. Peacock had been in the dahlia growing business for more than fifty years.

Not a Laxative

Nujol is an internal lubricant, not a laxative, so cannot gripe. Take Nujol regularly and you will prevent the absorption into the blood of poisons from the constipated bowel.

Constipation is dangerous for anybody. Nujol is safe for everybody. It does not affect the stomach, and is not absorbed by the body. Medical authorities approve Nujol because it is so safe, so gentle and so natural in its action.

Nujol makes up for a deficiency of natural lubricant in the intestines. It softens the waste matter and thus permits thorough and regular bowel movements without griping.

Just try Nujol regularly for the next month and see if you don't feel better than you ever suspected you could.

SIX GO TO TRIAL ON BLACK LEGION KIDNAP CHARGE

Accused of 'Disciplining' One of Members.

Detroit, Mich., July 30.—[Special.]—Six men went on trial before Circuit Judge Joseph A. Moynihan here today charged with kidnaping an Ecorse steel worker to discipline him for failure to attend meetings of the Black Legion, of which he was a member.

ROBERT PENLAND. [A. P. Wirephoto.]

The case was the first of the numerous Black Legion prosecutions to come to trial since the terrorist organization was exposed late in May.

Robert Penland, the complainant; his wife, Mamie, and two Ecorse police sergeants, Robert McWhirter and Clarence A. Petraska, testified and then the case was adjourned until tomorrow morning.

Denies He Was Flogged.

The defendants are Charles King, former councilman of Ecorse; Frederick A. Gulley, Earl Angstadt, Wilbur Robinson, Harold Lawrence, and Thomas F. Cox.

Although evidence was presented at a previous examination of the defendants that Penland was flogged, the complainant himself denied that.

He stated that Cox, Angstadt, and Gulley called at his home the evening of Oct. 5, 1935, and that Gulley forced him to go with them to a Black Legion meeting in an open field near Detroit.

Warned to Attend Meetings.

Gulley hid one hand in a pocket as though he had a gun, Penland said, and prodded him. In the car and at the meeting he saw other guns, Penland related. When they reached the field, the plaintiff said, the men waited until Robinson, Lawrence, King and others appeared, then "they took me down into a circle and put me on trial."

After reprimanding him and warning him to attend meetings, they took him home, Penland said.

New York, July 30.—Bonds extended their forward movement today, with the greatest interest being shown in the more speculative issues. Second grade rails, industrials, and utilities were in demand at rising levels. Advances ranged from a small fraction to over 3 points.

Trading was less active, due principally to the marketing of two new issues aggregating $44,000,000. Total sales amounted to $11,604,000, par value, compared with $13,014,000 the day before. Sales in the government department were $1,050,000.

Rail and Steel Bonds Rise.

Prospects of another increase in car loadings and optimistic predictions on July earnings encouraged investors to bid more eagerly for the more speculative of the carrier obligations. Inspired by excellent earnings reports of steel companies and other industrial concerns, buyers also took kindly to some of the high priced investment bonds.

Conspicuous on the upside were Youngstown Sheet and Tube 3½s, Utility Power and Light 5¼s, Walworth 5s, Southern Railway 4s, St. Louis-San Francisco 4½s, Alleghany stamped 5s, Chesapeake and Ohio 4½s, and Rock Island general 4s.

Allis-Chalmers Issue Soars.

Allis-Chalmers 4s bounded up 4 points to 150, a new high, following publication of second quarter earnings reports. The stock likewise was strong.

United States government bonds stayed in a narrow range, closing prices ranging from 3-32 of a point higher to 1-32 lower.

UTILITY LOAN OF $10,500,000 TO BE SOLD TODAY

Public offering of $10,500,000 of first mortgage 3¾ per cent bonds of the Wisconsin Michigan Power company will be made today by a banking group headed by the First Boston corporation, at 103 and interest.

Net proceeds from the sale, together with other treasury funds, will be applied to the redemption on Sept. 1 of $5,000,000 first and refunding mortgage 5 per cent bonds, due 1957, at 103½, and of $5,000,000 first mortgage 4½ per cent bonds, due 1961, at 105¼.

Taggart Corporation.

Investors' Guide: Please send me information that you have available about the Taggart corporation.—S. W. J.

Answer: The company was organized in 1928. It is a holding company for all the capital stock of Taggart Brothers company, formed in 1886, Taggart Oswego Paper and Bag corporation, and Champion Paper corporation.

Through its subsidiaries Taggart corporation is an important manufacturer of kraft and Manila rope paper which is converted into multi-wall and other products. Plants are located in Oswego, Watertown, Herrings, and Carthage, N. Y.

The parent company has no funded debt. Capitalization consists of 100,000 shares of $7 cumulative preferred no par stock, of which 28,999 shares are outstanding; 100,000 shares of $2 cumulative no par class A stock, of which 29,200 shares are outstanding, and 1,000,000 shares of no par common, of which 526,040 share are outstanding.

Accumulated dividends on April 1, 1936, amounted to $28 a share on the preferred stock and $10 a share on the A stock. The company operated at a loss each year from 1930 through 1935. Net sales of $2,971,000 and net loss of $27,243 were reported for 1935, as compared with sales of $2,291,000 and loss of $208,000 in 1934.

Seton Leather.

Investors' Guide: Will you kindly let me know something about Seton Leather company and its possibilities? —G. W. S.

Answer: The company manufactures patent lether and other lether specialties at its Newark, N. J., plant. The products are used chiefly in the manufacture of women's and children's shoes. Foreign business accounts for a considerable portion of the company's total volume.

Earnings records for the company going back to 1924 show a range in net income of $390,000, or $3.90 a share in 1927, to a loss of $115,000 in 1932. The company reported small profits in 1933 and 1934. In 1935 net income reached $112,000, or $1.17 a share, the best since 1928.

Capitalization consists of 100,000 shares of no par common stock, of which 96,000 are outstanding. Current assets on Dec. 31, 1935, were $1,026,000, and current liabilities were $286,000.

SPANISH STRIFE AGAIN UPSETS EXCHANGE RATES

Dollar Gains on Most of Leading Currencies.

Growing concern over the possible effects of the Spanish civil war yesterday caused further weakness in leading European currencies at New York. French francs lost ground again, despite a gain in gold stocks shown in the weekly condition statement.

The franc closed at 6.60 7-16 cents, down ⅜ point, while the other two members of the European gold bloc, Swiss francs and Dutch guilders, lost 1 point each.

The Spanish peseta was given a nominal quotation of 13.69 cents, off 1 point from Wednesday. Belgian belgas declined ½ point to 16.87½ cents. The British pound lost ½ cent to close at $5.01⅝.

France's Bank Debt Cut.

Treasury bills discounted were cut 1,336,000,000 francs during the week, bringing the total down to 9,,058,000,000 francs. This decline was offset in part by the utilization of an additional 835,000,000 francs of the ten billion franc credit set aside for the government by the Bank of France. Temporary advances to the state by this latter method now amount to 5,274,000,000 francs. In the last six weeks the government has reduced its indebtedness to the central bank by 1,152,000,000 francs.

Gold Holdings Increase.

Gold holdings of the Bank of France rose 145,000,000 francs to 54,831,000,000 francs, while circulation fell from 85,280,000,000 to 84,543,000,000 francs. These two developments are believed to represent a contraction in hoarding by persons fearing legislative reprisals.

Despite daily acquisitions of gold, the expansion in Bank of England note circulation outran the increase in bullion during the last week, according to the central bank's condition statement. Gold holdings rose £4,222,000 to £240,948,000, while circulation gained £4,976,000 to £448,571,000. Both items establish new peaks.

The wide jump in circulation this week reflects the greater need of funds for month-end accommodations. This same condition was responsible for a £22,357,000 climb in public deposits and declines of £22,087,000 in private deposits and £22,990,000 in bankers' accounts.

CHICAGO STOCK TRADE HEAVIEST SINCE MARCH 3

Trading on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday was heaviest since March 3, totaling 96,000 shares. Improved sentiment reflecting favorable earning reports, brought in heavy buying. Gains ranged up to 7 points.

The most active issue, Middle West, accounted for 13,950 shares, but closed unchanged at 9⅝. Warants also were active with a turnover of 3,150.

Nine new high marks were established for this year or longer. New Abbott Laboratories stock set a new peak since entering trading at 56, where it closed for a gain of 1½ points. Zenith Radio again forged ahead to a new peak since 1929 at 39, where it closed 2¼ points net higher. Noblitt-Sparks, with sharply improved earnings reported, jumped 3⅝ points to a new mark of 37. Bastian-Blessing also reached a 1936 peak at 16 and closed at 15⅞, up ¾.

Other issues setting new high marks were Compressed Industrial Gases, General Candy, Pines Winterfront, Williams Oil-O-Matic, and Kellogg Switchboard preferred which recorded the 7 point gain to close at 96.

BETHLEHEM'S PROFITS CLIMB AS ORDERS RISE

Net 49 Cents a Share in Quarter.

Bethlehem Steel corporation, second largest steel maker, yesterday reported that for the three months ended last June 30 profit was the largest since the second quarter of 1934 and the second best since the third quarter of 1930. Directors declared the regular quarterly dividends of $1.75 on the 7 per cent cumulative preferred stock, and 25 cents on the $20 par 5 per cent preferred, both payable Oct. 1 to stock of record Sept. 4.

Earnings for the June quarter amounted to $3,431,391, equal to 49 cents a share on the common stock after allowing for preferred dividend requirements. This compares with $603,065, or 65 cents a share, on the 7 per cent preferred in the first three months of 1936, and $1,800,909, or 5 cents a common share, in the second quarter of last year.

Figures for Other Years.

In the second quarter of 1934 profits amounted to $3,441,642, or 56 cents a common share, and in the third quarter of 1930 they were $3,783,425, or 63 cents a share, on the common.

For the first half of 1936 the corporation's net income amounted to $4,034,456, equal after dividends on both classes of preferred to 17 cents a share on the common stock, against $1,193,611, or $1.28 a share on the 7 per cent preferred in the first six months of 1935. Earning figures for 1936 do not include provision for surtax on undistributed earnings.

Orders on hand June 30 amounted to $89,561,632, compared with $78,469,055 at the end of the preceding quarter and $49,589,474 on June 30, 1935, according to an estimate made by Eugene G. Grace, president. He said he expected third quarter business to equal or exceed that of the second quarter.

Bookings Pass Shipments.

"Our new business is coming in satisfactorily and supporting our present rate of operations," Grace said. "In fact, we booked more than we shipped in July.

"Things look encouraging for the immediate future. Demand for steel is rather general. Railroads are buying more and the heavy industries generally have been taking more steel. Automobile makers look for another good year when their new models come out."

Grace said that the Sparrows Point shipyard of the company has been reopened after having been shut down for several years. Two vessels are being built there for Gulf Oil and two for Standard Oil of New Jersey. There is an improved demand for ship plate and a good market for shipbuilding is expected, he said.

New Mills to Aid.

The new plant at Buffalo did not make any substantial contribution to earnings in the first six months of this year, but will have an influence on third quarter results, he indicated. Grace also said that the new mill at Lackawanna would be contributing unless there is an unforeseen drop in buying. Third quarter earnings should be better than those just reported, he said.

Employment in June set a new high record for Bethlehem, surpassing 1929, with 81,706 on the pay roll, against 66,179 in the first six months of 1935. Grace also said that the rate of wage payments in June was up to the rate in 1929. The June pay roll totaled $10,200,000. In 1929 the total pay roll for the year was $125,000,000.

Bethlehem's production in the second quarter averaged approximately 66.2 per cent of capacity, against 45.3 per cent in the preceding quarter and 38.6 per cent in the second quarter of 1935.

United Gas Has Big Gain.

Among other reports issued yesterday was that of United Gas corporation and subsidiaries, showing consolidated net income of $2,416,686 for the quarter ended June 30, compared with $590,269 in the like quarter of last year. In the preceding quarter of this year net income amounted to $2,172,348. In the twelve months ended June 30 consolidated net income was $8,584,168, against $4,280,660 in the preceding twelve months.

Electric Bond and Share company, which controls United Gas, reported net income of $2,126,303 for the June quarter, equal to less than 1 cent a common share after preferred dividend requirements, compared with $2,302,703, or 3 cents a common share, in the corresponding quarter of last year. For the twelve months ended June 30 net income was $9,090,865, or 12 cents a common share, against

INCOME OF CARNEGIE TRUST IS MORE THAN PRINCIPAL IN 15 YEARS

New York, July 30.—[Special.]—The first accounting of a trust fund of $5,000,000 created by Andrew Carnegie on April 19, 1911, was filed in the Supreme court today, disclosing that the total income has been $5,487,679.

Under the terms of the trust fund Carnegie directed that the income be paid to him until his death and thereafter to his wife. The accounting shows that the trustee received from Carnegie $2,500,000 of United States Steel 5 per cent bonds and $2,500,000 of the Pennsylvania company 4 per cent gold loan bonds, which had an actual value of $4,597,735. The fund was increased $412,667 on the sale of the bonds, making the principal of the trust fund $5,390,402.

The trustees paid to Carnegie or for his account $1,862,000 and after his death made payments of cash and distribution of coupons to Mrs. Carnegie amounting to $3,530,478. The balance on hand in cash and investments is $5,280,149.

The total income of $5,487,679 consisted of $5,525,496 interest on bonds, $41,811 amortization of premiums on bond purchases, and $3,006 interest on bank deposits.

BANK WILL PAY DEPOSITS, FORM NEW INSTITUTION

Depositors of the West Irving State bank who have not waived claims will be paid in full and a new national bank will be formed, according to an order signed yesterday by Judge Stanley H. Klarkowski of the Circuit court.

The plan approved by Judge Klarkowski provides that assets of the closed bank be taken over by the West Irving State Liquidating corporation, whose $150,000 of capital stock is owned by depositors, creditors, and stockholders of the bank.

The order was entered on a petition filed by Attorney Samuel P. Gurman, in behalf of Charles H. Albers, general receiver for the state auditor, and will result in termination of the receivership.

Depositors so far have received one instalment of 10 per cent on deposits. Unpaid deposit liabilities total approximately $217,000.

U. S. AND CANADA JOIN TO END SALE OF FAKE STOCKS

Washington, D. C., July 30.—(AP)—The securities and exchange commission announced late today it has reached a "working agreement" with the Ontario securities commission, calling for coöperation in preventing fraudulent security sales from that section of Canada into the United States.

The agreement provides for mutual efforts to prosecute firms which operate in one country and defraud investors in the other. The commission said it planned to negotiate similar agreements with other Canadian provinces.

The problem of fraudulent securities sales from Canada into this country is "particularly acute" in border cities, the commission said.

Hudson Motor Car Sales at Best Level Since 1929

Sales of Hudson and Terraplane cars for July are continuing at the highest level since 1929, the Hudson Motor Car company announced yesterday. Sales in the United States alone for the three weeks ended July 25 totaled 6,742 cars, compared with 4,577 for the same period a year ago.

3 Marshall Field Officers Get New Posts

Following by one month the election of Frederick D. Corley as president of Marshall Field & Co., this 100 million dollar merchandising and manufacturing company yesterday made three additional important shifts in personnel.

H. M. McBAIN.
[Seymour Photo.]

Vice President Hughston M. McBain, one of the youngest major executives of important companies in the United States, was taken from the top job in the manufacturing and wholesaling divisions, and made assistant general manager of the big State street retail store.

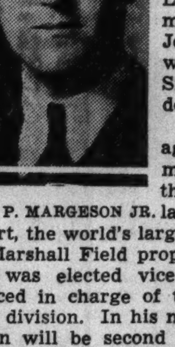
Vice President Charles C. Bunker, who has been assistant general manager of retail store, was named manager of all the company's retail activities in New York and other eastern cities, including those of the State street retail store, Frederick & Nelson, and the Davis store. He will continue his duties at the State street store temporarily, leaving later for New York to make his headquarters at 200 Madison avenue.

C. C. BUNKER.

J. P. Margeson Jr., assistant general manager of the manufacturing division, has been promoted to the job left by McBain as general manager of that division.

McBain is 34 years old. Since he entered the Field company fourteen years ago as a bill adjuster his rise has been rapid. In 1922, a year after joining the company, he became secretary to James Simpson, then president. Later he was made assistant to John McKinlay, who succeeded Simpson as president.

In 1932 at the age of 29 he was made manager of the 32 million dollar Merchandise Mart, the world's largest building and a Marshall Field property. Last year he was elected vice president and placed in charge of the manufacturing division. In his new position McBain will be second in command of the State street retail store.



J. P. MARGESON JR.

Bunker joined the Field organization 38 years ago as a boy, working first in the linen department, later rising to the job of manager of that department. In 1931 he was appointed assistant merchandise manager in charge of the house furnishings division and last year gained further recognition by being elected vice president and assistant general manager of the retail store.

Margeson came to Marshall Field last year from the Phoenix Hosiery company of Milwaukee, where he had been vice president and general manager for four years. He was named assistant general manager of Field's wholesale and manufacturing divisions. Last January he was appointed general sales manager of the manufacturing division to succeed Grant S. Mears, who had resigned.

BERKEY & GAY, MAKERS OF FURNITURE, PLAN TO DOUBLE OUTPUT

New York, July 30.—(AP)—Frank D. McKay, chairman of the Berkey & Gay Furniture company, with plants at Grand Rapids, Mich., announced today plans for an expansion program approximately to double the company's immediate output.

"This program is necessitated by the large volume of business received in the May and July furniture markets," McKay said. The company will hire immediately 400 skilled workers, increasing its forces to 1,000, he added.

Rayon Concern to Expand.

New York, July 30.—(AP)—An expansion program involving more than $2,500,000 was adopted today by Tubize Chatillow corporation, rayon producers. The plan, approved by the stockholders, calls for a new unit at the Rome, Ga., plant, which will increase capacity approximately 50 per cent, an official announced.

This construction will be the major item in the improvement program, but some capital will also be expended to increase the output of the Hopewell, Va., knitting mill, it was said. Contracts for the work will be awarded soon, the corporation reported.

Add to Auto Accessory Plant.

Cleveland, O., July 30.—(AP)—The Eaton Manufacturing company today announced plans for the expenditure of $40,000 in plant improvements at the bumper factory at Jackson, Mich., and transfer of the firm's stamping operations from Detroit to Massillon, O.

The company said the Massillon stamping plant represents an investment of over $300,000, more than $100,000 having been spent on modernization of the building.

Engineering Construction Awards Exceed Year Ago

New York, July 30.—(AP)—The Engineering News-Record reported today that engineering construction awards for the week ended last Tuesday totaled $34,600,000, compared with $21,054,000 in the same 1935 period. Private contracts were reported at $9,780,000 and public awards at $24,820,000, of which $7,588,000 was federal and $12,232,000 was state and municipal. A year ago private awards totaled $7,477,000 and public contracts were $13,577,000, of which $3,608,000 was federal and $9,969,000 was state and municipal.

GRAINS SURGE TO NEW PEAKS; CORN IS LEADER

Yellow Cereal Up on Crop Damage.

Grain markets surged upward to new high levels for the season yesterday with corn in the lead. The latter closed at gains of 4 cents per bushel, the maximum permitted for one day under exchange regulations and the eighth time during the current month that the "limit" has been touched.

The sensational estimate by Secretary of Agriculture Wallace that the United States might raise the smallest corn crop since 1881, when only 1,195,000,000 bushels were harvested, compared with a prospective yield of 2,245,000,000 bushels on July 1, 1936, was regarded as largely responsible for an outburst of speculative buying. September corn was carried up to 98 cents a bushel, where it closed, without sellers in evidence. On June 2 that delivery was sold at 56¾ cents per bushel.

Wheat Rises in World Markets.

Gains in wheat in the leading world markets ranged from 1¼ to 3⅛ cents, with Winnipeg in the lead. The dollar quotation was reëstablished in the Canadian market for the first time in ten months. The July future closed in Winnipeg at $1.02 per bushel.

Sales of 750,000 to 1,000,000 bushels of Canadian durum wheat were reported for export to French Morocco, which normally is an exporter. This unusual situation strengthened the belief that the current upturn in the world market represents a desire on the part of consumers to secure supplies. Liverpool wheat futures yesterday advanced about 1 cent to the highest level since July, 1930.

Net gains in oats yesterday were nearly 2 cents, rye as much as 2⅞ cents and barley 3 cents.

Report Wide Corn Damage.

A special report by the department of agriculture saying half of the 35,000,000 acres planted to corn in six states was damaged beyond recovery had much to do with sending the price of that grain soaring.

Carlots of No. 2 white corn in the sample market on the Chicago Board of Trade sold at $1.11 and No. 2 yellow sold at $1.02½ per bushel, the highest prices since 1928. Argentine corn was reported to be selling on the Atlantic coast at 6 to 7 cents per bushel under the domestic article when shipped from Chicago.

No. 2 white corn at Kansas City was quoted as high as $1.19½ per bushel, with futures up 4 cents in keeping with the Chicago market.

Rise in Prices World-Wide.

Not since war days has there been such a world-wide advance in the grain markets as has been experienced during the last month, with wheat in Chicago yesterday selling 26 cents and corn 32⅞ cents above the low point on July 1. The latter is one of the greatest advances within such a short time in the history of the trade.

Trade reports indicated large sales of flour have been made by mills in the last few days as the result of the continued advance in wheat.

	Yesterday.	Wed'd'y.	Wk.ago.	Yr.ago.
Wheat ...	$1.10⅛	$1.08⅞	$1.05¼	$1.02
Corn	.98	.94	.89⅝	.71⅝
Oats	.40⅝	.38¾	.37⅞	.34⅞
Rye	.78⅞	.76⅛	.71⅝	.69½

Melting Steel Scrap Prices Boosted 50 Cents Per Ton

Pittsburgh, Pa., July 30.—[Special.]—Prices of heavy melting steel scrap at Pittsburgh today were advanced 50 cents a ton to $14.75 to $15.25. Demand was reported heavy.

Halt of Corn in Six States Killed by Drouth, U. S. Reports

About half of the corn acreage in six of the principal corn producing states has been damaged beyond recovery by the drouth, it was declared in a special crop report made yesterday by the department of agriculture in Washington. The states thus hit are Iowa, Kansas, Missouri, Nebraska, Oklahoma, and South Dakota, the report said.

Prolonged lack of rainfall in these states has wrought harm to the corn grain crop that even heavy rains in the near future cannot repair, the report indicated.

Outlook Better Further East.

Although prospects were reported to be better in Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Michigan, Minnesota, and Wisconsin, there are large areas in these states where very little of the growing corn will produce grain for feed, the report said. The same situation holds true in bordering areas in New York, Pennsylvania, Maryland, West Virginia, Kentucky, Arkansas, and the eastern slope of the Rocky mountains from Montana to Colorado.

Not only is the corn crop badly damaged, but all late crops in these areas have incurred material damage, according to the survey.

The report estimates production of feed grain in the most heavily damaged territory will be almost as small this year as it was in the drouth year of 1934. The fate of alfalfa, soy beans and other growing crops rests largely upon the amount of future rainfall.

Reports on Other Sections.

Improvement was reported in crops along the north coast of the Atlantic, and in the south with the exception of parts of Oklahoma, Texas, and Arkansas. Better conditions were also noted in the area west of the Rocky mountains, with a surplus of pasturage in some localities in that section.

The report foresaw a larger stock of hay than in 1934, and a heavier production of oats and barley, but added that the corn crop damage would probably offset this improvement in the feed grain situation.

The hay increase, the report said, "will not prevent severe shortages in the areas where all crops failed, or where hay reserves are being depleted by the need to supplement pasture." The supply of hay and forage when winter sets in will depend on how soon dry pastures are revived.

In another report on hog and pork prospects the department of agriculture yesterday predicted an increase in the marketing of hogs by reason of feed shortages, with a probable consequence of lower meat prices in the fall. Higher corn prices are expected to result in lighter weight hogs being sent to market next year and in 1938.

Import restrictions in Europe are tending to block the export of hogs from the United States, which would further affect the meat price situation, according to the department's bureau of agricultural economics.

CORN DETERIORATES FAST

Deterioration of the corn crop was reported to be continuing rapidly yesterday despite the lowest temperatures in about six weeks. The trade received an estimate that 90 per cent of the Nebraska acreage had been practically destroyed as far as grain production was concerned.

The Iowa crop, which is tentatively placed around 200,000,000 bushels by C. D. Reed, head of the weather bureau in that state, compared with 373,000,000 bushels in 1935, is the smallest since 1894, when only 82,000,000 bushels were raised. Evaporation of moisture from the soil at Ames, Ia., last week was estimated to have exceeded ½ inch almost every day.

Quality of wheat from the 1936 crop is high and flour made from it is proving highly desirable for bread baking, Lee Marshall of New York, president of the Continental Baking corporation, said yesterday. The price situation is stable, he said, and increases in bread prices are not likely, at least in the next few months.

Shortage in the spring wheat harvest in the northwest is offset this year by greater production than in 1935 in the southwest winter wheat belt, Marshall added.

Wreat Carryover Smaller.

The carryover of old wheat in the United States on July 1, as estimated by the department of agriculture, aggregated 150,000,000 bushels, compared with 155,000,000 bushels on July 1, 1935, and 394,000,000 bushels on July 1, 1933, when it was the largest on record. The total available supply of wheat for the 1936-'37 season, including crop and carryover is around 788,000,000 bushels, or 10,000,000 bushels in excess of 1935-'36. During the latter period about 36,000,000 bushels were imported for consumption from Canada.

No increase of consequence in the Argentine wheat acreage is expected this season despite prevailing high prices, owing to the prolonged period of wet weather.

CHICAGO JOINT STOCK LAND BANK PAYS ON BONDS

A payment of 5 per cent on outstanding bond indebtedness of the Chicago Joint Stock Land bank, which has been in receivership since Oct. 1, 1932, was announced yesterday by John B. Gallagher, receiver. The payment will be made to bondholders of record Aug. 7.

This is the sixth payment to be made on farm loan bond obligations of the bank and amounts to $2,180,336. This brings total payments to $30,524,709, or 70 per cent of the bond indebtedness.

The payment is being made out of the proceeds derived from liquidation of pledged assets of the bank and is payable only to persons who have proved and filed claims against the bank based upon bonds and interest coupons.

Celotex to Pay Off All Interest on Debentures

The Celotex corporation announced yesterday that checks will be mailed on Saturday to holders of the company's 6 per cent income debentures, covering the payment in full of all interest due to that date, including unpaid interest which has accumulated since June 1, 1934. The payment amounts to $130 per $1,000 debenture, or a total of $240,436.

VAST FINANCING DONE BY COMPANIES TO CUT INTEREST, SEC REVEALS

Washington, D. C., July 30.—(AP)—Huge refinancing of corporate indebtedness during the first half of this year to obtain lower interest rates was disclosed today in a report by the Securities and Exchange commission. As a result of the many large filings from Jan. 1 to June 30, 1936, the gross proceeds of securities for which registration statements became effective since the act became operative in July, 1933, reached an aggregate of approximately $6,400,000,000.

Registration statements for securities totaling $2,664,947,000 became effective during the six month period, the commission said, more than quadrupling the $665,339,000 figure for the 1935 period, but less than five per cent was for new equipment. The figures did not include securities registered in connection with exchange plans for companies in reorganization, or issues of voting trust certificates and certificates of deposit.

The commission said the "main use" of funds derived from the securities issues in the 1936 period was the retirement of debt and preferred stock. A total of $1,471,333,985, or 70.5 per cent, of net cash proceeds was to be applied to that purpose.

BUTTER, EGGS, POTATOES SOAR TO NEW HIGHS

Heavy Buying Leads to Fresh Upturns.

Commodity prices surged forward again yesterday as heavy buying sent butter, eggs, potatoes, cheese, and all deliveries of lard except July to new high levels.

Butter and eggs sold at the highest prices on the Chicago Mercantile exchange since 1930. Potatoes for January delivery advanced to the highest price since trading was inaugurated on the exchange. Cheese sold ⅛ cent a pound above the previous peak for the season. Lard added 20 to 45 cents per hundred pounds to closing prices of Wednesday.

Butter Rises Half Cent.

November butter advanced ½ cent to 35 cents a pound and closed at the top. Production of butter is estimated to have been 21 per cent less this season than during the corresponding period of 1935. Supplies in cold storage are expected to total about 107,000,000 pounds on Aug. 1, the smallest holding since Aug. 1, 1923. Sales of butter futures totaled 120 cars yesterday.

Trading in eggs established a new high mark for the year at 289 cars as the October delivery rose ¼ cent to close at 27⅛ cents a dozen. The advance in price was helped by heavy withdrawals from cold storage. Since July 1 the October contract has advanced 2½ cents, the largest advance during that period since 1925, when it was 3⅛ cents.

Potatoes for January delivery closed at $2.75 per 100 pounds, an advance of 17 cents over the close on Wednesday.

STOCK PRICES RESUME RECENT UPWARD TREND

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, July 30.—Stocks quietly switched over to the forward track today after the reverse of the preceding session and closing prices were improved fractions to 2 points in the general list.

Displaying a firm undertone and absorbing profit taking well, the action of the list suggested to observers that yesterday's setback had merely been a technical movement. Volume of trading diminished considerably, regarded in speculative circles as a favorable sign. Sales totaled 1,512,930 shares.

As has been the case in recent sessions, the main influence on the course of prices was the uninterrupted flow of favorable corporation reports and dividend news.

Aviations Active and Strong.

Activity and strength in the airplane section of the list was one of the features of the market. Curtiss-Wright issues, especially, turned over at a fast clip and Wright Aero finished with a gain of 4¾ points after rising 6 at one time. Boeing rose to a new high on an advance of more than a point. Transcontinental and Western soared 1⅝, while United Aircraft and North American each gained less than a point. Douglas touched a new high mark of 79⅝, but reacted later and slipped a major fraction below the preceding close.

While not exceptionally active carrier shares were firm with Atchison, New York Central, Southern Railway, Great Northern, and Union Pacific each rising a point or more above yesterday's final figures.

Farm Issues Weaken.

With talk again veering to drouth damage, farm implement shares found the going rough. Case had more than a point lopped off its value, International Harvester suffered just as much and Deere and Oliver Farm lost fractions. Mail orders hardened, Montgomery Ward moving forward a fraction, and Sears, Roebuck showed no change.

Steel shares rebounded from the weakness of Wednesday's session. United States Steel regained about half of its loss and Bethlehem garnered a major fraction. No great interest was taken in the public utility section. Consolidated Edison was held back by profit taking.

Investigates Stock Deals of Interstate Equities.

Washington, D. C., July 30.—[Special.]—The high cost of syndicate participation during the peak of the depression featured today's investigation of the ups and downs of the Bancamerica-Blair sponsored and financed Interstate Equities corporation, by the Securities and Exchange commission.

Among other developments were stories of an effort to gain control of the Tidewater Associated Oil company which was to have been merged into Sinclair Consolidated Oil, a venture involving 1,000,000 shares of General Foods and a plan "to make money" out of St. Louis and San Francisco Railroad stock.

Interstate Equities was given a participation in all of these syndicate operations by Bancamerica-Blair. When the final chapter was written Interstate was $2,600,000 poorer, Sinclair failed to acquire control of Tidewater, the market value of General Foods common had been more than halved, and in the case of the "Frisco" the loss totaled just 98 per cent of all the millions used to buy in those securities.

Loses $800,000 on Tidewater.

The Tidewater deal was the high spot of today's proceedings. Sinclair Consolidated wanted to acquire Tidewater in 1930 and Bancamerica took over a contract entered into by Missions Securities with Standard Oil of New Jersey which provided for the sale of 1,078,000 shares of Tidewater common to Missions for $23,000,000. Payment was to be made in three instalments of $7,715,000 each with interest at 5 per cent.

The first instalment was paid, Interstate Equities part of the payment being one-tenth of Bancamerica-Blair's share of the obligation. Missions, representing the syndicate, pleaded in 1932 for a moratorium and a cancellation of interest charges. Standard Oil's answer was an emphatic "no." Standard still has the stock and also more than $8,000,000 of syndicate money, it was said. The venture cost Interstate about $800,000.

Marston Is Witness.

Hunter S. Marston, former president of Bancamerica-Blair who was head of that banking corporation in the period covered by these operations, was the witness today. Marston admitted the story was a sad one but pointed out that while Interstate was a loser in all of these transactions, Bancamerica-Blair suffered losses proportionately larger.

Telling the story of the General Foods transaction, Marston said he had conferred with E. F. Hutton of General Foods and had subsequently formed a syndicate to purchase 500,000 shares with an option to buy a second block of 500,000 shares. The price for the 500,000 shares bought outright was $27,500,000, at $55 a share. The second 500,000 shares, in the event the option was exercised, were to be purchased at $61, which made the obligation total $30,750,000. Interstate Equities was given a 10 per cent participation, and as a result had a loss of $1,432,678.

The St. Louis and San Francisco railway syndicate was an idea of Dillon, Read & Co., said Marston. A partner in that firm had called up Bancamerica-Blair and said he would like to discuss the "Frisco" situation with Bancamerica-Blair. The result was the formation of a syndicate to buy up not more than $20,000,000 of "Frisco" stock.

Bancamerica-Blair took a $5,000,000 participation and gave a 20 per cent interest to Interstate Equities, and Interstate suffered a loss of $470,000.

REED TO HEAD WESTINGHOUSE ELEVATOR CO.

Frank C. Reed of Chicago yesterday was elected president of the Westinghouse Electric Elevator company. He will make his headquarters at 1500 North Branch street, Chicago. Reed was vice president of the company and has long been identified with the elevator industry.

He joined Westinghouse as an apprentice in 1903 and after completing his two year course at East Pittsburgh was immediately assigned to the industrial sales department. In 1921 he was made manager of the Huntington, W. Va., office. In 1927 he was transferred to Chicago as general sales manager. In March, 1931, he was elected vice president.

SUGAR

NEW YORK, July 30.—(AP)—SUGAR—Raw: Was unchanged today with no sales reported. Spots were quoted at 3.65c per lb, with some interest at this level in suitable positions, but with nothing available below 3.70c. Early advances of 3 points to 4 points in the more active positions in futures as a result of trade and Cuban buying on the steadier tone to the spot market were followed by reactions with the market closing 2 points to 3 points net higher. The volume was limited, however, with the turnover amounting to 4,850 tons.

Bastian-Blessing Will Pay Out Earnings to Avoid U. S. Tax

The Bastian-Blessing company of Chicago, large manufacturers of soda fountains and supplies, yesterday announced a plan for paying out all or nearly all of income in dividends to avoid the new federal tax on undistributed earnings. A special meeting of stockholders was called for Aug. 22, to approve the plan.

The company proposes to issue new 5½ per cent preferred stock and retire the present outstanding $6 preferred. The company had been prevented from making any distributions to holders of its preferred and common stocks as long as accrued preferred dividends of the Russ Soda Fountain company, a subsidiary, remained unpaid. Such accumulations amounted to $56,524 up to the close of the fiscal year on Nov. 30, 1935.

Retire Subsidiary's Senior Stock.

L. G. Blessing, president of Bastian-Blessing, said yesterday, however, that the subsidiary's preferred stock has been retired, removing the restraint on dividends to Bastian-Blessing stockholders. It was also indicated that the two companies will be consolidated before the end of this year.

"The 1936 income tax law does not apply to us for our present fiscal year, which ends Nov. 30, but it does apply to future years, and we would much prefer to be able to pay all or nearly all of our income by way of dividends to our stockholders than be in a position where we would have to use our earnings for other purposes and then be obliged to pay enormous taxes to the government on our earnings because we did not distribute them to our stockholders," Blessing said in a letter to stockholders.

Earnings Show Big Increase.

Earnings for the half year to June 30 amounted to approximately $265,000 after all charges but before federal taxes and prospects for the balance of the year are encouraging, he said. In 1935 the company had net income of $63,078, against a net loss of $77,694 in 1934.

The company will redeem the outstanding $6 preferred at $93 and accrued dividends, which have accumulated since June 15, 1932. No dividends have been paid on the common since Jan. 15, 1932, when 25 cents was paid.

The company proposes to authorize 7,500 shares of 5½ per cent cumulative preferred stock of no par value, with a stated value of $100 a share, with 6,500 shares to be issued and sold. The stock will bear warrants giving the holder the right to buy two shares of common at $17.50 a share up to July 1, 1938; at $20 a share thereafter until July 1, 1940; and $22.50 a share thereafter until July 1, 1945.

BANK CLEARINGS SAG ON SEASONAL LULL IN TRADE

New York, July 30.—[Special.]—Belatedly seasonal slackening of commercial activity became apparent during the week ended Wednesday, when bank clearings for the nation's twenty-two leading cities showed a decrease of 7 per cent from the corresponding 1935 period. This contrasted, Dun & Bradstreet today reported, with an increase of 7.8 per cent in the preceding seven day period.

The check turnover for the July 29 week aggregated $4,637,981,000, compared with $4,779,242,000 for the similar period a year ago. The decline was attributable almost exclusively to a 13.3 per cent recession in New York City, where clearings amounted to $2,719,510,000, against $3,136,448,000 last year.

For the remaining twenty-one centers the volume was $1,918,441,000, representing a gain of 16.8 per cent over the 1935 figure of $1,642,794,000. Clearings at Chicago totaled $273,124,000, a gain of 11.8 per cent over the $244,400,000 in the same week last year.

Despite the week's decline daily average clearings for the month amounted to $938,130,000, a gain of 2.1 per cent over the $911,136,000 daily mean for July, 1935.

3 MORE CLOSED BANKS REPAY ON DEPOSIT CLAIMS

Three more closed Cook county state banks made repayments to depositors last quarter and four more are expected to make further repayments soon, according to reports on twenty closed banks released yesterday by State Auditor Edward J. Barrett. The banks that made repayments were Kimball Trust and Savings bank, 5 per cent; Marquette Park State bank, 7½ per cent, and the Morgan Park Trust and Savings bank, 20 per cent.

The banks expected to make further repayments are Kenwood State bank, Lansing State bank, Lyons State bank, and the Marshall Square State bank.

Complete analysis of the individual bank reports, together with best available estimates on the ultimate liquidation of the various banks, will appear in the Metropolitan section of THE SUNDAY TRIBUNE.

COTTON PRICES REGISTER GAINS OF 5 TO 8 POINTS

Cotton markets reversed an early trend yesterday to close with net gains of 5 to 8 points. Hedging pressure from the south and reports of scattered showers in parts of Oklahoma where the crop has been suffering from drouth and intense heat carried prices off fractionally during the early part of the session. Later the market was affected to some extent by the action of grain.

On July 25 there was a prospective domestic cotton crop of 12,125,000 bales, according to an estimate by Nat C. Murray, compared with 10,638,000 bales last year.

Spot cotton closed unchanged to 5 points higher with New Orleans at 12.65 cents; Galveston, 12.55 cents; Houston, 12.60 cents, and New York at 12.85 cents per pound. Prices follow:

BUCYRUS-ERIE PLAN TO SIMPLIFY CAPITAL STRUCTURE APPROVED

Plans for simplification of the capital structure and clearing up of preferred dividend arrears were approved yesterday by stockholders of the Bucyrus-Erie company at a special meeting in Milwaukee.

Officials pointed out that the action will permit paying dividends on the common stock as soon as earnings justify, but no indication was given as to whether payments would be made this year. Earnings of the company have been running substantially ahead of 1935.

There are $16 of arrears on the 7 per cent preferred stock. Holders of the present preferred stock will be offered one share of new 7 per cent cumulative preferred stock, plus one share of new common stock and $5 in cash, for each share of preferred stock and accumulated dividends.

The present convertible preference stock will be eliminated through exchange of 1½ shares of new common stock for each share of convertible preference. Holders of the common stock will be offered new common stock on a share-for-share basis. George A. Morrison, vice president, said a large majority of holders of each class of stock approved the plan.

NORRIS LEASES BIG ROSENBAUM GRAIN ELEVATOR

Federal Judge William H. Holly yesterday entered an order approving the lease of the Irondale grain elevator, 107th street and Muskegon avenue, to the Chicago Grain Elevators corporation, controled by James Norris, heard of the Norris Grain company until July 1, 1937.

The elevator has a capacity of two and a half million bushels and is the largest of the Rosenbaum Grain corporation warehouse properties. Both Rosenbaum and its subsidiary, Chicago Elevator Properties, Inc., are undergoing reorganization in federal court under bankruptcy law.

Under the lease the Norris interest will get possession of the property tomorrow. The lease calls for a monthly rental of $750. The Norris interests will pay all operating expenses and insurance but the trustees of the property will pay the taxes which amount to about $1,000 monthly.

The lease was made pending reorganization of the elevator company. Under the terms of a plan before the court the properties would be acquired by a new company controled by Norris.

PHILIP MORRIS LIFTS DIVIDEND TO $3 ANNUALLY

Other Firms Raise Rates or Declare Extras.

The Philip Morris & Co., distributors and handlers of cigarets and smoking mixtures, yesterday declared a dividend of 75 cents on the common stock. This places the issue on a $3 annual basis compared with $1 previously. The dividend is payable Oct. 15 to stockholders of record Oct. 1. The 25 cents quarterly rate has been paid continuously since 1928. This is the first dividend boost.

The Sperry corporation declared a dividend of $1 on the common voting trust certificates, payable Aug. 20 to holders of record Aug. 10. This payment will compare with 25 cents paid on July 1, 1935.

Several Extra Dividends Voted.

The Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea company declared the usual extra dividend of 25 cents and the regular quarterly dividend of $1.50 on the common stock, also the regular quarterly dividend of $1.75 on the first preferred stock. All disbursements are payable Sept. 1 to holders of record Aug. 7.

The National Union Fire Insurance voted an extra dividend of $1 a share, payable on Aug. 10 to stockholders of record July 28.

The Hancock Oil Company of California announced extra dividends of 12½ cents a share on the class A and B stocks, both payable Sept. 1 to stockholders of record Aug. 15.

Westvaco Chlorine Products voted an extra dividend of 10 cents and a regular quarterly dividend of the same amount on the common stock, both payable Sept. 1 on shares of record Aug. 15. Similar amounts were paid in June.

Munsingwear Pays 75 Cents.

Munsingwear, Inc., declared a dividend of 75 cents on the common stock, payable Oct. 1 on stock of record Sept. 15. The payments this year have been irregular. On July 1 a 50 cent dividend was paid and on Jan. 1 a $1 disbursement was made.

The Tubize Chattillon corporation declared a dividend of $1.75 on account of accumulation on the 7 per cent cumulative preferred stock, payable Sept. 1 to stock of record Aug. 10. This payment will reduce the arrears to $10.50 a share. At the same time the regular payment of $1.75 for the current period was declared, payable Oct. 1.

Western Public Service declared a dividend of 56¼ cents on the $1.50 class A preferred stock, payable Sept. 1. The balance of past due payments thereafter will be at 93¾ cents a share.

CATTLE STEADY DESPITE MORE LARGE RECEIPTS

The movement of cattle to market continued heavy yesterday. Arrivals at Chicago, 7,500 head, was largest for a Thursday since early last February. However, sellers managed to apply the brakes to sliding steer prices, which were held mostly steady and in spots showed moderate recoveries despite the pressure of supplies. Other classes of cattle were slow, however, and weak to slightly lower in places, cows and hefers sharing the weakness.

Quality was much plainer than on Wednesday, the best steers on the market selling at $8.90, with the bulk at $6.50 to $8.65.

Rising costs of production of beef coupled with the water scarcity is discouraging long time feeding of the class of stock eligible to bring $9 to $10, the top quotations. Hardly enough of these kinds have been on the market in the last few weeks to establish top prices. More cattle of the quality selling downward from $6.50 are showing up, and some plain natives ranged down to $5 yesterday.

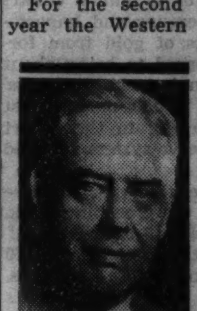
Causes Construction Lag, Say Engineers.

BY AL CHASE.

For the second time in the last year the Western Society of Engineers, one of the oldest and most influential organizations of its kind in the country, founded in 1869, yesterday announced the adoption of resolutions of protest on the city hall's long delay in approving the new building code, completed more than a year ago. The subcommittee of the building and zoning committee of the city council held a few sessions several weeks ago and then went on vacation until after Labor day.



LEIGH S. KEITH. [U. & U. Photo.]

"The date on which the ordinance will be presented to the city council for enactment is indefinite," said Leigh S. Keith, secretary of the Western Society of Engineers. "Meanwhile, the recovery of the building industry in Chicago is lagging behind that of other cities mainly because of the present antiquated ordinance."

Society Endorses Code.

The board of directors of the Western society on Aug. 27, 1935, by resolution, fully endorsed the revised code and recommended that the city council enact it at the earliest possible moment.

"Progress in reviewing the revised code since that time has been inexcusably slow since the subcommittee has not yet agreed on the administrative sections of the code," said Keith. "Consequently, it has not yet reached the technical sections which constitute the major part of it. Hearings were resumed two months ago, but unfortunately they were held only once a week and then for only a half day at each session.

"The board of directors of the society, realizing that the building industry of Chicago was being penalized by this procedure, on July 27, 1936, adopted another resolution urging the prompt adoption of the revised code without further delay."

Would Stimulate Building.

The resolutions point out that the passage of the building ordinance would stimulate building construction in Chicago which is lagging behind other cities [it now being tenth in the list] and urge action by the vacationing aldermen. No one to date has been able to explain why the city fathers are delaying adoption of the code.

The new code, drawn by a committee headed by Architect F. J. Thielbar, permits the use of new building materials, now barred by the antiquated code in force, and the use of new methods. Construction authorities point out that the savings effected by this code would greatly stimulate building in Chicago.

UNION AMERICAN INVESTING PLANS FOR DISSOLUTION

Directors of the Union American Investing corporation, an investment trust of the general management type formed in 1928, yesterday called a special stockholders' meeting for Sept. 2 in New York City to vote on a proposal for dissolution.

David M. Heyman, president, explained that the 3 million dollar corporation's stock "has not, for a long time at least, enjoyed a ready market" on the Ne wYork Curb exchange, and that the action is to be taken to enable stockholders to benefit from the improvement in prices of stocks carried in the portfolio.

He estimated liquidating value at current market prices would equal $38 a share, which compares with the original offering price of $28 a share when sold in 1928. He said the company has called for redemption at 101½ its $1,403,000 of 5 per cent debentures sold at 99½ in 1928.

SPENDING BY U. S. INCREASES IDLE FUNDS IN BANKS

Reserves of Members in Federal System Rise.

Disbursements of 48 million dollars by the federal treasury and importation of 8 millions of gold from foreign countries served to bring about further expansion in member banks' reserves in the week ended last Wednesday, according to the report of the federal reserve system released last night.

Total bank reserves reported were 81 millions above the preceding week, bringing the total to 6 billion 16 million dollars. Of the total increase 60 millions went into "excess" reserves, the surplus over legal requirements that member banks have on deposit with the twelve central banks of the reserve system. This item now stands at about 3 billion 50 million dollars.

Treasury Shifts Deposits.

The treasury disbursements were reflected in a decline of 48 millions in its cash and deposits with the central banks of the system. The inflow of gold continued orderly, the increase of bringing American stocks to 10 billion 642 million dollars.

The volume of money in circulation dropped 30 millions during the week. Circulation has been falling for several weeks after the temporary expansion which followed the treasury's distribution of bonus funds to veterans.

The statements of condition of member banks of the reserve system in New York and Chicago were issued yesterday along with the report of the twelve central banks.

Loans to Brokers Decline.

The New York banks reported that loans to brokers and dealers were 31 millions below the preceding week. Investments of the New York banks also declined, with holdings of government bonds showing a decrease of 25 millions. The banks' reserves with the New York reserve banks rose 61 millions.

Changes reported by Chicago reserve system member banks were slight. All types of bank credit outstanding were 3 millions greater than a week earlier. Government bond holdings were 5 millions larger and commercial loans were 2 millions lower. The reserves of Chicago banks with the central bank were 15 millions more than they were a week earlier.

Day By Day Story of the Experimental Farms

By Frank Ridgway

Soil Stirring Saves Crops.

July 30, 1936.

The greenest spots to be found on the Tribune's Wheaton Experimental farm today are test fields A and B. Without artificial watering practically all of the crops not only have survived the drouth, but are making a satisfactory growth.

Caretakers at the plots have demonstrated to their own satisfaction that the constant stirring of the soil ever since the ground was first plowed in the spring has been a big factor in keeping the crops alive and in a thriving condition. The question of stirring the soil has been of particular interest to the men at the farm this season because many visitors at the plots have doubted the value of the dust mulch as an aid in conserving soil moisture.

Safflower in Bloom.

Visitors at the farm during the last week have found the safflower crop of particular interest. The plants are in full bloom. The plot is almost a solid mass of orange, made by the blending of red and yellow flowers on the safflower plants. A good crop of oil bearing seed is now in the making. The outlook is for a much bigger crop of seed than was produced from the safflower grown on the Yorkville farm in 1934, the dry year, or last year when weather conditions apparently were more favorable.

Men working at the plots believe the improvement is due to attention given to mulching, thinning of the plants, and spraying to prevent insect damage.

The safflower plants average about 25 inches. The leaves have sharp spines on their tips. Some of the leaves have turned yellow, but there are still enough green ones to keep the plants growing until the seeds have matured, providing there is a rain within the next week or ten days.

Perilla Plants Growing.

In a nearby plot visitors are seeing for the first time three different varieties of perilla plants growing. The Nankinensis Yokahoma purple red variety is now making the best showing. The stand is fair and the plants are four or five inches high, with characteristic dark purple leaves. Only a few of the Nankinensis Yokahoma green variety of perilla seed came up.

The Ocymoides Yokahoma, a third variety with green leaves, is making a fair showing. There is about three-fourths of a normal stand. All of the perilla plants are having a struggle because of high temperatures and lack of moisture in the soil. The perilla seed produce an oil used in paint making.

Hemp Shades Ground.

Hemp continues to make an excellent showing in test field C at the Wheaton farm. The seed were drilled close together so that there is no room for cultivation, but the crop is so dense that it shades the soil, which helps to conserve moisture. The hemp plants are now shooting up like weeds. The plants in a three acre field will average about six feet. Yesterday several plants were measured and found to be 88 inches high.

The hemp is still green and is apparently thriving, although the ground around the edge of the field is so dry that deep cracks have appeared. Some of the cracks are as much as 2½ inches wide and more than a foot deep.
